RESOLUTION.

The following resolution was offered:

By Mr. Morris:

WHEREAS, It appears in the public press that the Honorable Frank H. Benson, member of the Senate of the Legislature of California at the forty-third session, has made a statement to the effect that the present Legislature is dominated by special and private interests; and

WHEREAS, Such statement is predicated upon the defeat of two certain legislative measures, one, the so-called school purchasing act vesting in a central body extensive powers for the purchase of supplies for local school districts, the other designed to divest the sheriffs of the duty of transporting insane persons to the State hospitals and to confer such duties upon State officials; and

WHEREAS, Said measures present a revolutionary change in long established State policies and require proof of the highest degree to merit their adoption; and

WHEREAS, In the minds of more than a majority of the members of the Legislature adequate proof for such revolutionary changes has not been adduced, now, therefore, be it

Resolved, by the Assembly of the State of California, That this body deprecates the purported utterance of the aforesaid statement criticizing the members of this Legislature, and declares that the criticism is wholly unjust and without foundation.

RULING OF SPEAKER.

The Speaker ruled that the resolution was not in order.

PRESENTATION OF PETITION.

The following petition was presented, and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Mr. Kline:

WHEREAS, Senate Bills Nos. 509 and 510, and Assembly Bills Nos. 585, 586 and 600, aim to place a bounty upon certain wild birds and animals of the State; and

WHEREAS, Many of these birds and animals are most beneficial, helping to rid the State of harmful insects and rodents; and

WHEREAS, The bounty system has never proved to be a success, and at one time (1892, $5 on coyotes) depleted the treasury of the State, therefore, be it

Resolved, That we, the California Audubon Society, strongly oppose the passage of these bills, and that we use our influence to prevent their becoming laws.

WILFRED SMITH, Vice President.

HARRIET WILLIAMS MYERS, Secretary.

After line 18, on page 1, of the printed bill, insert the following:

SEC. 2. Section six of this act approved May 4, 1917, is hereby amended to read as follows.

Sec. 6. It shall be lawful for the board of parole of any county or city and county of this state, upon proof before said board, that the person applying therefor is of good moral character, and that good cause exists for the issuance thereof to issue to such person a license to carry concealed, a pistol, revolver or other firearm, which license shall bear a serial number, provided, however, that the application to carry such concealed firearm shall be filed in writing and shall state the name and residence of the applicant, the nature of the applicant's occupation, the business address of applicant, the nature of the weapon sought to be carried and the reason for the filing of the application to carry the same.

SEC 3. Section seven of said act approved May 4, 1917, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 7. Every person in the business of selling, leasing or otherwise transferring a pistol, revolver or other firearm, of a size capable of being concealed upon the person, whether such seller, lessor or transferor is a retail dealer, pawnbroker or otherwise except as hereinafter provided, shall keep a register in which shall be entered the time of sale, the date of sale, the name of the salesman making the sale, the place where sold, the make, model, manufacturer's number, caliber, or other marks of identification on such pistol, revolver or other firearm; provided, that no sale, lease or transfer of any such pistol, revolver or other firearm of a size capable of being concealed upon the person shall be made until the person to whom such sale, lease or transfer is to be made shall have procured and produced the license provided for in section six of this act. The person making such sale, lease or transfer shall insert in the register herein provided for the name of the person issuing such license, together with the number thereof. Such register shall be prepared by and obtained from the state printer and shall be furnished by the state printer to said dealers on application at a cost of three dollars per one hundred leaves in duplicate and shall be in the form hereinafter provided. The purchaser of any firearm, capable of being concealed upon the person shall sign, and the dealer shall require him to sign his name and affix his address to said register in duplicate and the salesman shall affix his signature in duplicate as a witness to the signatures of the purchaser. Any person signing a fictitious name or address is guilty of a misdemeanor. The duplicate sheet of such register shall on the evening of the day of sale, be placed in the mail, postage prepaid, and properly addressed to the board of police commissioners, chief of police, city marshal, town marshal or other head of the police department of the city, city and county, town or other municipal corporation wherein the sale was made, and provided, further, that where the sale is made in a district where there is no municipal police department, said duplicate sheet shall be mailed to the sheriff of the county wherein the sale is made. A violation of any of the provisions of this section by any person engaged in the business of selling, leasing or otherwise transferring such firearms is a misdemeanor.

This section shall not apply to wholesale dealers in their business intercourse with retail dealers nor to wholesale or retail dealers in the regular or ordinary transportation of unloaded firearms as merchandise by mail, express or other mode of shipment, to points outside of the State of California. The register provided for in this act shall be substantially in the following form:

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

On motion of Mr. Prendergast, Mr. Collins was granted leave of absence for the day.

PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS.

The following petitions were presented, and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Mr. Kline:

We, citizens of the State of California, hereby earnestly entreat of you to use your influence against the enactment of Assembly Bill No. 142, entitled "An act prohibiting unnecessary labor and the pursuit of unnecessary occupations on Sunday, defining and excepting 'works of necessity,' and providing a penalty for the violation of the provisions thereof."

G. E. OSBORN.
And 32 others.

By Mr. Bennett:

The public in general usually presupposes the statement of a specialist to be biased, because of his apparently one-sided interest in his specialty. For that reason my enthusiastic endorsement of the bill for a State psychopathic hospital may be taken in that light.

However, this is not the situation in this instance. I sincerely hope that the hospital can be established, because of the thousands of unfortunate mental patients whom I have seen arriving in a State hospital for the insane too late to be radically benefited by the treatment. I speak from experience when I say that a very substantial percentage of these long-lasting diseases could have been shortened and some entirely prevented had the cases been handled at the very onset of the disease. Only a psychopathic hospital and clinic can do that sort of work.

You may quote this letter or publish it, should you find it desirable.

Very truly yours,

V. H. PODSTATÁ, M.D.

Also:

Seventeen years' medical experience devoted exclusively to the handling of nervous and mental cases, convinces me beyond any shadow of doubt of the urgent necessity for a State Psychopathic Hospital in California.

I know of no argument that can be advanced to justify opposition to this measure unless prompted by a lack of understanding of the benefits to be derived from the establishment of such an institution from an economic, humanitarian, educational and scientific standpoint.

Economically it will prevent many cases of insanity, shorten the duration of many others, and enable all to be handled more satisfactorily.

From a humanitarian standpoint it will afford early and intelligent treatment to many cases that do not receive it, as well as furnishing data for just disposition of many irresponsible individuals who are now punished instead of being treated.

From an educational standpoint it will afford proper facilities for teaching both doctors and nurses and others how to properly care for the early mental affections, as well as to prevent many mild mental affections becoming chronic or incurable.

Scientifically it will afford clinical and laboratory facilities for determining the early causes of many mental afflictions that now go unrecognized, and hence are erroneously or inadequately treated.

And while there are many other valid reasons that could be adduced, the above should suffice to justify the early passage of this bill.

Respectfully submitted.

H. C. McCLENAHAN, M.D.

Also:

A psychopathic hospital for the purpose expressed in section 1 of an act to provide for the establishment, government and maintenance of a psychopathic hospital must be considered of extreme value, serving a purpose or line between private observation of such cases and, eventually, treatment in institutions already existing for that purpose.

MAJOR J. WILSON SHIELDS, M.C.

ASSISTANT CLERK KAVANAUGH READING.

ON RULES.

ASSEMBLY CHAMBER, SACRAMENTO, April 3, 1919.

MR. SPEAKER. Your Committee on Rules recommends the adoption of the following three special rules:

SPECIAL RULE NUMBER ONE.

On and after the adoption of this rule, every member, when he speaks, shall stand in his place and address "Mr. Speaker", and when he has finished he shall sit down. No member shall be allowed to speak more than once during the consideration of any question at any one stage of the proceedings, except by the leave of the Assembly; provided, that the author of the bill or resolution or the mover of a question shall be allowed to close the debate. No member shall be allowed to speak more than five minutes upon any question, except by leave of the House; provided, that said author or mover shall be allowed five minutes to open and five minutes to close. No member shall be interrupted by a question until he has concluded.

"Leave of the House," as used in this rule, shall be expressed only by unanimous consent or by a two-thirds vote of the members present: provided, that such vote shall at all times be determined without a roll call.

SPECIAL RULE NUMBER TWO.

On and after the adoption of this rule, the Clerk shall place upon the special file provided for by Standing Assembly Rule No 41, in addition to the bills provided for in said standing rule, all Assembly county government bills and all Assembly appropriation bills not already provided for by said standing rule.

SPECIAL RULE NUMBER THREE.

On and after the adoption of this rule, there shall be prepared each day by the File Clerk a Special Urgency File on which each member of the Assembly shall be permitted to place one bill. Before 9 p.m. of each day, each member desiring to place a bill on the Special Urgency File for the succeeding day shall give to the File Clerk the number of the bill he desires so placed on the Special Urgency File (either his own or any other bill), together with the number of the same on the file for that day.

The bills shall be arranged on the Special Urgency File in the alphabetical order of the names of the members, and shall be removed from the portion of the file whence they were taken to be placed upon such Special Urgency File.

This Special Urgency File shall be considered at each night session, commencing Thursday, April 3, at 7:30 p.m. In the event that the entire urgency file is not completed on any night, the consideration of the same shall be commenced on the succeeding night session at the place where it was discontinued the night before. In the event that a member has neglected to place a bill upon the Special Urgency File on any day, he shall not be permitted to call up any bill in case his name is reached on the succeeding day, but must wait his next turn on the file, and no member shall be allowed to substitute any bill for the bill placed on the urgency file.

(Signed out.) EDEN, Chairman.

Report ordered on file for adoption.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The following message from the Governor was taken up and read:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

To the Senate and Assembly of the State of California.

Measures now before you for consideration provide for the building of many hundreds of miles of State highways. So far as I can learn, there seems to be in every section of the State a very general opinion that we should at this time undertake the construction of such additional roads as are essential to greater industrial development and will directly contribute to the prosperity of all the people.

Through their favorable experience with highways already constructed, the people of California have become convinced in their support of good roads. They have come to appreciate the value of these splendid arteries of commerce leading into every section of the State, not only for the tourist and pleasure seeker, but for the business man and for the transportation of passengers and freight. Besides providing for the handling of the products of fields and factories to market and to rail and to water terminals, these splendid highways extending along our coast line and the great interior valleys, with laterals to all sections of the State, from a standpoint of military defense alone are worth many times the amount of money that has been expended upon them in the past and that it is now proposed to spend upon their completion.

It is the duty of the State Government of California, no less than it is the duty of individual citizens, to do all those things which can be done to provide employment for returning soldiers, sailors and marines.

Every brave lad who answered the Nation's call and stood ready and willing to give his life, if need be, that free institutions might be preserved, is entitled, as a matter of right and justice, to have an opportunity to earn an honest living.

By engaging on a large scale in the construction of necessary roads at this time, California not only can in large measure discharge her duty to returning heroes, but at the same time greatly promote her own prosperity. I believe it to be a fact that the State never has derived so great benefit from any expenditure or investment as from the money spent upon the State highway system.

If this extensive program of highway construction can be put into operation without delay, it will materially assist in absorbing back into the peace time industries of this State not only the men who have been serving in the Army and Navy, but also many of those who have been engaged in war industries. Some of the men employed in building ships soon must be seeking other employment. The returning veteran who goes back to his former place in factory, or shop, or store, or office, or farm, must displace some other worker, and provision also must be made for the displaced worker.

If California is to attain the highest degree of prosperity, she must expand her industries and her activities so as to provide many more jobs than now exist. There must be work for every honest man or woman who wants to work. Not only must we provide work for returning soldiers, but as well we must see to it that those now engaged in useful pursuits be not thereby forced into idleness. A State is truly prosperous only when all its people are happily and contentedly engaged in honest and profitable pursuits.

If the State will authorize the extensive program of highway construction which it appears is agreed upon in all sections as being both desirable and necessary, and will arrange to put these operations into effect at once, it will make a very substantial contribution toward providing places for those who wish to work. If the State will do its part in providing additional work, private business no doubt can be relied upon to keep pace, and the industries of the State soon will be restored to a healthful and profitable peace basis.

I earnestly urge that the Legislature take immediate action to place before the people of this State a proposition to vote additional highway bonds. That these bonds may be voted at the earliest date and the actual construction begun with the least delay, I suggest that the matter be submitted to the people in the form of an amendment to the constitution of California, to be passed upon at a special election to be called as soon after adjournment of the Legislature as possible, and that because of the special importance of the matter, no other question be put upon the ballot at that time.

I respectfully request that you give this undertaking your earnest consideration.

WM. D STEPHENS, Governor.

April 3, 1919.

Referred to the Committee on Roads and Highways, and Constitutional Amendments.

An act to add a new section to the Political Code to be numbered 4292a, providing for the deposit of trust moneys in the county treasury and prescribing the manner in which withdrawals thereof shall be made.

Referred to Committee on Introduction of Bills.

By Mr. Baker:

MR. SPEAKER I ask permission to introduce the accompanying bill, the title of which reads as follows:

An act to add a new section to the Civil Code to be numbered 3048a, providing for a landlord's lien for rent, upon the crops and other personal property of a tenant.

Referred to Committee on Introduction of Bills.

By Miss Broughton:

MR. SPEAKER I ask permission to introduce the accompanying bill, the title of which reads as follows:

An act to provide for the extension of the public works of the State of California during periods of extraordinary unemployment caused by temporary industrial depression, and regulating employment therein, and constituting an Emergency Public Works Commission and defining the power and duties of said commission, and repealing all acts inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

Referred to Committee on Introduction of Bills.

By Mr. Browne, M. B.:

MR. SPEAKER I ask permission to introduce the accompanying bill, the title of which reads as follows:

An act to provide for the accomplishment of the work of the improvement of the navigation of Clear Lake, in Lake County, California, authorizing the State Engineer to do the work necessary to prepare charts of depth, to locate rocks and shoals, and to establish a zero mark, and to make an appropriation therefor.

Referred to Committee on Introduction of Bills.

INTRODUCTION AND REFERENCE OF BILL.

The following bill was introduced, and referred as indicated:

By Messrs. Wickham and Bruck: Assembly Joint Resolution No. 26—Relative to the placing of a cannon captured from Germany or her allies, at the National Home for Disabled Soldiers at Sawtelle, and also at the State Veterans' Home at Yountville, as a lasting monument to the defenders of our country.

Referred to Committee on Federal Relations.

RE-REFERENCE OF BILLS.

On motion of Mr. Gray, Senate Bill No. 189 was recalled from the Committee on Corporations, and referred to Committee on Judiciary.

MOTION.

Mr. Hilton moved that Assembly Bill No. 852 be taken up for consideration out of order.

The roll was called, and the motion carried by the following vote:

AYES—Anderson, Badaracco, Bennett, Brooks, Bruck, Calahan, Carter, Doran, Easton, Eksward, Fleming, Gebhart, Godsil, Goetting, Gray, Greene, Hawes, Hilton, Hurley, Johnston, Kasch, Kenney, Lamb, Lewis, Lynch, Madison, Manning, Martin, Mathews, McColgan, Mitchell, Morris, Morrison, Parker, Ream, Rose, Roseushine, Saylor, Stevens, Warren, Wendering, White, and Wickham—43

W., Miller, H. A., Oakley, Odale, Pettit, Pulsley, Price, Roberts, Strother, Windrem, Wright, T. M. and Mr. Speaker—31.

MOTION.

Mr. Hilton moved that Assembly Bill No. 852 be referred to Committee on Judiciary.

Motion carried.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

The following explanation of vote was received, and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Mrs. Saylor:

I desire to make the following explanation of my vote on re-referring Assembly Bill No. 852 to the Committee on Judiciary. I was called out of the Assembly on an important legislative matter. The Sergeant-at-Arms called me in hurriedly to vote. I was informed by two members who favor Assembly Bill No. 852 that the subject under discussion was to re-refer Assembly Bill No. 918 to Committee on Motor Vehicles. Under this misapprehension I voted "Aye" on the bill, instead of voting "No" to re-refer the Cummings Gambling Abatement Act to the Judiciary Committee.

MRS ANNA L. SAYLOR.

SPECIAL ORDER SET.

On motion of Mr. McCray, the consideration of Assembly Bill No. 195 was made a special order for Friday, April 4, 1919, at eleven o'clock a m.

MOTION.

SEC. 2. The various sums herein appropriated for printing, binding, ruling, materials and all other work provided for by law to be done in the state printing office shall be expended only upon requisitions to be approved by the state board of control, and said board is authorized and given power to reduce the amount of such requisitions either in whole or in any item thereof. When any state publication is printed and paid for out of any appropriation in this act, the disposition of the same shall be subject to the provisions of section two thousand two hundred ninety-five of the Political Code of the State of California. The sums that are herein appropriated for expenses of the senate and assembly shall be disbursed under the direction of the bodies to which they respectively belong, and shall not be subject to any of the provisions of section six hundred seventy-two of the Political Code; provided, that the state controller shall not be required to draw any warrants until the original claims and vouchers, itemized and properly sworn to, are filed with him. The sums herein appropriated for the expenses of the national guard shall be audited by the adjutant general, as required by sections two thousand eighty-three and two thousand eighty-five of the Political Code. Not more than five hundred dollars of the money hereby appropriated for the support of the institutions of the state shall be used in each fiscal year for permanent improvements, but shall be used solely for the payment of salaries and traveling expenses of the commissioners or directors having charge of the same (when such salaries or expenses are allowed by law), the salaries of employees, the purchase of material and supplies for the use of said institutions, and for such incidental and current expenses as may be necessarily incurred for the proper management and support of said institutions.

SEC. 3. All persons having demands against the state, and various state officers, and the officers of all institutions under the control of the state, except the governor, to whom and for which appropriations other than salaries are made under the provisions of this act, shall, with their biennial report, submit a detailed statement, under oath, of the manner in which all appropriations for their respective departments and institutions have been expended, and the state board of control, is hereby expressly prohibited from allowing any demand payable out of any such appropriations until the same are presented in itemized form, accompanied by affidavit and voucher for money expended by them, stating specifically the service rendered, by whom performed, time employed, distance traveled, and necessary expenses thereof; if for articles purchased, the name of each article, together with the price paid for each and of whom purchased, with the date of the purchase, provided, that in instances where the duties of any state officer or board make necessary the use of moneys for purposes of a confidential nature, the board of control may audit claims for such expense without requiring itemization or vouchers; but such claims must be accompanied by a statement of the facts surrounding the expenditure, which statement must be filed in the office of the board of control; provided, further, that the total amount so allowed for such confidential purposes from the moneys herein appropriated shall not exceed in any one fiscal year the sum of two thousand dollars. All bills and vouchers, which shall be presented for supplies furnished or services rendered, shall be original bills and vouchers of the parties furnishing supplies and rendering services, provided, that no officer shall use or appropriate any money, appropriated by this act, for any purpose whatsoever, unless authorized thereto by law; and provided, that any officer, board, commission or department for whom any appropriation is made herein, may, with the permission of the board of control, and without at the time furnishing vouchers and itemized statements, draw from such appropriation, a sum not to exceed one thousand dollars for any such officer, board, commission or department. The sum so drawn shall be used as a revolving fund where cash advances are necessary, and at the close of each fiscal year, or at any other time, upon the demand of the board of control, must be accounted for and substantiated by vouchers and itemized statements submitted to and audited by the board of control and the controller.

SEC. 4. Not more than one-twenty-fourth of the amount appropriated under this act for each department or institution for the two years ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred twenty-one, shall be expended during any one month without the consent of the state board of control, and not more than one-half of such appropriation shall be expended during the seventy-first fiscal year, unless the same has been expressly authorized by this act.

SEC. 5 The officers of the various departments, boards, commissions and institutions for whose benefit and support appropriations are made in this act are expressly forbidden to make any expenditure in excess of such appropriations, except the unanimous consent of the state board of control be first obtained, and a certificate, in writing, duly signed by every member of said board, of the unavoidable necessity of such expenditure; and any indebtedness attempted to be created against the state in violation of the provisions of this section shall be absolutely null and void; and shall not be allowed by said state board of control nor paid out of any state appropriations; provided, that any member of any such department, board, commissions or institutions, who shall vote for any expenditure, or create any indebtedness against the state in excess of the respective appropriations made by this act, except by the unanimous consent of the state board of control, and the certificate in this section provided to be first obtained, shall be liable on his official bond for the amount of such indebtedness, to be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction by the person or persons, firm or corporation to whom such indebtedness is owing.

SEC. 6 No money appropriated by this act shall be used to renew, or pay for the renewal of any fire insurance on any public building or property, nor to effect or pay for any new insurance on any public building or property, except the state printing office and its contents.

SEC. 7. This act, inasmuch as it provides for an appropriation for the usual current expenses of the state shall, under the provisions of section one, of article four, of the constitution of the State of California, take effect immediately.

The judge shall thereupon cause the claim to be entered on the docket and the claimant shall be made plaintiff in the proceedings before the superior court and the plaintiff in the execution or attachment shall be made defendant in such proceeding. The clerk of the court shall thereupon issue a notice directed to the plaintiff in the execution or attachment notifying him of such claim and of the time and place of trial, which shall not be more than ten days nor less than five days from the date of such notice. Such notice shall be served by the sheriff of any county where the plaintiff in execution or attachment may be found, at least five days before the day of trial. In case the sheriff shall make return on said notice that the party cannot be found, the proceedings shall be continued for a period not exceeding ninety days, and notice shall be given by publication in like manner as is provided by this code for publication of summons. If the plaintiff in the execution or attachment or his attorney shall at least five days before the day of trial file with the clerk of the court a paper entering his appearance in such proceeding, then it shall not be necessary to notify such plaintiff as above provided. The trial shall be had without written pleadings before the superior judge in the same manner as other trials before the superior court, and either party may demand a jury. In case the property shall appear to belong to the claimant, when the claimant is any person other than the defendant in execution or attachment, a judgment shall be entered against the plaintiff for the costs and the property levied on shall be released. If it shall appear that the property does not belong to the claimant, judgment shall be entered against the claimant for costs and the sheriff may proceed to sell the property levied on. Either party shall have the right of appeal from the judgment of the court entered herein. A judgment in such actions shall be a complete indemnity to the sheriff in selling such property.

SECTION 1. Section one thousand one hundred eighty-seven of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

1187. Every original contractor, claiming the benefit of this chapter, within sixty days after the completion of his contract, and every person save the original contractor claiming the benefit of this chapter, at any time after he has ceased to perform labor or furnish material, or both, for any work of improvement mentioned in this chapter, and until thirty days after the completion of such work of improvement, may file for record with the county recorder of the county or city and county in which such property or some part thereof is situated a claim of lien containing a statement of his demand after deducting all just credits and offsets, the name of the owner or reputed owner, if known, a general statement of the kind of work done or materials furnished by him, or both, the name of the person by whom he was employed or to whom he furnished the materials, and a description of the property sought to be charged with the lien sufficient for identification, which claim of lien must be verified by oath of claimant or some other person. Any trivial imperfection in the said work, or in the completion of any contract by any lien claimant, or in the construction of any building, improvement or structure, or of the alteration, addition to, or repair thereof, shall not be deemed such a lack of completion as to prevent the filing of any lien; and in all cases, any of the following shall be deemed equivalent to a completion for all the purposes of this chapter; the occupation or use of a building, improvement or structure, by the owner, or his representative, accompanied by cessation from labor thereon; or the acceptance by the owner, or said agent, of said building, improvement or structure; or cessation from labor for thirty days upon any contract or upon any building, improvement or structure, or the alteration, addition to, or repair thereof; the filing of the notice hereinafter provided for.

The owner shall within ten days after the completion of any contract or improvement provided for in this chapter, or within ten days after there has been a cessation from labor thereon for a period of thirty days, file for record in the office of the county recorder of the county where the property is situated, a notice setting forth the date when the same was completed, or on which cessation from labor occurred, together with his name and the nature of his title, and a description of the property sufficient for identification, which notice shall be verified by himself or some other person on his behalf. The fee for recording the same shall be one dollar. In case such notice be not so filed, then all persons claiming the benefit of this chapter shall have ninety days after the actual completion of said improvement within which to file their claims of lien.

By Mr. Argabrite:

"This is to advise you that the Ebell Club of Fillmore, Ventura County, California, heartily indorses the passing of the two measures that are now before Senate and Assembly, namely: The Community Property Bill and Industrial Home for Delinquent Women. Hoping you will make every effort that your office permits, is the earnest wish of the club women of Fillmore.

STELLA SERVOS, President
FRANCES ROBERTSON, Vice President.
GRACE PALM, Secretary.
EMILY LINDENFEST, Treasurer.

By Mr. Mather:

WHEREAS, Under the present law physical training is now provided for in the public schools of the State, which is essentially more fundamental in physical development of our youth than any system of military training; and

WHEREAS, Great Britain has in its new educational law, after a trial of military training, discarded such military training from its schools, believing it conducive to a system of Prussian militarism, held largely responsible for the recent awful war, a possible recurrence of which, the whole world is now endeavoring to devise a way to avert; therefore, be it

Resolved, That as citizens of this State we most earnestly protest against the passage of the pending bill establishing a system of military training in our high schools.

Unanimously passed at its regular business session by the First Friends Church of Pasadena, March 5, 1919

Signed and forwarded as directed by Pasadena monthly meeting of Friends held on the fifth day of March, 1919.

COMMUNICATION.

The following communication was presented, and ordered printed in the Journal:

By the Speaker:

To the Members of the Senate and Assembly of the Forty-third Session of the Legislature, State of California.

GENTLEMEN: The Sacramento State Buildings Commission has encountered certain difficulties in carrying out the mandates of the Legislature and of the people of California; and feels obliged, in justice to itself and in furtherance of its task, to make this statement concerning its work. A better understanding will be had of the whole problem if the history of the undertaking known as the Capitol Extension be briefly stated.

The attempt of the Legislature to relieve the congested condition of State offices by remodeling the Capitol in 1906-1908 was only partially successful. In 1911, by Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 14, a commission consisting of the Justices of the Court of Appeal, Third District, and the Trustees of the State Library was created to investigate and report on the needs of additional space for the use of State offices and departments. This commission, aided by the State Architect, made a thorough inquiry into the needs of the several State offices and commissions, and submitted its report shortly before the convening of the Legislature of 1913.

Upon the report of the above mentioned commission was based the act of June 5, 1913, known as the Sacramento State Buildings Act. This measure provided for a bond issue of $3,000,000 to construct the buildings, created a Building Commission consisting of the Governor, the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and the State Librarian, required the submission of the act to the people at the general election in 1914 and conditioned actual construction of the buildings upon the furnishing of a suitable site by the city of Sacramento. The people of Sacramento on April 5, 1913, approved a proposition to issue bonds to the sum of $700,000 to purchase the two blocks, L to N and Ninth to Tenth streets, as a site for the purpose mentioned; and in November, 1914, the people of the State approved the act of June 5, 1913.

Under the terms of the act of June 5, 1913, the Sacramento State Buildings Commission was empowered to act only at such time as title to a suitable building site should be made over to the State. It happened that various delays in securing title to certain parcels of the property involved, and which delays were in no sense occasioned by the Sacramento State Buildings Commission, put off from month to month the actual delivery of title until October 12, 1917. Meanwhile the United States had become a participant in the great European war, and in the prosecution thereof had placed restrictions upon the construction of public buildings not absolutely essential to war purposes.

The Sacramento State Buildings Commission, however, mindful of the needs of the State for office accommodations and desiring to do all within its power to carry out its instructions, proceeded as had previously been determined with the holding of a competition to select an architect for the buildings; and the State Department of Engineering, in accordance with the laws of the State and the instructions of the commission, issued a "program of conditions and instructions to govern a competition to be held for the purpose of selecting an architect for the library and courts building and the office building for the State of California to be erected in the city of Sacramento, California," on November 1, 1917. This program was based upon the findings of the original commission of 1911, and of full investigations on the part of the State Architect, who at the request of the Sacramento State Buildings Commission was able to complete his work before title to the two blocks above mentioned vested in the State. The competition was conducted according to established principles, and resulted on September 19, 1918, in the selection of Messrs. Weeks & Day of San Francisco as the architects of the buildings.

Federal restrictions prevented further progress of the project until shortly after the signing of the armistice, when the United States government lifted the ban. Immediately thereafter, on November 27, 1918, the Sacramento State Buildings Commission instructed the architects to proceed with the drawing of the plans.

Meanwhile the demands of the war had caused a great increase in the cost of building materials and in the wages of labor. With the approval of the commission, the architects sought diligently so to reduce the plans as to bring cost of construction within the $3,000,000 available for the purpose; and the cubic contents of the buildings were made 372,000 cubic feet less than the program had specified. Further effort in that direction will not be possible and still give the State the space needed for immediate use.

On March 21, 1919, the architects submitted estimates covering the cost of the two buildings determined upon, a library and courts building and an office building. Even with the reductions made in cubic contents it will cost $3,800,000 to erect the two buildings with granite facing throughout. The commission is strongly of the conviction that buildings forming a part of the State Capitol group should be of a monumental and dignified character, and accordingly should be constructed of granite. However, in its efforts to proceed with construction, the commission has considered the use of terra cotta as a substitute for granite above the first story of the buildings, although it feels that terra cotta as a building material is less suitable for State edifices of a monumental character. The substitution of terra cotta and consequent reduction in cost still leaves a deficit of $400,000. In a further effort, the commission decided to reduce the furnishing and equipping fund to a merely nominal sum, as under the provisions of the act it may so do within its discretion, and thereby further reduce the deficit by $200,000.

But the reduction in the size of the buildings, the partial substitution of terra cotta for granite and the diminution of the furnishing fund leave the total cost at $3,200,000. The commission is anxious to proceed with the construction of the buildings which are badly needed by the State; it feels that a further reduction in size would be unwise, since the State would soon find its offices crowded and would shortly have to resume the renting of outside quarters; it believes that the State of California requires the Capitol buildings to be constructed of materials in keeping with its dignity and its importance as a sovereign State of the Union; and lastly the commission is obliged, under the terms of the act of June 5, 1913, to construct the buildings within the sum appropriated, unless additional funds be provided by the Legislature or the people.

The Sacramento State Buildings Commission, confronted as it is by conditions which now make it impossible to give the State the buildings of a size and character contemplated when the people in November, 1914, approved the $3,000,000 bond measure, appeals to the Legislature for such instruction or assistance as in its wisdom it may deem fitting.

A suggestion has been put forward as a possible solution of the difficulty. It will be from two to four years before the buildings could be completed; hence certain payments on contracts would be delayed that long. Should the Legislature pass a bill making an additional appropriation for this purpose, funds need not be made available until July 1, 1921, or even later. Meanwhile the structures could be gotten under way, the example of the State as a builder during this economic crisis would be of great value; the State would secure buildings of a character and quality suited to its needs; and would within the next three or four years be released from paying its present annual rental for office purposes in Sacramento of upwards of $60,000.

RE-REFERENCE OF BILLS.

On motion of Mr. Lindley, Assembly Bill No. 797 was recalled from the Committee on Agriculture and referred to Committee on Judiciary.

MOTION.

Mr. Eden moved the adoption of the following special rules:

SPECIAL RULE NUMBER ONE.

On and after the adoption of this rule, every member, when he speaks, shall stand in his place and address "Mr. Speaker", and when he has finished he shall sit down. No member shall be allowed to speak more than once during the consideration of any question at any one stage of the proceedings, except by the leave of the Assembly; provided, that the author of the bill or resolution or the mover of a question shall be allowed to close the debate. No member shall be allowed to speak more than five minutes upon any question, except by leave of the House; provided, that said author or mover shall be allowed five minutes to open and five minutes to close. No member shall be interrupted by a question until he has concluded.

"Leave of the House," as used in this rule, shall be expressed only by unanimous consent or by a two-thirds vote of the members present; provided, that such vote shall at all times be determined without a roll call.

MOTION.

Mr. Greene moved that the words "two-thirds" be stricken out, and the word "majority" inserted.

Rule as amended adopted.

SPECIAL RULE NUMBER TWO.

On and after the adoption of this rule, the Clerk shall place upon the special file provided for by Standing Assembly Rule No. 41, in addition to the bills provided for in said standing rule, all Assembly county government bills and all Assembly appropriation bills not already provided for by said standing rule.

Rule adopted.

SPECIAL RULE NUMBER THREE.

On and after the adoption of this rule, there shall be prepared each day by the File Clerk a Special Urgency File on which each member of the Assembly shall be permitted to place one bill. Before 9 p.m. of each day, each member desiring to place a bill on the Special Urgency File for the succeeding day shall give to the File Clerk the number of the bill he desires so placed on the Special Urgency File (either his own or any other bill), together with the number of the same on the file for that day.

The bills shall be arranged on the Special Urgency File in the alphabetical order of the names of the members, and shall be removed from the portion of the file whence they were taken to be placed upon such Special Urgency File.

This Special Urgency File shall be considered at each night session, commencing Thursday, April 3, at 7:30 p.m. In the event that the entire urgency file is not completed on any night, the consideration of the same shall be commenced on the succeeding night session at the place where it was discontinued the night before. In the event that a member has neglected to place a bill upon the Special Urgency File on any day, he shall not be permitted to call up any bill in case his name is reached on the succeeding day, but must wait his next turn on the file, and no member shall be allowed to substitute any bill for the bill placed on the urgency file.

Rule adopted.

RESOLUTION.

The following resolution was offered by Mr. Morris:

WHEREAS, In the death of William G. Lorigan, former State Supreme Court Justice, the State of California has been deprived of one of its most representative citizens, a man faithful, loyal and sympathetic in his friendships, honest, conscientious and painstaking in the performance of his duty, always worthy of the confidence reposed in him and thoroughly reliable in every respect; and

WHEREAS, His work as a public servant is written not upon the drifting sands of time, but engraven upon imperishable marble; and

WHEREAS, In private life and in his intimate associations in friendship he has made manifest his true greatness of heart; being genial, loving and unselfish by nature, he drew very close to him all who were privileged to associate with him, and especially, therefore, are we mindful of the immeasurable loss sustained by those close to him in his family relationship; and to his family, so sorely bereaved, we extend a heartfelt sympathy, in the hope that there may be given to them some comfort in the thought that the departed one is held in loving esteem by those who were his associates in the discharge of public duty; therefore, be it

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be engrossed by the Chief Clerk of the Assembly, and the same be conveyed to the family of the late William G. Lorigan; and be it further

Resolved, That when the Assembly completes its work for this day, it adjourns in honor of his memory.

Resolution read, and on motion adopted by a rising vote.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 10.

Relative to the levy and collection by the United States government of taxes on inheritances.

WHEREAS, There is great confusion caused in the collection, by both the federal government and the several states of the United States, of taxes upon inheritances; and

WHEREAS, There should be a uniform system whereby the taxes upon inheritances would be the same in each of the states; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the senate and assembly, jointly, That the legislature of the State of California hereby memorializes congress to take such action as may be necessary to provide that the several states shall levy and collect for state uses all taxes upon inheritances on estates up to an appraised value of five million dollars and that the government of the United States shall levy and collect for federal purposes all inheritance taxes on that portion of estates in excess of five million dollars; and be it further

Resolved, That our senators and representatives in congress be, and they are hereby requested to use all reasonable means to secure the action desired in this matter; and be it further

Resolved, That the secretary of the senate be and he is hereby instructed to forward copies of these resolutions to the president of the senate of the United States, to the speaker of the house of representatives, and to each of California's senators and representatives in congress.

Resolution ordered transmitted to the Senate.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No 14.

Relative to the restoration of a two-cent ad valorem tax on rice.

WHEREAS, Protection of American industries against the competition of cheap labor countries of the world should be the controlling policy of this nation; and

WHEREAS, At present it is desirable that such a tariff on rice be imposed as will protect the home market against imports of this staple of agriculture against foreign competition; and

WHEREAS, Rice is produced in foreign countries in such surplus quantities for export as to seriously menace the rice industry in the State of California and elsewhere in the United States unless some protection be afforded the American rice grower; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the senate and assembly, jointly, That the legislature of the State of California hereby memorializes congress to restore by appropriate legislation the two-cent ad valorem tax on rice heretofore existing, to the end that adequate protection be afforded to this important American industry; and be it further

Resolved, That our senators and representatives in congress be and they are hereby urged by this legislature to use all honorable means within their power to secure the enactment of a law to that effect; and be it further

Resolved, That the secretary of the senate be and he hereby is directed to forward copies of these resolutions to the president of the senate of the United States, to the speaker of the house of representatives, and to each of California's senators and representatives in congress.

SECOND READING OF ASSEMBLY BILLS—(RESUMED).

Assembly Bill No. 425—An act to amend section 129 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to rules of court.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENTS.

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

In line 1 of the title, strike out the words, "amend section one hundred twenty-nine of the Code of Civil Procedure", and insert in lieu thereof the following, "add a new section to the Code of Civil Procedure to be numbered one hundred twenty-nine a."

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

Strike out lines 1 to 16 of the printed bill, and insert in lieu thereof the following:
SECTION 1 A new section is hereby added to the Code of Civil Procedure to be numbered one hundred twenty-nine a and to read as follows 129a. The supreme court shall have power to make rules to govern practice and procedure in the supreme court, the district courts of appeal, and the superior courts in all matters relating to appeals from superior courts. When and as the rules herein authorized take effect all laws in conflict therewith shall be and become of no further force and effect.

Rules adopted under this section shall take effect at a time fixed by the court, not less than sixty days from the date of adoption. When adopted such rules shall at once be filed in the office of the clerks of all appellate courts and superior courts, and the supreme court shall arrange for the printing thereof in some publication of general circulation, among attorneys of the state.

Amendments adopted.

Bill read second time, ordered to reprint, engrossment, and third reading.

Assembly Bill No. 784—An act to amend sections 16 and 17 of an act entitled "An act to provide for the formation, organization and government of storm-water districts, for the purpose of protecting the land therein from damage from storm water and from the waters of any innavigable stream, watercourse, canyon, or wash, for the construction of the necessary works of protection by said district, and for the levying of taxes and assessments to pay for the cost of constructing, repairing and maintaining such improvements," approved March 13, 1909, as amended.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENTS.

During second reading of the bill, the following amendments were submitted by the committee:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE

Strike out all of lines 1 to 10, inclusive, of the title, in the printed bill, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

An act to amend sections ten and eleven of an act entitled "An act to provide for the formation of protection districts in the various counties of this state, for the improvement and rectification of the channels of unnavigable streams and watercourses, for the prevention of the overflow thereof, by widening, deepening, and straightening and otherwise improving the same, and to authorize the boards of supervisors to levy and collect assessments from the property benefited to pay the expenses of the same," approved March 27, 1895, as amended.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

On page 1 of the printed bill, strike out all of lines 1 to 17, inclusive, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

SECTION 1. Section ten of an act entitled "An act to provide for the formation of protection districts in the various counties of this state, for the improvement and rectification of the channels of unnavigable streams and watercourses, for the prevention of the overflow thereof, by widening, deepening, and straightening and otherwise improving the same, and to authorize the boards of supervisors to levy and collect assessments from the property benefited to pay the expenses of the same," approved March 27, 1895, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 10. Said commissioners shall proceed to view the lands embraced within the boundaries of such protection district, and may examine witnesses under oath, to be administered by any one of them. Having viewed the land to be taken, and the improvements affected, and considered the testimony presented, they shall proceed with all diligence to determine the value of the land and damage to improvements and property affected and also the estimated amount of the costs of the proposed work or improvement and the expenses incident thereto, and having determined the same, shall proceed to assess the same to the county or counties and upon the lands embraced within the exterior boundaries of such protection district. Such assessment shall be made in the manner following, to wit: The board of supervisors shall assess to the county or counties where more than one is an interested and benefited party or parties not exceeding one-half of such assessment, provided, that in no case shall a county be liable for an amount in excess of one-fourth thereof or for any sum greater than two thousand five hundred dollars where there are two or more counties within which said district is formed, and the remainder of such assessment may be made upon the lands within said district in proportion to the benefits to be derived from said work or improvement, so far as said commission can reasonably estimate the same, including in such estimate the streets in such municipal corporation and the property of any railroad company, within said district, if such there be. And each year thereafter it shall be the duty of the assessor of the county in which the district is situated to assess and enter upon his assessment roll the property within such protection district.

Sec. 2. Section eleven of said act approved March 27, 1895, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 11. Said commissioners, having made their assessment of benefits and damages, shall, with all diligence, make a written report thereof to the board of supervisors, and shall accompany their report with a plat of the district, showing the land taken or to be taken for the work or improvement; and the lands assessed, showing the relative location of each district, block, lot, or portion of lot or other piece of land, and its dimensions, so far as the commissioners can reasonably ascertain the same. Each block and lot, or portion of lot, or other parcel or parcels of land taken or assessed, shall be designated and described in said plat by an appropriate number, and a reference to it by such descriptive number shall be a sufficient description of it in all respects. When the report and plat are approved by the board of supervisors, a copy of said plat (appropriately designated and certified by the clerk of said board as a correct copy of the plat on file in his office) shall be, by the clerk of said board, recorded in the office of the recorder and filed in the office of the assessor of the county. Said report of the commissioners shall also contain the names of the persons owning lands taken, or to be taken, for such work or improvement, the names of the land owners who consent to give the right of way, and their written consent thereto; the names of land owners who do not consent, and the amount of damage claimed by each, and the amount of damages awarded to each by the commissioners.

Amendments adopted.

Such compensation and salaries as above set forth shall be in full for all services as such county surveyor, and all fees and compensation received or collected by him for surveying other than for the county, shall be paid into the county treasury; provided, that said county surveyor shall be allowed all necessary transportation and expenses incurred by himself or deputies for work performed in the field, and in the official discharge of his duties. Such salaries shall be paid at the same time and in the same manner as the salaries of other county officers are paid. Said surveyor shall also have power to appoint such inspectors as he may deem necessary, for the proper supervision of all roads and bridges under construction, and the compensation of said inspectors shall be a proper charge against the county.

13. The fish and game warden, one thousand two hundred dollars per annum and the actual and necessary expenses incurred by him in the performance of his official duties, not to exceed six hundred dollars for any one year.

14. The board of supervisors may at any time grant such additional assistance, or pay for such additional employees or service as it deems necessary to perform any service required by or in connection with any of the foregoing county offices in counties of this class.

15. In counties of this class, justices of the peace shall be compensated as follows, and all salaries shall be payable monthly in the same manner as the salaries of county officers are paid, viz:

(1) In townships having a population of twenty thousand or more, justices of the peace shall each receive a salary of two hundred fifty dollars per month as full compensation for all services rendered by them, except as hereinafter provided; provided, however, that in all such townships having a population of twenty thousand or more, there shall be two township justices of the peace in and for any such township, and said justices of the peace shall each be allowed a clerk to be appointed by such justice of the peace at a salary of one hundred twenty-five dollars per month, each, payable monthly in the same manner as salaries of county officers are paid, and shall be furnished with offices and necessary supplies by the board of supervisors.

(2) In townships having a population of five thousand and less than twenty thousand, justices of the peace shall each receive a salary of one hundred thirty-seven dollars and fifty cents per month for all services rendered by them, except as hereinafter provided.

(3) In townships having a population of four thousand four hundred and less than five thousand, justices of the peace shall each receive a salary of one hundred thirty-five dollars per month as full compensation for all services rendered by them, except as hereinafter provided.

(4) In townships having a population of two thousand five hundred and less than four thousand four hundred, justices of the peace shall each receive a salary of seventy-five dollars per month as full compensation for all services rendered by them except as hereinafter provided.

(5) In townships having a population of two thousand two hundred fifty and less than two thousand five hundred, justices of the peace shall each receive the sum of sixty dollars per month as salary for all services rendered in both civil and criminal cases. All fees collected by them shall be paid monthly by them into the county treasury.

(6) In townships having a population of one thousand and less than two thousand five hundred, justices of the peace shall each receive a salary of fifty dollars per month as full compensation for all services rendered by them, except as hereinafter provided.

(7) In townships having a population of less than one thousand, justices of the peace shall each receive a salary of thirty dollars per month as full compensation for all services rendered by them, except as hereinafter provided.

Justices of the peace in all townships in counties of the fourth class shall be permitted to receive and retain for their own use, fees for celebrating marriages and returning certificates thereof, but all other fees shall be collected by them and by them paid into the county treasury at least once a month.

16. In counties of this class constables shall be compensated as follows, and all salaries herein provided shall be paid in the same manner as the salaries of county officers are paid, viz:

(1) In townships having a population of twenty thousand or more, constables shall each receive a salary of one hundred dollars per month for all services rendered by them in criminal cases. As compensation for all services rendered in civil cases and all other matters wherein they may charge fees for their services, a constable may collect and retain for his own use as his compensation such fees as are now, or may hereafter be allowed by law.

(2) In townships having a population of five thousand and less than twenty thousand, constables shall each receive the sum of seventy-seven dollars and fifty cents per month as salary for all services rendered by them in criminal cases. As compensation for all services rendered by them in civil cases and in all other matters wherein they may charge fees for their services, constables may collect and retain for their own use as compensation such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

(3) In townships having a population of four thousand four hundred and less than five thousand, constables shall each receive the sum of seventy-seven dollars and fifty cents per month as salary for all services rendered by them in criminal cases, civil cases and in the performance of all other duties imposed upon them by law. All fees chargeable and collectible in both criminal cases, civil cases, and in all other cases wherein fees are chargeable by constables, shall be collected in advance and paid monthly into the county treasury.

(4) In townships having a population of two thousand five hundred and less than four thousand four hundred, constables shall each receive the sum of sixty dollars per month as a salary for all services rendered by them in both civil and criminal cases. All fees collected by them in civil and criminal cases shall be paid monthly by them into the county treasury. For all their services performed by them, they may charge and retain for their own use such fees as are chargeable at law.

(5) In townships having a population of two thousand two hundred fifty and less than two thousand five hundred, constables shall each receive the sum of sixty dollars per month as salary for all services rendered in both civil and criminal cases. All fees collected by them shall be paid monthly by them into the county treasury.

(6) In townships having a population of one thousand and less than two thousand two hundred fifty, constables shall each receive the sum of forty dollars per month as salary for all services rendered in criminal cases. All fees collected by them in criminal cases shall be paid monthly by them into the county treasury. For all other services performed by them they may charge and collect for their own use such fees as are allowed by law.

(7) In townships having a population of less than one thousand, constables shall each receive the sum of thirty dollars per month as a salary for all services rendered by them in criminal cases. All fees collected by them in criminal cases shall be paid monthly into the county treasury. For all other services performed by them they may charge and collect for their own use such fees as are allowed by law.

Constables shall be allowed all necessary expenses incurred in conveying prisoners.

The population herein referred to in classifying townships for the purpose of regulating the compensation of justices of the peace and constables shall be the population found and determined by the federal census taken in the year 1910; provided, however, that a township census may be taken for the purpose of establishing the official census of such township in the manner hereinafter specified and when so taken, such census shall be known as and shall become the official census of such township in which it is taken and the population therein determined shall be and become the official population of such township. Whenever there shall be presented to the board of supervisors of the county a petition signed by the qualified electors of any township or townships in number equal to twenty-five per cent of the votes cast at the preceding general election, praying that said township or townships may be allowed to take the census of said township or townships for the purpose of ascertaining the population therein contained, the board of supervisors may order such census to be taken by one or more suitable persons appointed therefor by the board of supervisors and such census shall be taken by such persons so appointed, of all of the inhabitants of such township or townships. The full name of each person shall be plainly written, the names alphabetically arranged and regularly numbered in one complete series and when completed, shall be verified by the proper official authorized to administer oaths and be filed with the county clerk and thereupon, the same shall be known and shall be the official census of said township or townships.

17. Each supervisor, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum and mileage of ten cents per mile for each mile actually traveled in going to and from their residence to the county seat or in the performance of the duties required of them by law or by virtue of their office; provided, that in attending sessions of the board only four mileages shall be allowed for each month and that the total mileage allowed shall not exceed five hundred dollars in any one calendar year; provided, that nothing in this subdivision shall be deemed to affect the compensation or mileage of any incumbent supervisor, but said incumbent shall be paid such compensation and allowed such mileage as is now provided and allowed by law.

18. The fees of grand jurors and trial jurors in the superior courts of said counties of the fourth class, in civil and criminal cases shall be three dollars, in lawful money of the United States, for each day's attendance, and mileage to be computed at the rate of fifteen cents per mile for each mile necessarily traveled in attending court, in going only. In criminal cases such fees and mileage of said trial jurors in the superior court shall be paid by the treasurer of the county out of the general fund of said county upon warrants drawn by the county auditor upon the written order of the judge of the court in which said juror was in attendance, and the treasurer of said county shall pay said warrants. The board of supervisors of said county is hereby directed to make suitable appropriation for the payment of the fees herein provided for.

Amendment adopted.

Bill read second time, ordered to reprint, engrossment, and third reading.

PRESENTATION OF PETITION.

The following petition was presented, and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Mr. Kline:

WHEREAS, A bill is before the State Legislature entitled "An act prohibiting unnecessary labor and the pursuit of unnecessary occupations on Sunday, defining and excepting 'works of necessity' and providing a penalty for the violation of the provisions thereof"; and

WHEREAS, We feel that such a measure comes under the head of religious legislation, and is therefore contrary to the principles of the federal government and the constitution of the State of California; and

WHEREAS, Such a law would make the pursuit of useful business or occupations on one day a criminal act, which are perfectly honorable and legitimate on other days of the week; and

WHEREAS, We believe the proposed measure to be unjust, in that it exempts certain business and labor as being necessary, and fails to exempt others which are equally as necessary, thereby making class legislation; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we vigorously protest against the enactment of the above named bill; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to each of our representatives in the State Legislature.

Thus twenty-ninth day of March, 1919, the above resolutions passed with unanimous vote of the Riverside Seventh-day Baptist Church in public assembly.

MRS. C. D. COON, Church Clerk

SEC. 2. The various sums herein appropriated for printing, binding, ruling, materials and all other work provided for by law to be done in the state printing office shall be expended only upon requisitions to be approved by the state board of control, and said board is authorized and given power to reduce the amount of such requisitions either in whole or in any item thereof. When any state publication is printed and paid for out of any appropriation in this act, the disposition of the same shall be subject to the provisions of section two thousand two hundred ninety-five of the Political Code of the State of California. The sums that are herein appropriated for expenses of the senate and assembly shall be disbursed under the direction of the bodies to which they respectively belong, and shall not be subject to any of the provisions of section six hundred seventy-two of the Political Code; provided, that the state controller shall not be required to draw any warrants until the original claims and vouchers, itemized and properly sworn to, are filed with him. The sums herein appropriated for the expenses of the national guard shall be audited by the adjutant general, as required by sections two thousand eighty-three and two thousand eighty-five of the Political Code. Not more than five hundred dollars of the money hereby appropriated for the support of the institutions of the state shall be used in each fiscal year for permanent improvements, but shall be used solely for the payment of salaries and traveling expenses of the commissioners or directors having charge of the same (when such salaries or expenses are allowed by law), the salaries of employees, the purchase of material and supplies for the use of said institutions, and for such incidental and current expenses as may be necessarily incurred for the proper management and support of said institutions.

SEC. 3. All persons having demands against the state, and various state officers, and the officers of all institutions under the control of the state, except the governor, to whom and for which appropriations other than salaries are made under the provisions of this act, shall, with their biennial report, submit a detailed statement, under oath, of the manner in which all appropriations for their respective departments and institutions have been expended, and the state board of control, is hereby expressly prohibited from allowing any demand payable out of any such appropriations until the same are presented in itemized form, accompanied by affidavit and voucher for money expended by them, stating specifically the service rendered, by whom performed, time employed, distance traveled, and necessary expenses thereof; if for articles purchased, the name of each article, together with the price paid for each and of whom purchased, with the date of the purchase; provided, that in instances where the duties of any state officer or board make necessary the use of moneys for purposes of a confidential nature, the board of control may audit claims for such expense without requiring itemization or vouchers, but such claims must be accompanied by a statement of the facts surrounding the expenditure, which statement must be filed in the office of the board of control; provided, further, that the total amount so allowed for such confidential purposes from the moneys herein appropriated shall not exceed in any one fiscal year the sum of two thousand dollars. All bills and vouchers, which shall be presented for supplies furnished or services rendered, shall be original bills and vouchers of the parties furnishing supplies and rendering services, provided, that no officer shall use or appropriate any money, appropriated by this act, for any purpose whatsoever, unless authorized thereto by law, and provided, that any officer, board, commission or department for whom any appropriation is made herein, may, with the permission of the board of control, and without at the time furnishing vouchers and itemized statements, draw from such appropriation, a sum not to exceed one thousand dollars for any such officer, board, commission or department. The sum so drawn shall be used as a revolving fund where cash advances are necessary, and at the close of each fiscal year, or at any other time, upon the demand of the board of control, must be accounted for and substantiated by vouchers and itemized statements submitted to and audited by the board of control and the controller.

SEC. 4. Not more than one-twenty-fourth of the amount appropriated under this act for each department or institution for the two years ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred twenty-one, shall be expended during any one month without the consent of the state board of control, and not more than one-half of such appropriation shall be expended during the seventy-first fiscal year, unless the same has been expressly authorized by this act.

SEC 5. The officers of the various departments, boards, commissions and institutions for whose benefit and support appropriations are made in this act are expressly forbidden to make any expenditure in excess of such appropriations, except the unanimous consent of the state board of control be first obtained, and a certificate, in writing, duly signed by every member of said board, of the unavoidable necessity of such expenditure; and any indebtedness attempted to be created against the state in violation of the provisions of this section shall be absolutely null and void; and shall not be allowed by said state board of control nor paid out of any state appropriations, provided, that any member of any such department, board, commissions or institutions, who shall vote for any expenditure, or create any indebtedness against the state in excess of the respective appropriations made by this act, except by the unanimous consent of the state board of control, and the certificate in this section provided to be first obtained, shall be liable on his official bond for the amount of such indebtedness, to be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction by the person or persons, firm or corporation to whom such indebtedness is owing.

SEC 6. No money appropriated by this act shall be used to renew, or pay for the renewal of any fire insurance on any public building or property, nor to effect or pay for any new insurance on any public building or property, except the state printing office and its contents.

SEC 7. This act, inasmuch as it provides for an appropriation for the usual current expenses of the state shall, under the provisions of section one, of article four, of the constitution of the State of California, take effect immediately.

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

In the title of the printed bill, strike out all of lines 1 to 12, inclusive, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

An act providing for a county engineer for each county in this state, providing for his appointment, manner of removal, qualifications, compensation and duties; transferring to such engineer certain powers, functions and duties heretofore vested in and performed by county surveyors and members of the board of supervisors; also authorizing the board of supervisors for each county to purchase and obtain all necessary equipment, materials and instrumentalities to carry out the objects of this act; to provide said county engineer with an office and necessary assistants, to provide for abolishing the office of county surveyor and for the fixing and levying of taxes for road purposes.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

On page 1 of the printed bill, strike out all of lines 1 to 18, inclusive, also strike out all of pages 2 to 9, inclusive, and insert in lieu thereof the following

SECTION 1. The board of supervisors of any county at their option may appoint, and upon petition therefor signed by qualified electors of the county equaling in number not less than twenty-five per cent of the total vote cast in the county for governor at the last preceding election at which a governor was elected, they must appoint a competent civil engineer as county engineer, who shall be deemed an employee and not a county officer. The county engineer shall, under the general direction and supervision of the board of supervisors and except as otherwise provided in this act, have complete direction and control over all of the construction, improvement, maintenance and repair of county roads, highways and bridges.

SEC. 2. The county engineer shall hold his employment for the term of four years from the date of his appointment, provided, that he may be removed at any time by the board of supervisors for inefficiency, neglect of duty, malfeasance or misconduct in office, or other good cause shown, upon written charges to be filed with and heard by the board of supervisors and sustained by a three-fifths vote of said board after a hearing as herein provided. Said board is hereby vested with the power to administer oaths, compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers and testimony. A copy of such charges shall be personally served upon said county engineer and he shall be given not less than ten days' time in which to file a written answer to the charges, and if it appears to the satisfaction of such board that the charges have been substantiated, the said board shall so notify said county engineer by mail, and such notice shall specifically state the findings and judgment of said board, and the board of supervisors of such county must thereupon forthwith remove such county engineer from office and shall immediately appoint his successor in the manner provided in section two of this act. Prior to entering upon the duties of his employment the county engineer shall file with the county clerk the oath of office as prescribed for the county officers and a bond conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties, with sufficient sureties approved by a judge of the superior court, in the sum of five thousand dollars.

SEC. 3. The salary of the county engineer and assistants shall be paid monthly out of the county treasury of the county in which he is appointed and in the same manner as county officers. The county engineer shall also be allowed from the county treasury his actual traveling and other necessary expenses incurred in the performance of the duties of his employment, and shall be a charge against the general fund. The salary of the county engineer in the several counties shall be fixed by the board of supervisors of said county.

SEC. 4. The county engineer shall be ex officio road commissioner of and for each and every road district of his county, and, subject to the control and supervision of the board of supervisors as herein provided, shall have and exercise the powers and duties hereinafter set forth and specified, and such duties as may hereafter be provided by law.

SEC. 5. The county engineer shall:

(a) Make, or cause to be made, all surveys, maps, plans, specifications and estimates necessary or required for the construction, improvement, maintenance and repair of the county roads, highways, and bridges, and shall, from and after the first Monday in September, 1919, have and exercise all the powers and duties, and perform all the functions which are now by law conferred or imposed upon county surveyors, except as herein otherwise provided.

(b) Examine and inspect, or cause to be examined and inspected, the work performed on such roads, highways and bridges, and report to the board of supervisors whether or not the work has been done in accordance with the plans and specifications and contracts therefor.

(c) Approve and certify to the progress estimates and allowances for work performed under all contracts for the construction, improvement, maintenance, or repair of county roads, highways and bridges.

(d) Inspect, or cause to be inspected, all county roads, highways and bridges within the county, and keep such roads, highways and bridges clear from obstructions, and when authorized by the board of supervisors he may employ all men, teams and equipment necessary to keep such roads in good repair when the same is not let by contract, and report to the board of supervisors with respect to such inspection and such work from time to time as said board shall require, and certify to the correctness of all pay rolls for work done by day labor or force account on county roads, highways and bridges.

(e) Have control and management under the general supervision of the board of supervisors of all county rock quarries, oil pits and depots, gravel pits and all materials, property, implements, instruments, tools, machinery and other appurtenances necessary for the construction, improvement, maintenance and repair of county roads, highways and bridges, and shall be the custodian of the plans therefor.

(f) He may also hold and perform the duties of the office of county surveyor, but in all such cases no salary or other compensation shall be paid to him as county surveyor. He shall not be interested either directly or indirectly in any contracts within his jurisdiction, nor shall he be interested in the purchase of materials, supplies or equipment of any kind used in connection with the performance of his duties under the provisions of this act.

(g) Prepare annually a budget showing in detail the needs of the county for construction, improvement, maintenance or repair of county roads, highways and bridges for the ensuing year, and submit the same to the county auditor and board of supervisors at least sixty days prior to the date of the meeting at which the board of supervisors is required to fix the county tax rate and levy the county taxes.

(h) Make a written report to the board of supervisors at their first regular meeting of each month, and in it he shall state the amount and character of work done, during the preceding month, the progress of any contracts under way, approximate cost of the work and matters pertaining to the public roads, highways, streets and bridges or other public works, which, in his judgment, should be brought to their attention. This report shall contain the recommendation of acceptance or rejection of any public work completed, and all official announcements or statements which the engineer is required to make to the board. The size and form of these reports shall be uniform and upon blanks supplied by the state engineer and a copy shall be filed, one in the office of the board of supervisors and another in the office of the county engineer.

(i) On or before the first day of July of each year, file with the board of supervisors a complete report of the work of the preceding year, which report shall be in the form required and contain the information desired and requested by the state engineer and upon blank forms supplied by him. A copy of said report shall also be filed in the office of the board of supervisors.

(j) Perform such other duties pertaining to the construction, improvement, maintenance or repair of county roads, highways and bridges as the board of supervisors may prescribe.

SEC. 6. The board of supervisors shall provide by ordinance or resolution for the employment, when necessary, of additional field and office help by said county engineer, and shall prescribe the compensation to be paid to all persons so employed, for the time during which they may be actually engaged in the service of the county and for their actual necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duty.

SEC. 7. The board of supervisors shall provide and assign to the county engineer and his assistants a suitable office or offices in the court house, or in some place conveniently located with reference thereto with all necessary instruments, tools, implements, stationery and supplies.

SEC. 8. The county engineer shall make requisition upon the board of supervisors for the purchase of all tools, implements, machinery, materials and supplies required to carry out the intent of this act, and said requisition shall state plainly the estimated cost of the article or articles to be purchased. He shall approve all claims for the same before such claims are audited and passed by the board of supervisors. He shall be the custodian and be responsible for all equipment under his control. All such property shall be stored and protected from the weather when not in use. An inventory of all property in his custody shall be made annually and kept on file in the office of the county engineer.

SEC. 9. Upon the completion of work done for the county on its roads, highways, streets, bridges and aqueducts, or in connection with the same, the county engineer must examine the same and if completed in accordance with the specifications thereof, he must submit to the board of supervisors a certificate over his signature and official seal to the effect that such work by the contractors thereof has been completed in accordance with the specifications thereof and recommending its acceptance. The board shall thereupon audit the same and direct its payment out of the proper fund or funds.

SEC. 10. Whenever the state department of engineering has authority to sell equipment, materials or supplies for road building, repairs or maintenance and a saving may be made to a county by purchasing from said department, the board of supervisors upon the recommendation of the county engineer may purchase such equipment, materials or supplies from the state.

SEC. 11. The office of county surveyor of any county shall be and is hereby abolished upon the occurrence of any of the following conditions:

(a) Upon the appointment of a county engineer, if the first appointment for such county is made subsequent to the expiration of the present term of the person who now holds the office of county surveyor for such county; or,

(b) Upon the appointment as county engineer of the person who now holds the office of county surveyor, if such appointment is made prior to the expiration of the present term of said county surveyor; or,

(c) In other cases, upon the expiration of the present term of the person who now holds the office of county surveyor, if prior to such date a county engineer is appointed.

SEC. 12. Nothing herein contained shall be held, deemed or construed to prevent members of boards of supervisors from visiting and inspecting work in progress within the county or from receiving for such services the mileage now allowed by law.

SEC. 13. This act shall be known as and when cited or amended may be designated as "the county engineer act."

Amendments adopted.

REQUESTS FOR PERMISSION TO INTRODUCE BILLS.

The following requests for permission to introduce bills were presented:

By Mr. Price:

MR SPEAKER: I ask permission to introduce the accompanying bill, the title of which reads as follows:

An act granting certain tidelands and submerged lands of the State of California to the county of Orange in said State upon certain trusts and conditions.

Referred to Committee on Introduction of Bills.

THIRD READING OF ASSEMBLY BILLS—(RESUMED).

Assembly Bill No. 740—An act requiring the screening of houses in malaria districts, authorizing the State Board of Health to determine the boundaries of such districts and to enforce the provisions of this act, making violations of this act misdemeanors, and providing for the punishment of the same.

MOTION TO REFER TO SELECT COMMITTEE OF ONE.

During third reading of the bill, Mr. Wickham moved that the Speaker appoint a Select Committee of One to amend the bill as follows:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE

On page 1, line 8, of the printed bill, after the period, insert the following: "The owner of said house may at his option use mosquito netting in lieu of wire screen."

Motion carried.

The Speaker appointed Mr. Wickham as such Select Committee

REPORT OF SELECT COMMITTEE OF ONE

The following report of Select Committee of One was received and read:

MR SPEAKER: Your Select Committee of One, to which was referred Assembly Bill No. 740, with instructions, reports that the instructions of the Assembly have been carried out.

WICKHAM, Select Committee

Report of Select Committee of One and amendment adopted.

Bill ordered to reprint, re-engrossment, and on file for passage.

Assembly Bill No. 649—An act to amend section 3766 of the Political Code, relating to the manner of publication of the delinquent tax list

Pending amendment previously proposed by Mr. Doran:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

On page 1 of the printed bill, strike out all of lines 9 to 18, inclusive, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

If there be no newspaper of general circulation published in any one of the school districts in the county, then the portion of the list containing property in that district must be published in some newspaper having a bona fide circulation in said district, other than the newspaper publishing the whole list, provided that no portion of the delinquent list shall be published in more than one newspaper published in the same school district. Any newspaper making any publication as herein provided must be paid therefor at the county rate for advertising as fixed by the board of supervisors. If the newspaper published in any school district shall refuse to publish the list at the rate fixed by the board of supervisors, then said list need not be published in said district (but must be posted in three public places in the district). If there be no newspaper of general circulation published in the county then said list must be posted in three public places in the county. The purpose of this section is to give full and fair notice to all taxpayers of tax delinquencies by publications in newspapers having a circulation in the locality where the property is located.

Mr. Doran asked for and was granted unanimous consent to withdraw the above amendment

MOTION TO REFER TO SELECT COMMITTEE OF ONE

During third reading of the bill, Mr. Lindley moved that the Speaker appoint a Select Committee of One to amend the bill as follows:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

On page 1 of the printed bill, strike out all of lines 9 to 18, inclusive, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

If there be no newspaper of general circulation published in any one of the school districts in the county, then the portion of the list containing property in that district must be published in some newspaper having a bona fide circulation in said district, other than the newspaper publishing the whole list, provided, that no portion of the delinquent list shall be published in more than one newspaper published in the same school district. Any newspaper making any publication as herein provided must be paid therefor at the county rate for advertising as fixed by the board of supervisors. If the newspapers published in any school district shall refuse to publish the list at the rate fixed by the board of supervisors, then said list need not be published in said district. If there be no newspaper of general circulation published in the county then said list must be posted in three public places in the county. The purpose of this section is to give full and fair notice to all taxpayers of tax delinquencies by publications in newspapers having a circulation in the locality where the property is located.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The following message from the Governor was taken up and read:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

To the Assembly of the State of California

In accordance with section 16 of article IV of the constitution, I return to you herewith without my approval Assembly Bill No. 776

I have withheld my approval on account of a letter I have received from Assemblyman Kline, as follows:

"I would appreciate it very much if you would veto Assembly Bill No. 776, which purports to validate the proceedings of this district.

"The objection to the bill is that it might be construed to prevent the district from constructing any new improvements after the completion of the irrigation work for which these bonds are issued. This objection was not discovered until the bill had passed both houses and therefore I hope you will veto it."

Respectfully submitted.

WM. D. STEPHENS, Governor.

Dated: Sacramento, California, April 7, 1919.

The question being: Shall the bill become a law notwithstanding the Governor's veto?

The roll was called, and the Governor's veto was sustained by the following vote:

Bill ordered to reprint, re-engrossment, and on file for passage.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

The following explanation of vote was presented and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Mr. Doran:

On Saturday, April 5, the session of the House was devoted chiefly to the passage of appropriation bills, which were all unopposed, and upon which the voting was perfunctory. Among the bills passed was a small appropriation for the San Diego Normal School. It so happened that I was engaged elsewhere in imperative duty relating to my bill for State aid to counties and cities in road building. A peculiar situation in my district makes it necessary for me to explain why I was not recorded in that roll call. Of course I would have voted "Aye".

W. A. DORAN.

GUESTS ADMITTED TO THE FLOOR.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Doran, Mr. and Mrs. Douglass G. Ogden of San Diego County, California, were extended the privilege of the floor of the Assembly for this day, and their names ordered printed in the Journal.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Eksward, Miss Margaret McGovern and Miss E. Marion Pattee of San Francisco, California, were extended the privilege of the floor of the Assembly for this day, and their names ordered printed in the Journal.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Stevens, Dr. and Mrs. J. Walter Seawell and Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Hall of Healdsburg, California, were extended the privilege of the floor of the Assembly for this day, and their names ordered printed in the Journal.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENT.

During second reading of the bill, the following amendment was submitted by the committee:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

On page 1 of the printed bill, strike out all of lines 15 to 26, inclusive, all of pages 2 and 3, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

(b) Has been organized for more than ten years and for more than five years after the construction or acquisition of a system of works has failed and neglected to maintain such works, or for five years or more after such works have been constructed or acquired has failed and neglected to supply or make available, water for the irrigation of more than ten per cent of the lands of the district:

May be dissolved and annulled by the superior court of the county in which said district is located by proceedings in an action brought by the attorney general in the name of the people of the State of California, upon his own information. Before such an action can be commenced in the courts the attorney general shall publish for two consecutive weeks in some newspaper published in the county in which the greater portion of the district is located, a notice to all parties in interest that it is his intention to begin such action for the dissolution of said district. The rules of pleading and practice in the Code of Civil Procedure not inconsistent with the provisions of this act are made applicable to the proceedings herein provided.

SEC. 2. Before the trial of the case the court may direct the state engineer to investigate all the affairs of said district, the water supply that may be obtained without prohibitive cost; the feasibility and practicability of irrigating all or a reasonable amount of the lands of said district; and all other matters which the court may direct, or the state engineer may deem pertinent as affecting the possible success or failure of the district as an irrigation enterprise and which may be necessary to enable the court to determine the question of dissolution.

For the purpose of making such investigation, the state engineer shall have access to all the records of the district, and all officers and employees and other persons in any manner connected with or employed by said district shall furnish such information as he may require which has already been obtained or determined, including maps, plans, estimates, field notes, and other data.

The state engineer shall report his findings and conclusions to the superior court as soon as practicable, but within ninety days unless a longer time be granted him by the court, but in no case to extend beyond the period of one hundred eighty days in all.

SEC. 3. Upon final judgment of dissolution in such action, the district in question shall be deemed dissolved and annulled. The court shall determine the amount of indebtedness outstanding against said district, including the costs of the court action herein provided for, and thereafter the appropriate county officers shall act as ex officio officers of the district; the records and papers of every kind belonging to the district shall be turned over to the proper county officers. The county treasurer shall perform the duties of the district treasurer; the county tax collector shall perform the duties of the district tax collector; the county assessor shall perform the duties of the district assessor; the county clerk shall perform the duties of the secretary of the board of directors; the board of supervisors shall perform the duties of the board of directors; they shall proceed to levy and collect such additional taxes as may be necessary upon the lands embraced within such district in the same manner and with the same procedure for nonpayment that county taxes are levied and collected for the purpose of paying such outstanding indebtedness not provided for by previous assessments. All property of every kind belonging to the district, including lands sold to the district for taxes, shall be sold as the court may direct and the proceeds together with all money on hand shall be used to pay off the indebtedness. All funds remaining after all outstanding indebtedness has been paid shall be apportioned and be paid to the assessment payers according to the last assessment roll.

SEC. 4. The outstanding indebtedness, whether of bonds, warrants, or otherwise, of any irrigation district shall not operate as a bar to dissolution by the superior court when provision is made for the payment of such indebtedness in the manner provided in section three of this act.

SEC. 5. This act is designed to provide an alternative method for the dissolution of irrigation districts and shall not be deemed to repeal any other statute or statutes.

Amendment adopted.

Bill read second time. ordered to reprint, engrossment, and third reading.

Assembly Bill No 50—An act to amend sections 20, 26, 28 and 29 of an act entitled "An act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof and providing a method for the payment of such bonds," approved April 7, 1911, and to add a new section thereto to be known as section 6½

COMMITTEE AMENDMENTS.

During second reading of the bill, the following amendments were submitted by the committee:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

Strike out all the words in the title after the words "An act", and insert in lieu thereof the following:

to amend section twenty-six of an act entitled "An act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities, and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof and providing a method for the payment of such bonds," approved April 7, 1911.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

On page 1, line 1, of the printed bill, strike out the word "twenty", and insert in lieu thereof the word "twenty-six".

AMENDMENT NUMBER THREE.

On page 1 of the printed bill, strike out all of lines 11 to 19, inclusive, also all of the remainder of the printed bill from page 2 to page 11, both inclusive, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

SEC. 26. The owners, whether named in the assessment or not, the contractor, or his assigns, and all other persons directly interested in any work done under this act, or in the assessment, feeling aggrieved by any act or determination of the superintendent of streets in relation thereto, or who claim that the work has not been performed according to the contract in a good and substantial manner, or having or making any objection to the correctness or legality of the assessment or other act, determination, or proceedings of the superintendent of streets, shall, within thirty days after the date of the warrant, appeal to the city council, as provided in this section, by briefly stating their objections in writing, and filing the same with the clerk of said city council. Notice of the time and place of hearing, as fixed by the council, briefly referring to the work contracted to be done, or other subject of appeal, and to the acts, determinations, or proceedings objected to or complained of, shall be posted conspicuously by the clerk, on or near the chamber door of the council chambers, for five days. Upon such appeal, the said city council may remedy and correct any error or informality in the proceedings, and revise and correct any of the acts or determinations of the superintendent of streets relative to said work; may confirm, amend, set aside, alter, modify, or correct the assessment in such manner as to them shall seem just, and require the work to be completed according to the directions of the city council; and may instruct and direct the superintendent of streets to correct the warrant, assessment, or diagram in any particular, or to make and issue a new warrant, assessment, and diagram, to conform to the decisions of said city council in relation thereto, at their option. All the decisions and determinations of said city council, upon notice and hearing as aforesaid, shall be final and conclusive (except as hereinafter stated) upon all persons entitled to appeal under the provisions of this section, as to all errors, informalities, and irregularities which said city council might have avoided, or have remedied, during the progress of the proceedings, or which it can at that time remedy; provided, however, that at any time within three years from the date of any such decision or decisions or determination or determinations of said city council upon such objections, whether made before or after the effective date of this act the contractor, or his assigns, in the event that such appeal or appeals, so taken as herein provided, has or have been sustained by said city council, shall have the right to bring an action in the superior court of the county or city and county in which the work done is situated, for the purpose of reviewing the action of said city council, and said superior court shall have full power and authority to review any such decisions or determinations of said city council upon said appeals, and said superior court shall have full power and authority to confirm, amend, set aside, alter, modify or correct any of such decisions or determinations of said city council upon such appeals, and said superior court shall have full power and authority to determine whether said work has been done and performed according to the contract in good and substantial manner, and said superior court shall have full power and authority to remedy and correct any error or informality in the proceedings, and revise and correct any of the acts or determinations of the superintendent of streets relative to said work, and shall have full power and authority to confirm, amend, set aside, alter, modify or correct the assessment in such manner as to it shall seem just. Said action shall be begun by the filing of a complaint in said superior court and in said action the members of said city council shall be the only necessary parties defendant; and provided, further, that where such appeal or appeals, has or have, been overruled, any person, as owner or otherwise, interested in any property affected by the decision or decisions, or determination or determinations overruling such appeal or appeals, may, within the said period of three years, provided no bond or bonds have issued upon such property or upon the security of the assessment thereon, likewise commence an original proceeding to review such decision or decisions, or determination or determinations, for the same object or purpose, as is above provided in the case of a contractor or his assigns; or where suit has been brought to foreclose any assessment affected by any such decision or decisions, or determination or determinations overruling such appeal or appeals, such owner, or person otherwise interested, may, by way of defense, either by a cross-complaint or by an answer in the nature of a cross-complaint, or otherwise, obtain the like relief as may be sought and obtained by a contractor, or his assigns, as is above provided. And in any litigation, instituted within the said period of three years wherein may be involved, as the basis of a cause of action or defense, any decision or decisions, or determination or determinations, whether sustaining or overruling any such appeal or appeals, any contractor, or his assigns, or any such owner or person otherwise interested, may seek and obtain the same relief as is above provided for in the case of a contractor or his assigns. The provisions of part II of the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California are hereby declared to be applicable to, and shall constitute the rules of practice in, said proceedings, and the provisions of part II of the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California relative to new trials and appeals are hereby declared to be applicable to such proceedings. No assessment, warrant, diagram or affidavit or demand and nonpayment, after the issue of the same, and no proceedings prior to the assessment, shall be held invalid by any court for any error, informality, or other defect in the same, where the resolution of intention of the council to do the work, has been actually published as herein provided, and said notices of improvement have been posted along the line of the work, as provided in section five of this act before the passage of the resolution ordering the work to be done.

Amendments adopted.

Bill read second time, ordered to reprint, engrossment, and third reading.

Assembly Bill No. 49—An act to amend sections 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 50, 51, 54, 55, 57, and 58 of an act entitled "An act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places, and sidewalks within municipalities, and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof and providing a method for the payment of such bonds," approved April 7, 1911

COMMITTEE AMENDMENT.

During second reading of the bill, the following amendment was submitted by the committee:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

Strike out all the words in the title after the words "An act", and insert in lieu thereof the following:

to provide for the alteration or vacation of recorded maps or plats of lands.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Upon the application of the owners of two-thirds of the area of the land included within the boundaries of any recorded map or plat of lands, the superior court may alter or vacate such map or plat, or any part thereof, as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 2. The application provided for shall be made by filing in the office of the county clerk in which such land is situated a petition signed and verified by the owners of at least two-thirds of the land included within the boundaries shown upon such map or plat.

SEC. 3. The petition mentioned in section two shall set forth a distinct description of the land included within such map or plat, the names of the petitioners and the names of all other owners known to the petitioners.

SEC. 4. Upon the filing of any such petition, as heretofore provided, any judge of the superior court of such county shall make an order directing the clerk to give notice of the same for such time as the court may order, but not less than thirty days nor more than fifty days, by publication in some newspaper published in the county; but if there be no newspaper published therein, then by notices posted in three of the principal public places in the county.

SEC. 5. At any time before the expiration of the time of publication any person may file his objection to the application.

SEC. 6. After the time of publication has expired, the court may, upon five days' notice to the persons who have filed objections, or without further notice if no objections have been filed, proceed to hear the application. If upon such hearing the petitioners shall produce to said court satisfactory evidence that the notice required by the preceding section has been given, that the owners of two-thirds of the area of the land included in any such map or plat are such petitioners, and there is no reasonable objection to making such alteration or vacation, the court may proceed to alter or vacate any such map or plat and enter its decree accordingly.

SEC. 7. The alteration and vacating of any such map or plat shall not affect or vacate any part of any public highway.

SEC. 8. The alteration or vacation of any such map or plat shall be complete upon the filing in the office of the county recorder of the county in which such land is situated a copy of the decree of the superior court. The county recorder shall enter upon the face of any such map or plat a memorandum stating briefly that such map or plat has been altered or vacated, as the case may be, and giving the date and reference to the record of such decree.

SEC. 9. In case any map or plat has been altered pursuant to the provisions of this act, a new map or plat may be filed with the county recorder in the manner provided by law.

Amendment adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER NINE.

On page 4, line 5, after the word "school", add the following: "such devises or bequests shall not be subject to the limitations prohibiting the devising or bequeathing of more than one-third of one's estate to any charitable or benevolent society or corporation as provided for in an act to amend section 1313 of the Civil Code, relating to restrictions on devises or bequests for charitable purposes, approved May 5, 1917. All gifts, grants, devises or bequests of property, real or personal, which have been made or may hereafter be made to the State of California for the use, or benefit, of said school, or of any department thereof, shall be subject to the provisions of this section, unless a contrary intent be expressed in the instrument making the same."

AMENDMENT NUMBER TEN.

On page 4, line 11, omit the word "child", and insert "boy".

AMENDMENT NUMBER ELEVEN.

On page 4, line 13, omit the word "it", and insert "he".

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWELVE.

On page 4, line 17, omit "child's", and insert "boy's".

AMENDMENT NUMBER THIRTEEN.

On page 4, line 25, omit "child", and insert "boy".

AMENDMENT NUMBER FOURTEEN.

On page 4, omit all of lines 30 and 31, and the word "school", on line 32, and insert in lieu thereof: "carrying into effect the provisions of section one relating to boys admitted to the said Abraham Lincoln school."

AMENDMENT NUMBER FIFTEEN.

On page 4, strike out all of lines 41 to 45, inclusive, and insert:

SEC. 17. In the placing of said boys in homes due consideration shall be given to their religious convictions and that of their parents or guardians, to the end that such boys shall be placed in homes of their own respective religious belief.

AMENDMENT NUMBER SIXTEEN.

On page 4, line 47, omit "child so recommended", and insert in lieu thereof "boy".

AMENDMENT NUMBER SEVENTEEN.

On page 5, strike out all of lines 8 to 15, inclusive, and insert in lieu thereof "superintendent and the department of education of the State University."

The members of the said committee on eligibility shall be entitled to receive all of their necessary expenses while attending to the business of the school.

The said superintendent and the state board of education may jointly select and appoint in any county of the state one or more local advisors who shall serve without compensation. The local advisor may act for the committee of eligibility in furnishing to it information concerning boys to be admitted to said school and otherwise assist the said committee as may be agreed upon between them. The local advisor on behalf of the parent or guardian of any boy admitted to the Abraham Lincoln school shall have the right to secure from the said school reports concerning any such boy admitted from the county in which said advisor has been appointed, and to visit such boy while in attendance at the said school. Said local advisor shall inform the superintendent or trustees of any change of conditions that would make it seem best that any such boy be returned to his home.

The said members of the committee on eligibility and the said local advisors shall hold office at the pleasure of the appointing power of each respectively."

AMENDMENT NUMBER EIGHTEEN.

On page 5, omit all of lines 16 to 52, inclusive, and omit all of page 6, and insert in lieu thereof:

SEC. 21. Any boy with the consent of the person entitled to his custody, or with his own consent, if there be no parent or guardian to give such consent, may be admitted to said school upon such terms and conditions as are agreed upon between him, or between him and them, and the said school, provided, that said boy be a minor above the age of eight years who has no parent or guardian, or who has no parent or guardian exercising proper care, supervision and guidance, or who is in need of such special educational advantages or vocational training as may be afforded by said school, or who is not responding satisfactorily to school instruction and discipline, and, as a consequence, may not realize normal social development; provided, that no boy shall be admitted or retained who is insane, feeble-minded or epileptic, or whose physical, mental or moral status is such as to make him an improper person to attend said school.

SEC. 22. Any person may file a petition with the said committee, showing that there is a boy coming within the provisions of this act, and requesting that the said committee consider the admission of such boy to such school. Such petition shall contain a statement of the facts bringing said boy within such provisions, and the names and residence, if known, of the parents or guardians of the boy, and if not so known, or if they do not reside in the county, then the known names and addresses of other relatives or friends of the boy residing in the county.

SEC. 23. It shall be the duty of the principal of any school in which any boy is a pupil who he thinks comes within the provisions of this act, to report on such boy to the superintendent of the city, county, or city and county schools in which said school is situated, which report shall be in writing and shall set forth the grounds upon which he considers that the boy comes within the said provisions, and it shall also be the duty of such principal, at the request of the superintendent, to report on any pupil of said school under investigation by the said committee: such report shall be in writing and shall contain all such facts as he can reasonably ascertain which would tend to either prove or disprove that he comes within the provisions of this act.

SEC. 24. It shall be the duty of the city, county, or city and county superintendent of schools, personally or through some person designated by him, to investigate the case of each boy whose name is submitted to him for consideration for admission to such school; and said superintendent shall use due diligence in formulating such report and he shall immediately forward same to the committee on eligibility of such school for their further consideration. The said superintendent shall submit with every such name a recommendation for or against the admission of such boy to the school, together with the reasons on which such recommendation is based.

The city, county, or city and county superintendent of schools shall attach to his recommendation a statement of findings showing previous record, social and other data he may have bearing upon the case of any such boy, the same to be delivered to said school with such recommendation; also, the public school records of all boys whose names are considered for admission to such school shall be open to the inspection and reference of the representative of the said Abraham Lincoln school.

SEC. 25. When it is in the interest of any boy eligible for admission to such school, the superintendent of said school, any member of the committee on eligibility, or any other suitable person of good character may be appointed guardian for such boy and such guardian may make application for his admission to said school and the court may make an order requiring the county in which such boy resides to make monthly payments as provided for in sections twenty-nine and thirty of this act. Such guardian shall endeavor to assist such boy to make satisfactory progress while a pupil in said school, shall maintain an active, helpful interest in his welfare, and shall make every reasonable effort to aid in finding for such boy a suitable home or employment at such times and in such ways as may be approved by said school.

SEC. 26. The committee on eligibility shall consider the names of all boys submitted for admission to the said school and the approval of said committee must be first obtained before any boy can be admitted to said school. The said committee may act on information furnished with the application for admission or it may make such further inquiry as to it shall seem desirable, and a sufficient number of specially qualified employees of said school shall be assigned to assist said committee properly to make such further inquiry and at the expense of said school.

SEC. 27. The parent, guardian, or other person charged with the support of such boy shall agree to pay the expenses thereof at the said school to the extent fixed by the said board unless upon investigation said committee shall be of the opinion and shall so declare that such parent, guardian, or other.

AMENDMENT NUMBER NINETEEN.

On page 7, omit all of lines 4 to 40, inclusive, and insert in lieu thereof:

SEC. 28. The said committee on eligibility may permit any such boy to present himself for admission to said school, or said committee may designate an officer of said school or any other person to accompany said boy to said school. The actual necessary traveling expenses of said boy and of such person so incurred in all such cases shall be a charge against the county in which said boy resides and upon presentation of a certificate of the said superintendent that the said boy has been received at the said school shall be paid in the same manner as other claims against the said county are paid.

SEC. 29. For each boy admitted to such school there shall be paid monthly by the county from which he is admitted to the state treasurer for the general fund of the state, a sum of money equal to the amount of money due to the state by the county for each boy committed by the court to the Whittier State School or the Preston School of Industry, for and during each month or part of month such boy so admitted remains a pupil of the school, in case the payments herein provided to be made by the parent, guardian, or other person charged with the support of any such boy should not be made, and to the extent they are not made, provided such sum of money shall not exceed the amount of money above referred to.

SEC. 30. Each county auditor must include in his state settlement report, rendered to the controller in the months of May and December, the amount due under this act, by reason of admissions to such school, and the county treasurer, at the time of the settlement with the state in such months, must pay to the state treasurer, upon the order of the controller, the amounts found to be due by reason of the admissions herein referred to.

SEC. 31. The said superintendent or the said board of trustees or the said committee on eligibility may dismiss, and the said superintendent may grant a temporary leave of absence to any boy in said school at any time.

SEC. 32. There shall be maintained at the Abraham Lincoln School a bureau of juvenile research and all the provisions of an act authorizing the board of trustees of the Whittier State School to maintain a department for the clinical diagnosis of the inmates of the school and other state institutions and to inquire into the causes and consequences of delinquency and mental deficiency and related problems; approved May 11, 1917, shall apply to said bureau.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWENTY.

On page 7, line 48, omit the word "the", before the word "contingent", and insert in lieu thereof "a".

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWENTY-ONE.

On page 8, line 20, omit the word "child", and insert in lieu thereof the word "boy".

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWENTY-TWO.

On page 8, line 24, omit the period, and insert "approved June 3, 1915."

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWENTY-THREE.

On page 8, omit all of lines 46 to 52, inclusive, and on page 9 omit all of lines 1 to 52, inclusive, and insert in lieu thereof:

SEC. 41. As soon as a new site has been secured for the said Whittier State School, the trustees of the Whittier State School, together with the governor of the state and the state superintendent of public instruction ex officio, shall also become the trustees of the Abraham Lincoln School.

On request of the said trustees of the Abraham Lincoln School, the said superintendent and the said department of education of the state university shall, as soon as possible, name the third member of the committee on eligibility and said committee as soon as named shall proceed to pass on the qualifications for admission to the Abraham Lincoln School of boys then under commitment to the Whittier State School.

After a transfer has been made to the new site of boys committed to the said Whittier State School, the governor may, and on request of the trustees of the Abraham Lincoln School or state board of control, shall appoint a new board of trustees for the Whittier State School. The said board shall proceed to organize without delay and to assume charge of and become responsible as trustees for the Whittier State School. The trustees of the Abraham Lincoln School shall thereupon cease to hold office as trustees of the Whittier State School. They shall cause to be delivered to the new board of trustees of the Whittier State School such books of accounts and records as may be specified by the state board of control, and the Abraham Lincoln School may render such reasonable assistance to the Whittier State School in completing the transfer to and in becoming established at the new location as may be approved by the said state board. When a transfer of Whittier State School boys has been made to the new site the said Abraham Lincoln School shall then occupy the same premises as have been occupied heretofore by the Whittier State School and all of said premises and the buildings, equipment and property of every kind and description belonging to or used in connection with said premises, with such exceptions as may be approved by the state board of control, shall become the property of the Abraham Lincoln School. The expense of maintaining and operating said Abraham Lincoln School shall be met by special appropriations of the state legislature in the same manner as is now done in the case of the Whittier State School; provided, however, that any unexpended balances in Whittier State School funds, may be expended for the benefit of either the Whittier State School or the Abraham Lincoln School, and the controller of the state is hereby directed on requisitions duly audited by the state board of control to draw his warrant on the state treasurer in favor of the board of trustees of either of said schools, in accordance with such requisitions, for any of said moneys for the use of either said schools, and said treasurer is directed to pay the same from said funds.

SEC. 42. The invalidity of any part of this act shall not be construed to affect the validity of any other part capable of having practical operation and effect without the invalid part.

Amendments adopted.

Bill read second time, ordered to reprint, engrossment, and third reading.

Assembly Bill No. 26—An act providing for co-operation by the State with counties and with cities in the construction of highways, and making an appropriation therefor.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENT.

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

An act providing for co-operation by the state with counties and with cities in the construction of highways; providing for the issuance and sale of state bonds to create a fund for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of the act; creating a sinking fund for the payment of said bonds; and providing for the submission of this act to a vote of the people.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. In emulation of the example of the United States congress in behalf of good roads, co-operation with the several counties and incorporated cities in the building of paved roads within the respective boundaries thereof is hereby declared to be the policy of the State of California.

SEC. 2. Two funds are hereby established in the state treasury to be known respectively as the "county and city roads aid fund," and the "county and city roads aid permanent fund." The county and city roads aid permanent fund shall consist of all moneys received from the sale of bonds issued under the provisions of this act and all moneys appropriated by the legislature from time to time to carry out the purposes of this act. The county and city roads aid fund shall consist of such moneys as are transferred from time to time from the county and city roads aid permanent fund, and such moneys as may be made available by any county or incorporated city under authority of this act.

SEC. 3. Whenever, for the purpose of securing state aid under the provisions hereof, any county or incorporated city deposits with the state treasurer money for the paving of a road or roads within the boundaries of the county or city, said moneys shall be paid into the county and city roads aid fund, and a like sum in aid of such project shall be transferred to said fund by the state controller and the state treasurer from the county and city roads aid permanent fund; provided, that not more than two hundred fifty thousand dollars shall be apportioned by the state to any county or city in any one calendar year.

SEC. 4. Each road herein provided for shall be surveyed and constructed by and shall be under the sole direction of the state engineering department which shall make all contracts therefor, and upon completion shall become a part of the state highway system and shall be maintained thereafter by the state; provided, however, that in the case of aid to a county, the selection of the road or roads to be paved and the general route thereof shall be determined by the people or the board of supervisors of the county, and provided, further, that a city shall be aided to construct or pave such a road only as connects with or is a continuation of a county paved road or state highway. In each case the work shall be commenced as soon as practicable and shall be prosecuted with diligence to its completion.

SEC. 5. For the purpose of co-operating with counties and cities in the construction of highways in accordance with the provisions of this act, the State of California is hereby authorized to incur an indebtedness in the manner provided for by this act in the sum of ten million dollars.

Immediately after the issuance of the proclamation of the governor as provided in section fifteen of this act, the treasurer of the State of California shall prepare ten thousand suitable bonds of the State of California in the denomination of one thousand dollars each, to be numbered from one to ten thousand inclusive and to bear date of the third day of July, one thousand nine hundred twenty-one. The total issue of said bonds shall not exceed the sum of ten million dollars. They shall bear interest at the rate of four per cent per annum from the date of issuance thereof. The said bonds and the interest thereon shall be payable in gold coin of the United States of the present standard of value at the office of the treasurer of said state at the times and in the manner following: The first two hundred fifty of said bonds shall be due and payable on the third day of July, one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven, and two hundred and fifty of said bonds in consecutive numerical order shall be due and payable on the third day of July in each and every year thereafter until and including the third day of July, one thousand nine hundred sixty-six. The interest accruing on all of said bonds that shall be sold shall be payable at the office of the treasurer of the state on the third day of January and the third day of July of each and every year after the sale of the same. The interest of the bonds issued and sold shall cease on the day of their maturity, and the said bonds so issued and sold shall on the day of their maturity be paid as herein provided and cancelled by the treasurer of said state. All bonds remaining unsold shall at the date of the maturity thereof, be, by the treasurer of the state, cancelled and destroyed. All bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of this act shall be signed by the governor of this state, countersigned by the state controller and endorsed by the state treasurer, and the said bonds shall be so signed, countersigned and endorsed by the officials who are in office on the third day of July, one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven, and each of said bonds shall have the great seal of the State of California impressed thereon. The said bonds signed, countersigned, endorsed and sealed as herein provided, when sold, shall be and constitute a valid and binding obligation upon the State of California, though the sale thereof be made at a date or dates after the person so signing, countersigning and endorsing them or either of them shall have ceased to be the incumbents of said office or offices.

SEC. 6. Appended to each of said bonds there shall be interest coupons so attached that the same may be detached without injury or mutilation of said bond. The said coupons shall be consecutively numbered and shall bear the lithographed signature of the state treasurer who shall be in office on the third day of July, one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven. No interest shall be paid on any of said bonds after such time as may intervene between the date of said bond and the day of sale thereof unless such accrued interest shall have been by the purchaser of said bond paid to the state at the time of such sale.

SEC. 7. There shall be provided in the general appropriation bill sufficient money to defray all expenses that shall be incurred by the state treasurer in the preparation of said bonds and of the advertising of the sale thereof as in this act provided.

SEC. 8. When the bonds authorized by this act to be issued shall have been signed, countersigned, endorsed and sealed as in section five of this act provided, the state treasurer shall sell the same in such parcels and numbers as the governor of the state shall direct to the highest bidder for cash. Said bonds shall be sold in consecutive numerical order, commencing with the first two hundred fifty thereof. The state treasurer shall not accept any bid which is less than the par value of the bond plus the interest which has accrued thereon between the date of the sale and the last preceding interest maturity date. The state treasurer may at the time and place fixed by him for such sale continue such sale as to the whole or any part of the bonds offered to such time and place as he may, at the time of such continuance, designate. Before offering any of said bonds for sale the state treasurer shall detach therefrom all coupons which have matured or will mature before the date fixed for such sale. The state treasurer shall give notice of the time and place of sale by publication in two newspapers published in the city and county of San Francisco and in one paper published in the city of Oakland and in one paper published in the city of Los Angeles, and in one paper published in the city of Sacramento once a week for four weeks next preceding the date fixed for such sale. In addition to the notice last above provided for such treasurer may give such further notice as he may deem advisable, but the expense and cost of such additional notice shall not exceed the sum of five hundred dollars for each sale so advertised. Immediately upon the sale of any of said bonds the state treasurer shall pay into the state treasury and cause to be placed in the "County and City Roads Aid Permanent Fund" by this act created, the total amount received from said bonds, except such sum as may have been paid as accrued interest thereon. The amount that shall have been paid at such sale as accrued interest on the bonds sold shall be, by the treasurer, paid into the treasury of the state and placed in the interest and sinking fund. The moneys placed in the county and city roads aid permanent fund pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be used exclusively for the purposes specified in this act. Moneys shall be drawn from said fund for the purposes of this act upon warrants duly drawn by the controller of the state upon demands made by the state engineering department and audited by the state board of control.

SEC. 9. There is hereby appropriated from the general fund in the state treasury such sum annually as will be necessary to pay the principal of and the interest on the bonds issued and sold pursuant to the provisions of this act as such principal and interest become due and payable.

There shall be collected annually in the same manner and at the same time as other state revenue is collected such a sum in addition to the ordinary revenues of the state as shall be required to pay the principal and interest on such bonds as herem provided, and it is hereby made the duty of all officers charged by law with any duty in regard to the collection of such revenue to do and perform each and every act which shall be necessary to collect such additional sum.

The treasurer of the state shall, on the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred twenty-eight, and on the first day of July and the first day of January thereafter, transfer from the general fund of the state treasury to the interest and sinking fund such an amount of money by this act appropriated as shall be required to pay the interest on the bonds theretofore sold until the interest on all of said bonds so sold shall have been paid or shall have become due in accordance with the provisions of this act.

There is hereby created in the state treasury a fund to be known and designated as the "county and city roads aid sinking fund." The treasurer of the state shall, on the first day of July of the year one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven, and on the first day of July of each and every year thereafter in which a parcel of the bonds sold pursuant to the provisions of this act shall become due, transfer from the general fund of the state treasury to the said county and city roads aid sinking fund such an amount of the moneys appropriated by this act as may be required to pay the principal of the bonds so becoming due and payable in such years.

SEC. 10. The principal of all of said bonds sold shall be paid at the time the same becomes due from the county and city roads aid sinking fund, and the interest on all bonds sold shall be paid at the time said interest becomes due from the interest and sinking fund. Both principal and interest shall be so paid upon warrants duly drawn by the controller of the state upon demands audited by the state board of control and the faith of the State of California is hereby pledged for the payment of the principal of said bonds so sold and the interest accruing thereon.

SEC. 11. The state controller and state treasurer shall keep full and particular account and record of all their proceedings under this act and they shall transmit to the governor in triplicate an abstract of all such proceedings thereunder with an annual report in triplicate, one copy of which shall be by the governor laid before each house of the legislature biennially. All books and papers pertaining to the matter provided for in this act shall at all times be open to the inspection of any party interested or the governor or the attorney general or a committee of either branch of the legislature or a general committee of both or any citizen of the state.

SEC. 12. All highways constructed or acquired under the provisions of this act shall be permanent in character and be finished with oil or macadam or a combination of both or of such other material as in the judgment of the state engineering department shall be most suitable and best adapted to the particular locality traversed.

SEC. 13. This act if adopted by the people shall take effect on the thirty-first day of December, one thousand nine hundred twenty, as to all its provisions except those relating to and necessary for its submission to the people and for returning, canvassing and proclaiming votes and as to such excepted provisions this act shall take effect ninety days from and after the final adjournment of the legislature.

SEC. 14. This act shall be submitted to the people of the State of California for their ratification at the next general election to be holden in the month of November, A. D. one thousand nine hundred twenty, and all ballots at said election shall have printed thereon and at the end thereof the words "For the county and city roads aid fund act" and in a separate line under the said words, "Against the county and city roads aid fund act." Opposite said lines there shall be left spaces in which the voters may make or stamp a cross to indicate whether they have voted for or against said act, and those voting for said act shall do so by placing a cross opposite the words "For the county and city roads aid fund act" and all those voting against said act shall do so by placing a cross opposite the words, "Against the county and city roads aid fund act." The governor of this state shall include the submission of this act to the people as aforesaid in his proclamation calling for said general election.

SEC. 15. The votes cast for and against this act shall be counted, returned and canvassed and declared in the same manner and subject to the same rules as votes cast for state officers, and if it appears that said act shall have received a majority of all the votes cast for and against it at such election as aforesaid, then the same shall take effect as hereinbefore provided and shall be irrevocable until the principal and interest and the liabilities herein created shall be paid and discharged and the governor shall make proclamation thereof. But if the majority of the votes cast as aforesaid are against this act, then the same shall be and become void.

SEC. 16. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to have this act published in at least one newspaper in each county or city and county, if one be published therein, throughout this state for three months next preceding the general election to be holden in the month of November, A. D. nineteen hundred twenty; the cost of publication shall be paid out of the general fund on controller's warrants duly drawn for the purpose.

SEC. 17. This act shall be known and cited as the "County and City Roads Aid Fund Act."

SEC. 18. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

Amendment adopted.

Bill read second time, ordered to reprint, engrossment, and third reading.

Assembly Bill No. 1058—An act to amend section 3 of an act entitled "An act to cede certain property to the town of Crescent City," approved May 26, 1868, as amended, and to repeal all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith

CONSIDERATION OF ASSEMBLY BILL NUMBER THREE HUNDRED FORTY-SIX— (RESUMED).

Assembly Bill No. 346—An act to amend section 4290 of the Political Code, relating to the fees and salaries of county officers

MOTION TO REFER TO SELECT COMMITTEE OF ONE.

During third reading of the bill, Mr. Merriam moved that the Speaker appoint a Select Committee of One to amend the bill as follows:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE

On page 2 of the printed, amended bill, in line 38, after the semicolon following the word "meal", strike out the remainder of the line and also lines 39 to 49, inclusive, and all of line 50 preceding the word "for", and insert in lieu thereof the following.

provided, further, that the sheriff shall be entitled to receive and retain for his own use, five dollars per diem for conveying prisoners to and from the state prisons, and for conveying persons to and from the insane asylums, or other state institutions, not otherwise provided for by law, also, all expenses necessarily incurred in conveying insane persons to and from the insane asylums and in conveying persons to and from the state prisons, or other state institutions, which per diem and expenses shall be allowed by the board of examiners and collected from the state; provided, further, that whenever any county has adopted a county charter under article eleven, section seven and one-half of the constitution of the State of California, providing for the payment of all fees collected by any county officer, board or commission into the county treasury, the provisions of this section relating to the transportation of prisoners and insane or other persons to state institutions shall have no application, but in such counties the board of supervisors shall authorize the treasurer to set aside out of the general county fund a special fund of not more than one thousand dollars to be known as the "sheriff's transportation fund", which shall be used and administered only in the manner hereinafter provided and which shall be replenished from time to time as necessity requires upon the demand of the county treasurer who shall prepare claims against the county for the purpose of reimbursing said fund for expenditures made therefrom. Such reimbursement claims shall be presented and allowed in the same manner as other county claims

The amount actually necessary to be expended by the sheriff in the transportation of prisoners and insane or other persons, required by law to be transported to or from state institutions by the sheriff, shall be advanced to him out of such sheriff's transportation fund upon a proper requisition therefor to be made separately for each person transported, and signed by the sheriff; and upon receipt of such money all the right or claim of the sheriff against the State of California for the transportation of such persons shall be by virtue of this act automatically assigned and set over to the county, and thereafter the sheriff shall make no claim or demand against the state for such transportation but the state shall pay the expenses of such transportation directly to the county in the following manner, to wit:

On the first day of each month the sheriff shall file with the county auditor an itemized statement showing in detail the amount of money received from the sheriff's transportation fund during the preceding month and the names of the persons for whose transportation it was received, together with a detailed statement showing for what purposes said items were expended, and accompanied by a proper voucher in such form as may be required by the board of supervisors for each item of expenditure. A duplicate copy of said statement shall be filed with the board of supervisors. The board of supervisors shall thereupon file with the state board of control the claim of the county for such amount as has been necessarily expended by the sheriff in the transportation of persons to or from state institutions, together with an itemized statement thereof and proper vouchers therefor, and the state shall pay to the county the amount so expended. All money received by the county from the state under this provision shall be placed in the general fund of the county; provided, further, that if it shall appear from the monthly statement of the sheriff as hereinabove provided that more money has been advanced to the sheriff out of said sheriff's transportation fund than has been actually expended by him, the sheriff shall forthwith repay to the county the amount which he has received over and above the amount actually expended as shown by said statement and vouchers, and such money shall be replaced in said fund; but if the sheriff shall have expended in the transportation of such persons more than has been advanced to him out of said fund and it shall appear from said statement and accompanying vouchers that said additional amount was actually necessary to be expended by the sheriff in the carrying out of his official duties and was not incurred by reason of inadvertence, carelessness or neglect on the part of the sheriff or his deputy, then said additional amount shall be repaid to the sheriff by the county upon demand to be audited and allowed by the board of supervisors in the manner prescribed by law for other demands against the county.

MOTION.

Mr. Baker moved that the proposed amendments be printed in the Journal, that the bill retain its place on the file, and action deferred until the next legislative day.

Motion carried.

THIRD READING OF ASSEMBLY BILLS

Assembly Bill No. 346—An act to amend section 4290 of the Political Code, relating to the fees and salaries of county officers.

MOTION TO REFER TO SELECT COMMITTEE OF ONE.

During third reading of the bill, Mr. Merriam moved that the Speaker appoint a Select Committee of One to amend the bill as follows:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

On page 2 of the printed, amended bill, in line 38, after the semicolon following the word "meal", strike out the remainder of the line and also lines 39 to 49, inclusive, and all of line 50 preceding the word "for", and insert in lieu thereof the following provided further, that the sheriff shall be entitled to receive and retain for his own use, five dollars per diem for conveying prisoners to and from the state prisons, and for conveying persons to and from the insane asylums, or other state institutions, not otherwise provided for by law; also, all expenses necessarily incurred in conveying insane persons to and from the insane asylums and in conveying persons to and from the state prisons, or other state institutions, which per diem and expenses shall be allowed by the board of examiners and collected from the state provided, further, that whenever any county has adopted a county charter under article eleven, section seven and one-half of the constitution of the State of California, providing for the payment of all fees collected by any county officer, board or commission into the county treasury, the provisions of this section relating to the transportation of prisoners and insane or other persons to state institutions shall have no application, but in such counties the board of supervisors shall authorize the treasurer to set aside out of the general county fund a special fund of not more than one thousand dollars to be known as the "sheriff's transportation fund", which shall be used and administered only in the manner hereinafter provided and which shall be replenished from time to time as necessity requires upon the demand of the county treasurer who shall prepare claims against the county for the purpose of reimbursing said fund for expenditures made therefrom. Such reimbursement claims shall be presented and allowed in the same manner as other county claims.

The amount actually necessary to be expended by the sheriff in the transportation of prisoners and insane or other persons, required by law to be transported to or from state institutions by the sheriff, shall be advanced to him out of such sheriff's transportation fund upon a proper requisition therefor to be made separately for each person transported, and signed by the sheriff, and upon receipt of such money all the right or claim of the sheriff against the State of California for the transportation of such persons shall be by virtue of this act automatically assigned and set over to the county, and thereafter the sheriff shall make no claim or demand against the state for such transportation but the state shall pay the expenses of such transportation directly to the county in the following manner, to wit:

On the first day of each month the sheriff shall file with the county auditor an itemized statement showing in detail the amount of money received from the sheriff's transportation fund during the preceding month and the names of the persons for whose transportation it was received, together with a detailed statement showing for what purposes said items were expended and accompanied by a proper voucher in such form as may be required by the board of supervisors for each item of expenditure. A duplicate copy of said statement shall be filed with the board of supervisors. The board of supervisors shall thereupon file with the state board of control the claim of the county for such amount as has been necessarily expended by the sheriff in the transportation of persons to or from state institutions, together with an itemized statement thereof and proper vouchers therefor, and the state shall pay to the county the amount so expended. All money received by the county from the state under this provision shall be placed in the general fund of the county, provided, further, that if it shall appear from the monthly statement of the sheriff as hereinabove provided that more money has been advanced to the sheriff out of said sheriff's transportation fund than has been actually expended by him, the sheriff shall forthwith repay to the county the amount which he has received over and above the amount actually expended as shown by said statement and vouchers, and such money shall be replaced in said fund; but if the sheriff shall have expended in the transportation of such persons more than has been advanced to him out of said fund and it shall appear from said statement and accompanying vouchers that said additional amount was actually necessary to be expended by the sheriff in the carrying out of his official duties and was not incurred by reason of inadvertence, carelessness or neglect on the part of the sheriff or his deputy, then said additional amount shall be repaid to the sheriff by the county upon demand to be audited and allowed by the board of supervisors in the manner prescribed by law for other demands against the county.

Motion carried.

The Speaker appointed Mr. Merriam as such Select Committee.

REPORT OF SELECT COMMITTEE OF ONE.

The following report of Select Committee of One was received and read:

MR. SPEAKER Your Select Committee of One, to which was referred Assembly Bill No. 346, with instructions, reports that the instructions of the Assembly have been carried out.

By Mr. Argabrite:

VENTURA, CALIFORNIA, April 7, 1919.

*Hon. J. M. Argabrite, Assemblyman,
State Capitol, Sacramento, California.*

We seriously object to appropriation of eight hundred thousand dollars, or any sum, of the people's money for proposed Bailey-Lancaster road through Mojave Desert, and sincerely urge you to use all your legislative influence to have this sum transferred to the Kern River road, via Bakersfield to Coast Highway, preferably at Ventura; but in any event somewhere on coast. In that way the people's money will be of benefit to the people.

VENTURA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE,
By E. W. CARNE, President.

AMENDMENT NUMBER THREE.

On page 2 of the printed bill, after the period following the word "provided", in line 6 add a new section to be known as section 2, as follows:

SEC 2 Section two thousand two hundred eighty-six of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

2286. The state board of control is authorized, in behalf of the state, at any time to inquire either in person or by authorized agent, into the management of any such institution or county, city and county city or town; and any institution or county, city and county, city or town refusing, upon due demand, to permit such inquiry or to comply with regulations established by said board for the proper maintenance and care of children receiving state aid must not thereafter receive any aid under this chapter until it has complied with all requirements. To carry out the provision of this act, the state board of control may appoint a chief children's agent and such other agents as may be needed who shall, under the rules of said board, visit the homes and the institutions in which are children to whom state aid is being given or for whom aid is being asked, to obtain such information as the board may need in carrying out the provisions of this chapter. Such chief agent shall receive necessary traveling expenses and a salary of two hundred twenty-five dollars per month. Such other agents shall receive their necessary traveling expenses and a salary to be fixed by the board of control, which salary shall be paid in the same manner and at the same time as the salaries of other state officers. All expenses incurred in visiting said asylums and homes, when there are not other available funds may be audited and allowed by the state board of control out of the appropriation for support of orphans, half-orphans and abandoned children. The board of control may also pay out of these funds the expense of transporting children for whom proper homes are offered outside the state; provided, that the county from which the children are removed shall pay one-half of the total expense necessarily incurred by the state. In addition an advisory committee of three persons serving without pay or expense to the state may be appointed by the board of control, to act in any county in conjunction with the children's agents.

AMENDMENT NUMBER FOUR.

SEC 3 Section two thousand two hundred eighty-nine of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

2289. In order that the provisions of this chapter shall not be abused, it is hereby declared:

1. That no institution which has less than twenty inmates of either or all of the classes mentioned in section two thousand two hundred eighty-three, must be deemed an institution for the support and maintenance of minor orphans, half-orphans, or abandoned children, within the intent and meaning of this chapter.

2. That no child over the age of fifteen years shall be deemed a minor orphan, half-orphan or abandoned child, within the intent and meaning of this chapter.

3. That no child for whose specific support there is paid to any such institution the sum of twenty dollars or more per month shall be a minor orphan, half-orphan, or abandoned child within the intent and meaning of this chapter.

4. That no child maintained in an institution for whom a bona fide offer of a proper home has been made shall be considered eligible for further state aid; it is further provided, however, that no institution shall be required to surrender a child to any person of religious faith different from that of the child or the parents of the child.

That a child who has not resided in this state for a period of at least two years prior to the application for aid shall not be eligible to receive state aid unless such child is born in this state.

repealing sections one, two, and three of an act entitled "An act to establish a branch state normal school," approved March 14, 1881, abolishing the branch of the state normal school at Los Angeles, transferring its properties to the regents of the University of California, providing for the establishment of a branch of the University of California at Los Angeles continuing regular normal school training courses and providing an appropriation for the support and maintenance thereof

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

Strike out all of sections 1 to 6, inclusive, and insert in lieu thereof the following

SECTION 1. Sections one, two, and three of an act entitled, "An act to establish a branch state normal school," approved March 14, 1881, and acts amendatory thereto are hereby repealed and the existence of the branch state normal school at Los Angeles, hereinafter referred to as the Los Angeles State Normal School, is hereby terminated, to be effective upon the taking effect of this act

SEC 2 All properties of the Los Angeles State Normal School including all moneys heretofore appropriated and unexpended, or which may hereafter be appropriated and remain unexpended, are hereby transferred to and vested in the regents of the University of California, subject to the conditions specified in section six of this act.

The regents of the University of California shall be subject to no debts or liabilities which may heretofore have accrued or which may hereafter accrue against the said Los Angeles State Normal School beyond the amount of said unexpended appropriations

SEC 3 In the place and stead and on the site of the Los Angeles State Normal School the regents of the University of California shall, during the year commencing July 1, 1919, and thereafter, maintain and conduct at Los Angeles a branch of the University of California under such designation as shall be fixed by the regents for the purpose of providing, and at which the regents shall provide such freshman and sophomore courses of university grade as they may from time to time deem proper; and at which there shall also be given courses designed to prepare students for the profession of public instruction in the kindergartens, elementary and intermediate schools of the State of California. Persons worthily completing said last-named courses, if said courses comply with the minimum requirements fixed by the state board of education of California, shall receive credentials to that effect, which said credentials shall entitle the holders thereof to equal rights and privileges with the holders of diplomas of graduation from the normal schools in securing certificates to teach in the schools of this state

Courses leading to special high school certificates shall also be given and when such courses are duly accredited by the state board of education persons worthily completing the same shall receive credentials therefor from the regents which shall be of equal value in securing special certificates to teach in the secondary schools of this state with credentials given for the completion of such general courses in any of the normal schools.

SEC. 4 The board of trustees of the Los Angeles State Normal School are hereby authorized and directed to take such measures as shall be directed or approved by the regents of the University of California for the accomplishment of the purposes of this act

SEC 5. There is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the regents of the University of California, the sum of four hundred eighty thousand dollars for the conduct and maintenance of the said institution during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1919, and the fiscal year next succeeding; provided, the regents of the University of California shall be empowered to limit the total enrollment of students in said branch of the university during the said fiscal years in order that the financial provisions of this act may be sufficient to supply the usual university grade of education.

SEC. 6. Upon the failure to maintain the courses and give the instruction as provided in section three of this act, the properties granted by section two of this act shall immediately revert to the State of California and the control of the same by the regents of the state university shall close

The following communication was presented by the Speaker and ordered printed in the Journal:

SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, April 11, 1919.

The Chaplain of the Senate presents his compliments, and extends a cordial invitation to the Governor, Lieutenant Governor and Officers of State; to the honorable members of the Senate and of the Assembly: to all attaches of both the Senate and Assembly; and to all their friends to attend a service of worship in the First Baptist Church, Ninth Street, between L and M, on Sunday evening, April 13, 1919, at 7 30 o'clock.

The subject of the sermon will be "Democracy Casting Out the Seven Devils of the World."

S FRASER LANGFORD,
Chaplain of the Senate of California.

MOTION

Mr. Eksward moved that Standing Rule No 71 be suspended for the afternoon of the day.

Motion carried.

THIRD READING OF ASSEMBLY BILLS—(RESUMED).

CONSIDERATION OF ASSEMBLY BILL NUMBER THREE HUNDRED THIRTEEN— (RESUMED).

Assembly Bill No. 313—An act making appropriations for the support of the government of the State of California for the seventy-first and seventy-second fiscal years

MOTION TO REFER TO SELECT COMMITTEE OF ONE.

During third reading of the bill, Mr. Greene moved that the Speaker appoint a Select Committee of One to amend the bill as follows:

Bill ordered transmitted to the Senate.

EXPLANATION OF VOTES.

The following explanations of votes were received and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Mr. White:

MR. SPEAKER: In voting for Assembly Bill No. 313, known as General Appropriation Bill for the Seventy-first and Seventy-second Fiscal Years, I wish to state that I do not believe that anything would be gained by crippling the existing agencies which are now administering the State's affairs through various boards, commissions, and bureaus, by refusing to support by cutting off arbitrarily their maintenance and other costs.

The remedy can only be found in an entire reconstruction or reorganization of the State government upon an efficient, economical and business-like basis along the lines of Assembly Bill No. 1089, introduced by Mr. Carter and myself, which embodies the plan suggested by the Tax Payers Association of California, or along some other line that will enable the State government to function logically, efficiently, economically and responsibly.

JOHN ROBERT WHITE, JR.

By Mr. Kasch:

I have voted in favor of Assembly Bill No. 313. Part of the appropriations contained therein are wholly unsatisfactory to me, and, if there was an opportunity to vote on the separate items, many of them would not receive my approval. I do not want my vote in favor of this bill to be construed as approval of the entire bill, but since the bill must stand or fall as a whole, I must vote favorably upon it.

CHARLES KASCH

By Mr. Browne, M. B.:

I am forced to vote against this bill, owing to the excessive salaries paid to some of the commissioners and clerks. It is now too late to remedy the excessive salaries by amendment to this bill, and for the further reason that no effort has been made to carry out the efficiency and economy program, which I favor in the interest of the taxpayers of California.

M. B. BROWNE

THIRD READING OF ASSEMBLY BILLS—(RESUMED)

KNIGHT, Chairman.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The following report of the Special Committee appointed under authority of Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 10 was received, and ordered printed in the Journal:

SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, April 10, 1919.

To the Members of the Senate and Assembly.

The Legislative Committee named to investigate the cost of milk, bread and eggs in California composed of three members of the Senate and three members of the Assembly, begs to submit the following report:

SLATER, Chairman.

REPORT OF LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE OF CALIFORNIA ON HIGH PRICES OF BREAD, MILK AND EGGS.

To the Legislature of the State of California

On the fourth day of March, 1919, the Legislature adopted Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 10, as follows:

ASSEMBLY CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 10

Relative to investigation by the legislature of the price of certain food commodities. (Introduced by Mr. Prendergast)

WHEREAS, The price of bread, milk and eggs was greatly increased owing to conditions incident to the war in which the United States has been engaged; and

WHEREAS, The prices of the necessities of life are a matter of great and vital interest to all of the people in the State of California, and

WHEREAS, Notwithstanding that announcements have been made from time to time that as much as the conditions which justified the prices that have been exacted from the people for these great necessities now no longer exist, and that a reduction in price might reasonably be expected, no such reduction has occurred, therefore be it

Resolved by the assembly and senate concurring. That the speaker of the assembly shall appoint three members, and the president of the senate shall appoint three members, who shall act as a committee of the legislature to investigate the reasons for the continuation of the excessive price exacted of the consumer for bread, milk, eggs and similar food products, and also to investigate the relative cost of the commodities that enter into the production, manufacture, sale and disposition of bread, milk, eggs and like products, and all matters relating thereto, and to report their findings in full to the present session of the legislature not later than twenty-five days after the passage of this resolution; and be it further

Resolved. That the committee shall have power to issue subpoenas, compel the attendance of witnesses, the production of books, papers, and records, to administer oaths, take testimony and institute proceedings for contempt, to call upon and require from any officer or department of this state any information in their possession and to employ such assistants as it may deem necessary, and that the expenses incurred in such investigation not exceeding the sum of one thousand two hundred fifty dollars shall be paid equally by the assembly and senate out of their contingent funds.

The undersigned were thereupon appointed as such committee and proceeded at once to examine witnesses and gather data. Witnesses from all parts of California, representing all interests and classes, presented their views. Data was furnished by the food administration, by the University of California and by the federal government. As a result, your committee finds as follows:

Bread—The price of bread to the consumer before the war was at the rate of 5 cents for a one-pound loaf. It is now 10 cents in the greater part of California. The cost of ingredients and labor has increased in practically the same proportion and has not yet perceptibly decreased.

Milk—The price of milk to the consumer before the war was from 8 cents to 10 cents per quart. It is now 14 cents per quart in the greater part of California. The cost of feed and labor and of milk production generally has increased at a slightly greater ratio than the price of milk and has not yet perceptibly decreased.

Eggs—The price of eggs to the consumer has increased about 75 per cent as against prewar prices. The cost of feed and labor has increased in practically the same proportion and has not yet perceptibly decreased.

GENERAL CAUSES OF INCREASE.

It is true to say that war conditions caused these increased prices. It is generally known that prices of practically all other articles increased in like proportion. The underlying causes of increased prices are higher costs of raw material and labor. No new elements other than war conditions adding to costs have been introduced. Combinations on the part of producer and distributor existing now in most cases existed before the war. What effect they have now on prices, they had in like degree then.

The prices of all three commodities have always been and are now largely fixed by world conditions. The prices paid in Chicago and New York for flour, eggs and cheese are a barometer of prices in California for bread, eggs and milk.

COMBINATIONS.

Your committee finds that the egg and milk producers have each formed organizations for the purpose of eliminating waste and stabilizing and maintaining prices. An organization of milk producers in the bay cities deals direct with an organization of milk distributors. There was much conflicting evidence as to the resulting effect on the price of milk to the consumer. While the possibilities of such a condition are dangerous, the evidence does not show that prices to the consumer have so far been materially affected by it. We base this finding on the fact that prices of milk in the bay cities do not vary greatly from those throughout California, and that the average California prices do not vary materially from those throughout the United States. (See tables C, E, G and H in the Appendix.)

HIGH COST OF DISTRIBUTION.

The cost of distribution of all three commodities is excessive and, in the case of milk, is about one-half of the price paid by the consumer. This is mainly due to the duplication and reduplication of deliveries and to other causes referred to later on in this report, where also a remedy is suggested.

VARYING BREAD PRICES

While bread in San Francisco and in the greater part of California sells at the rate of 10 cents for a pound loaf, the price in Los Angeles is at the rate of 7½ cents for a pound loaf. The testimony is that the bakers in Los Angeles are making some money, though, they claim, not enough. Many new bakeries have started there in the last few years and none have failed or gone out of business in the last year. Apparently, in San Francisco and other points, the baker is making too much. It was shown that bread can be baked at home including the cost of fuel, for 6½ cents per pound loaf. (See tables A, D and I in Appendix.)

SUGGESTIONS TO THE HOUSEWIFE.

It can not be too strongly recommended to housewives that, in so far as possible, they adopt the "cash and carry" plan; that they do not order small deliveries out of the usual time; that they promptly return all milk bottles and do not thoughtlessly use them for other purposes, and that food bills be promptly paid. According to evidence, a general compliance with these suggestions and with the regulations of the local and State authorities would result in better service and in reduced prices.

GENERAL DISCUSSION.

The above findings, which have been put in condensed form at the opening of this report for the convenience of the general reader, we will now enlarge upon and supplement for the benefit of those who wish a more detailed and philosophic discussion of the subject.

Your committee's investigation has been made at the most critical period of the world's history and at the moment when prices of foodstuffs are unstabilized and uncertain, due largely to the removal of federal control, and due to chaotic world conditions which reflect themselves very intimately in the cost of all foodstuffs. At this moment a proper economic distribution of foodstuffs is most vital and upon its proper solution depends a lasting world peace and the adjustment of after-the-war problems of our own government. Therefore, your committee has approached its report with a full understanding of the responsibility placed on them for a constructive and frank statement of all the facts.

The cost of living has rapidly advanced through recent years and particularly during the period of the past three years. Between January, 1916, and January, 1919, the cost of necessary foods, clothing and rent to families of moderate means has increased not less than 40 per cent. In certain cases wages have kept pace with this advance, but in many cases there has been a lagging of the wages and salaries of the great mass of people, so that today the world is confronted with the problem of taking stock of its accumulated information on the subject of food production and distribution for the purpose of providing a possibility to families of moderate means for a continuation of decent living conditions and the maintenance of health.

Many attempts have been made by various governments of the world to decrease living costs without success, except in two respects. In our own country and in allied countries speculation in essential food commodities has been largely eliminated during the war under governmental control. In allied countries living costs were reduced in certain commodities by governmental subsidy. Great Britain, which imported 70 per cent of her food, was able thereby to control her own internal food problems by means of subsidy and to sell flour, for example, for $10.50 per barrel at a time when that flour cost the government not less than $12.50 per barrel, the difference being paid by the taxes of the people. (Such a system of subsidy is contrary to the principles and policies of our own country.)

Your committee desires to emphasize the fact that the problem of bread, eggs and milk and, in fact, the cost of every other food commodity, is not a local problem, but takes its color from the conditions existing in other parts of this country and abroad. For example, a proportion of the wheat used in making bread in California is brought from the Northwest, from Canada and the Middle West for mixture with wheat grown in this State. Milk may be used for consumption as whole milk, or may be canned or manufactured into butter, cheese or other milk products.

Eggs produced in California may be sold as readily on the exchange in Chicago or New York as in California. It would be a comparatively simple problem to administer the questions of distribution of food commodities in a State like California, which is more than self-supporting in most of the essential foodstuffs, were it not for the fact that the right of free and unrestricted trade between states is guaranteed by section 4 of the United States Constitution and therefore no state or local legislation can legally be enforced which would embargo the shipment of foodstuffs to other parts of this country. In brief, a complete solution of the great food problem of this country, if there be a solution, will ultimately depend upon federal supervision and control rather than upon local restrictions or state administration. The constructive steps that may be taken by the state must therefore necessarily touch on only a portion of the great problem and must point to a policy of helpfulness to producer, to those performing necessary services, as well as to the consumer, and should in no case tend to set up class war or class distinction.

Your committee does not pretend to be expert through past experience in the matter of food problems, but has endeavored to get proper information from witnesses and by a thorough inquiry reaching to many sources. We are somewhat disappointed in that many charges and statements have been made to the general public which were not substantiated on the witness stand, although many witnesses gave valuable information of a general and interesting character, one conclusion seems certain, viz. that practically all those who have had large experience in food problems as related to governmental control, as well as the evidence before the national committee on agriculture in the spring of 1917, when the Food Administration Act was considered with Mr. Hoover in relation to food price fixing, conclusively hold that government should not fix the price of food in peace time, especially perishable or near-perishable food, and whereas the war price of milk was fixed under government, by means of commissions, in many of our large Eastern cities, such price fixing was at once withdrawn when the armistice was signed. Government has a proper function of regulation and license, and doubtless has the right and duty of limitation and punishment when unjust combination is shown, but price fixing by the state or national government in peace time is economically unsound.

Your committee desires to express regret that at this time there appears to be no prospect of a continuation on the part of the State for the study of this great problem as it affects all classes of people and no machinery whereby the vast accumulation of knowledge developed during the past four years by all of the countries of the world may be made available to the people of the State. Certain agencies of the State are interested in various phases of the problem. The Department of Agriculture of the State University is charged by the State and by the federal government with the duty of increasing production and caring for the problem of the producer of foodstuffs. The State Board of Health is charged with the responsibility of policing the pure food laws of California. The Sealer of Weights and Measures gives protection against shortage in weights in foodstuffs that are of essential value. The State Market Director, aside from his specific duties relative to the marketing of fresh fish, has undertaken the supervision of certain of the organizations of producers and to assist these organizations in developing channels of distribution for their products in order to stabilize, as far as possible, the value of farm products. But there is no agency representing the State of California, viewing as a whole the problem of manufacture and distribution of foodstuffs. The State of California can not afford to leave untried any single constructive plan which may sanely aid in reducing living costs. The State of California also can not expect in a few brief days to solve problems which have confronted the entire world and for which at the present time no complete and ready solution is apparent.

In studying the three problems assigned for investigation—bread, eggs and milk—your committee has been impressed with the necessity for a wider consideration of food problems and therefore has taken the responsibility of making certain suggestions as a part of its report which bear upon other commodities as well as upon the specific questions assigned to it. Therefore, at the conclusion of the statement with regard to the present costs of bread, eggs and milk, the committee has included a series of recommendations in the hope that the State may see fit to embark upon a constructive attempt for a helpful solution of this vast and important problem.

BREAD.

The present price for bread in California appears to be 10 cents for a pound loaf of wheat bread when delivered by the baker or purchased from the retail grocer. There are certain slight variations in local communities, but the price of 10 cents per loaf received, during the war, the approval of the United States Food Administration on the basis of credit and delivery, while at the same time, the Food Administration recommended a price of 9 cents when cash was paid and the loaf carried home by the purchaser. The retailers' margin of 20 per cent on his selling price appears to be reasonable in California for a credit and delivery charge based upon the type of service demanded by the consumer. More than this amount is unjust, but a less percentage is often taken by the retailer in the sale of bread as a leader or wherever the amount of business done is such as to make possible a small margin.

There is included in the Appendix a statement of the material and labor cost entering into the wholesale production of bread. Marked advances in labor costs are a material factor in the present price of bread. The price of wheat flour is stabilized by the control of the United States government through the Food Administration. By act of Congress, dated August 10, 1917, known as the Food Control Act, Congress gave to the President power to fix the price of wheat for 1917 and Congress itself fixed the minimum price for the crop of 1918 at $2.20 per bushel for No. 1 spring northern, and Congress also gave the President power to fix the price of the 1919 crop. Through presidential proclamation the minimum price of the 1918 crop was increased to $2.26 per bushel at seaboard terminals, and the price of 1919 crop has been similarly fixed. Congress in July, 1918, passed an act to increase the minimum price of 1919 crop to $2.50 per bushel, but this bill was vetoed by the President upon the earnest solicitation of the Food Administration. Therefore, the present price of wheat is not subject to speculation. The present price of wheat flour is controlled by the United States government and represents solely the price paid to the farmer plus the government's allowance to the mill for the cost of milling and the approved allowance of profit at 25 cents per barrel. The 1919 wheat crop shows a prospective yield of one billion bushels and the normal consumption in this country will consume approximately 50 per cent of this yield. The government will undertake to market between four hundred and five hundred million bushels of the 1919 wheat crop in the markets of the world outside this country. Whether this wheat is marketed at the guaranteed price to the producer or at a less price will not affect the cost of living in the United States. Discussion is now going on in Washington with reference to the price which the government shall charge to the mills in the United States for the sale of the five hundred million bushels which will be normally consumed in this country. Many persons are advocating that the government should resell its crop at a reduction of 50 per cent and therefore at a loss of approximately five hundred million dollars to the federal treasury. Your committee desires to point out that should such a policy be adopted, we may look for a reduction in the price of bread of 2 cents per pound loaf. It appears to be generally supposed that a reduction of 50 per cent in the cost of wheat will thereby cut the cost of a loaf of bread in half and reduce the pound loaf from 10 cents to 5 cents. Since, however, the present cost of flour entering the loaf of bread is approximately 4 cents, a reduction of 50 per cent in the cost of the flour will mean a reduction from 4 cents to 2 cents, with the other elements entering into the cost of bread remaining constant.

While your committee believes that bakers and retailers should be encouraged to sell bread at as low a price as possible, it is the frank conclusion of your committee that a charge of 10 cents per pound loaf delivered by the retailer can not be judged an unreasonable charge and that the main hope for a material reduction in price must come either through governmental subsidy by which the government would lose $500,000,000 and reduce the price of a loaf of bread from 10 cents to 8 cents, or through unrestricted importation of wheat from foreign countries, but at present the main reason for sustaining the present wheat price is the act of Congress prohibiting the importation of foreign wheat in order to protect the governmental guarantee and if by no means represents a permanent level to be maintained by producers either of wheat or of other essential food commodities.

Your committee desires to point out as a matter of general interest the relative importance which the price of bread bears to other food costs. The average consumption of wheat flour in the State of California is approximately 200 pounds of flour per year per person, a trifle over one barrel of flour for each person in the State. This represents approximately 25 per cent of the total food intake of our people and is relatively as large as the total consumption of all fresh fruits and fresh vegetables.

EGGS

The level of prices for eggs paid by the consumer during the past year has been higher than any level heretofore reached. There have been certain contributing causes. First, the producer of eggs has labored under extreme difficulties, due to the fact that the main food used for chickens (wheat) was withdrawn by the government from use by the poultrymen. Second, the cost of milled by-products from wheat has been abnormally high, due to the great demand and the lack of milled by-products throughout this country and the shortage throughout the world. It might be observed that the poultry industry of California differs from the poultry industry in other parts of this country, as both on the Atlantic seaboard and in the middle west the raising of poultry is a by-product in general farming. There are no areas devoted solely to the production of poultry such as exist in California, at Petaluma, Santa Cruz, the San Fernando Valley and other localities. In these areas, poultry producers are largely dependent upon the mills for wheat and other feeds for the maintenance of their industry. In other sections of the country, poultry largely shift for themselves, on farms devoted mostly to other purposes and do not have to be maintained by purchased foodstuffs. The consequence is that California produces a quality of eggs of high standard which are in great demand throughout the East, but the cost of the producer changes with varying prices of foodstuffs not under the control of the producer of poultry.

The poultry industry has never been reduced to a state of stabilization either in this country or the countries of Europe. Eggs are a perishable product and their price is sensitive to the fluctuations of the law of supply and demand. The method of marketing is by means of distribution through wholesalers assembling daily in the Produce Exchange in San Francisco and Los Angeles and the price which dealers are willing to pay and which the producer demands is the reflection of the price of New York with the differential of freight marking the divergence between New York price and San Francisco price. In other words, as the demand increases on the Atlantic seaboard and prices advance, the Producers' Association and other agencies prepare to ship eggs to Eastern markets and do ship as often as the New York price appears to be more inviting than the Pacific Coast price. Your committee is convinced that advantageous changes can be made in the present economic system which would work to the benefit of both producer and consumer. A basis for improving the present system is provided in the general conditions which appear at the close of the report of the committee. At this time two general observations are made:

First, during 1918, there was a greater demand for fresh eggs than ever existed in the country, due apparently to an increased demand on the part of those whose income had been increased under war conditions. It is only fair to point out that the records show a decreasing demand for storage eggs and an increasing demand for fresh eggs, which of itself means an increased price to the consumer so long as the consumer is willing to pay the price. The price bore no speculative profit during 1918 to either wholesaler or retailer since under the Food Administration the wholesaler received a definite percentage of gross profit upon the eggs handled by him and this percentage was in the form of a sliding scale which declined with advancing prices. The retailer was confined to a stipulated margin of 5 cents to 6 cents per dozen for his handling of the eggs; therefore, the prices which were paid resulted in a return to the producer and not a speculative profit to the handler. At the present time, eggs are high, which forecasts a high price for storage eggs in the coming fall and winter, and the present cost represents a large demand for fresh eggs on the part of the consumer as well as a demand on the part of the producer for a continuation of the relatively high level of his return, because there has yet been no decline in the costs of his feedings.

Second, the consumer has the opportunity of dealing strictly with the producer by using parcel post and the rural delivery. Any attempt to restrain producers from dealing directly with consumers by such avenues must be regarded as an action unfriendly to the best interests of society at large, and no contract should be entered into between producer and distributor which contains any element of trade restraint, much less of punishment of independent agencies or the cutting of prices for the purpose of driving any legitimate person from the market.

Your committee believes that in each producing section its local Chamber of Commerce or other agency might be used by which consumers could be put in touch with producers ready to make direct shipments and that in such cases producers should be glad to sell direct to the consumer for a return equal to the return which he would get in shipping to the wholesale markets in larger centers; and wherever peculiar local conditions justify, a municipal market or agency might properly be of advantage, or the combined producers might with propriety conduct such a central agency open directly to the consumer on certain days.

These suggestions apply equally to many foodstuffs.

Your committee is aware that a large number of poultry producers of California are organized into a co-operative association and that the representative of that association sits as a member of the San Francisco Produce Exchange and that the association stores eggs and acts as a distributor of eggs to Eastern points. Particularly, in times such as these, no objection or criticism can be raised against the organization of producers' co-operative associations. On the other hand, the existence of such co-operative organizations has received the sanction of the State and the approval of the Federal Trade Commission and the recognition of Congress. The only question to be raised is whether the co-operative organization operates not only in its own best interests, but also to the best interests of the community at large. If at any time producers' co-operative organizations should, by reason of their strength, operate in such a way as to unduly increase the return to the producer at the expense of the consumer, such specific action should receive the condemnation of State as well as federal authorities. It is, therefore, particularly the duty of State officers charged with such responsibility not only to assist the producer, but to supervise and scrutinize the actions of producers' organizations in order that they shall operate to the public benefit as well as to the stabilization of the industry involved.

MILK.

The price of milk has increased approximately 40 per cent since January, 1916. The conditions leading to this increase are typified by the conditions prevailing in San Francisco. In January, 1916, milk-wagon drivers were receiving $97.50 per month, and in January, 1919 they were receiving $135.00 per month, and other employees of milk distributors received the same proportion of increase, which amounts in total to 40 per cent over the previous wage scale. In January, 1916, the producer was receiving 18 cents a gallon for milk and in January, 1919, was receiving 31 cents a gallon for milk. The margin of profit, therefore, to the distributor is less at the present time than before the war. The consumer is paying 14 cents a quart, or at the rate of 56 cents a gallon, for grade A pasteurized milk and the producer is receiving 31 cents. Throughout the United States, out of every dollar paid by the consumer for milk, approximately 50 cents is paid for distribution and 50 cents for production. The cost of taking the milk from the delivery depot, within the city limit, pasteurizing, bottling and delivering is therefore approximately equal to the price received by the producer. This division of the consumer's dollar is unquestionably based upon an excessive cost of delivery, which, however, can not be remedied without adequate legislation. It is admitted by distributors as well as by government investigators that the cost of distributing milk in San Francisco could be reduced at least 2 cents a quart by zoning the city and eliminating the great expense of the multitude of cross deliveries and by eliminating unnecessary pasteurizing plants.

Will "zoning" be acceptable to the people if it reduces the price?

There is more than twice the necessary pasteurizing equipment in San Francisco and undoubtedly the same condition exists in other cities. The question is, what authority has the right to say which of the unnecessary plants shall be eliminated and who shall indemnify those whose property may be thus cut out from the present system? The constitution guarantees the right of enjoyment of property unless the owner is deprived by a due process of law. Also the reduction in the cost of distribution depends upon the acceptance by the consumer of a designated delivery service under the zone plan. While this is theoretically sound, consumers have always demanded the right to purchase milk from the particular distributor in whom the consumer had confidence and further, the reduction cost depends upon the assumption by the State or the municipality of the responsibility for the supervision of distribution of milk and for indemnifying those distributors whose services may be unnecessary.

Another large item in milk cost appears to be "bad debts," "bottle breakage," and "bottle stealing." One delivery firm testified that it charged off $5.00 per month for "bad debts" and $1.200 per month for "bottle breakage and stealing." Testimony shows that lower court convictions for bottle stealing is difficult to procure and that one firm found at one time approximately 25,000 of its bottles in a junk yard, while another testified that he reclaimed from the hold of a ship many thousands of his bottles, all of which had been stolen. The consumer bears the burden and has his responsibility.

The present price of 31 cents per gallon paid to the producer was approved by the Federal Food Administration in September, 1917, and holds good until May, 1919, under certain conditions. The Food Administrator held that any producer of milk who so desired might have the right to ship milk into San Francisco whether he belonged to the Association of Milk Producers or not. The Food Administration also held that the association had no right to divert milk produced by members of the association from coming to San Francisco for the purpose of maintaining the present price; and, further, that if a larger supply was developed, than was needed for consumption, the price to the consumer should be proportionately decreased to such a point as would bring to San Francisco the amount necessary without surplus.

Your committee finds that the distributors of milk in San Francisco are organized as the Milk Dealers' Association and that the great majority of producers who ship milk to San Francisco are likewise organized under the Milk Producers' Association. Due to the withdrawal of the Food Administration, it is impossible to tell at the present time whether the terms of the agreement between the producers and distributors, which was approved by the Food Administration, are being carried out. Your committee is of the opinion that some supervising agency of the State should see to it that the contract made in the interests of the public should be supervised and thoroughly policed. Should it appear that any milk is being diverted by the Producers' Association, prompt and remedial action should be taken. Should it appear that independent producers desirous of shipping milk to San Francisco are foreclosed from exercising such rights, such independent shippers should be protected and the people given the opportunity to obtain the cheaper milk. This position applies alike to San Francisco and all of the cities of California.

Your committee hopes that the new contract to be made between producers and distributors in May, may be based upon a lower price for milk than 31 cents per gallon. The abundant rainfall of the winter has produced ample feed, there should be good crops of hay at a less price and the price of feedstuffs should be lower and labor more plentiful.

Your committee believes that any attempt to lessen the price of milk by eliminating laws necessary for the supplying of pure and clean milk should be vigorously opposed.

Your committee is aware of the growing power of the co-operative organization of dairymen in the State of California and feels it necessary to call to the attention of those who are in position of responsibility that they are accountable to the public for their handling of this trust. While it is necessary to maintain a milk supply for human consumption and to return to the producer a sufficient profit to keep him in business, it is also imperative that the interests of the public be safeguarded and that no action on the part of any association of dairymen should tend to create a public distrust in their purposes and methods. Since it is admitted by all experts that it is impossible to fix upon any figure that will properly represent the cost of production of milk to all the dairymen of California, due to varying conditions and varying degrees of efficiency, it is of particular importance that the dairymen make every effort to increase the efficiency of the producer and thereby decrease the cost of the produce, and any steps that might be taken to maintain to the producer other than a reasonable profit must be regarded by the authorities of the State as an abuse of the privilege granted to organizations by State sanction and an act against the interests of society that must be severely dealt with whenever the facts are proven.

Your committee desires to call attention to the fact that the price of whole milk for delivery to centers of population is in competition with the price of butter, cheese and condensed milk, and other by-products. Therefore, the problem of dealing with milk is not a local problem confined to the dairymen and the consumer, but it is a competitive problem in which world markets compete for the output of the dairy and in which the city populations must be willing to pay a price commensurate to the price offered for milk when used in manufacturing other commodities. It is the opinion of your committee that saving can be made in the handling of milk on the farm and in its shipment to the consumer.

CONCLUSIONS.

1 This Legislature should by enactment declare the wilful destruction of foodstuffs or the hoarding of foodstuffs for the purpose of maintaining price levels to be a crime. The distribution of foods is a public right and the maintenance of unnecessary high levels operates against public welfare. The first and most important immediate reduction in food costs can be brought about through legislation making waste and hoarding criminal. It must not be understood, however, that economic storage of foodstuffs constitutes criminal hoarding. The purpose behind the storage of foodstuffs should determine whether the act in itself constitutes a crime or not. It should by legislation be made impossible for any purchaser of foodstuffs to limit the distribution of the producers' output, which is not desired for actual use by the purchaser. It is often the case that the entire crop of a producer will be purchased by a dealer under contract and the producer will be compelled to only deliver a certain portion of his output and will be restrained from distribution under any circumstances of the portion of his output unneeded or unused by the purchaser. Such action is of frequent occurrence in the handling of fresh fruits and vegetables and should not be tolerated in public interest.

2. It is time that the State should immediately recognize that the distribution of certain essential food commodities is a matter of such public importance that the right to engage in the distribution of those commodities has become a public right and therefore should be subject to State license. It should not be the object of the State to raise funds by such licensing, since such action is an indirect taxation upon the public, but the license should represent the right of the distributor to do business and the penalty should be the withdrawal of the license and distributors in the specified classes should be prohibited from doing business without a State license under heavy penalty of imprisonment and fine. Such licensing system has already been instituted in certain other states and has been upheld constitutionally by the United States Supreme Court. The distributors which should immediately be put under license by the State are Distributors of milk, commission merchants handling fruits and vegetables, and wholesale dealers in eggs and manufacturers of bread and operators of cold storage warehouses. Other distributors may be properly added from time to time, should experience demonstrate the necessity.

The licensing of such distributors of foodstuffs should be placed under the centralized control of the State authority, experienced and competent in handling of great industrial problems. Such a body is the State public utility commission, commonly known as the Railroad Commission, who now handle public utilities. The line of demarkation between public utilities, such as a water company or a railroad, and the distributor of food does not lie in the use made by the public of the commodity handled by the distributor, but the demarkation lies in the fact that a water company or a power company is subject to a franchise which is the expression of the willingness of the State for the distributor of water or power or for the railroad to do business. No franchise at present exists with regard to the distributor of food and the field of food distribution is open to anyone who may want to participate, without regard to the qualifications of the distributor or the ability of the distributor to render a necessary service to the public. Recognition of the licensing principle with regard to food distribution represents the desire of the State to recognize such licensing as an equivalent of a franchise to do public business and this is therefore the basis of the right of the public to supervise the local distribution of foodstuffs and it is the first and most important step toward the new economic system. After the granting of license by the public utilities commission, the commission should have the power, in conference with the licensees, to determine certain broad rules and regulations for the operation of the business of the distributor in the interests of the public.

3. Wilful gambling in foodstuffs should be as far as possible eliminated through restrictions prohibiting the sale of foodstuffs by dealers to dealers in the same class. In general when food is sold, it should go to the necessary agent next in line toward the consumer. It should be made impossible for wholesale dealers in eggs and other products to buy and sell such commodities among themselves, thereby pyramiding the price, without getting the food any further toward the consumer.

It would be obviously impossible at this session of the Legislature to pass legislation providing explicit powers in detail for the erection of a revised economic system of food distribution, but it is earnestly believed that the introduction of a licensing system with a power to the public utility commission to summarily withdraw the right of distributors to participate in the business, when such distributors do not render necessary services or comply with existing laws, would be a forward movement. The commission as a representative of the State might sit with both producers and distributors, representing the interests of the people to provide a constructive program.

The above report is concurred in by the entire committee, excepting that Committee-man Harris did not participate in the specific findings as to milk.

NOTE.—The above data is based on a ten-dozen egg hen and on feed prices as indicated. Only "Extra" market quotations have been used and all eggs laid have been figured as extras. As a matter of fact, from 20% to 30% of the eggs laid per hen per year are not of extra grade and sell for less.

DISTRIBUTION OF COST FACTORS ENTERING INTO THE PRODUCTION OF EGGS.

Average annual feed charge per dozen eggs	66 2/3 %	14 4c
Average annual interest charge per dozen eggs	6 %	1.3c
Average annual taxes and insurance charge	1 %	.2c
Average annual death loss	2 %	4c
Average annual replacement of stock (difference in meat value of old and cost of rearing young stock) per dozen eggs	7 1/2 %	1 6c
Average annual repair (depreciation, etc.) per dozen eggs	7 %	1.5c
Average annual labor (in excess of owner's) per dozen eggs	10 %	2 2c
Average annual gross cost of producing a dozen eggs	100 %	21.6c (1915)

The data given above is, to the best of our knowledge and judgment, a reasonable representation of an average of conditions existing in the various poultry centers of California. Variations in cost and sales price factors, especially in specific places, will result in some variations up and down from the figures given above, but we believe the data here given is as close to actual average conditions over the State as it is possible to compile.

During the years 1914 to 1918, inclusive, the receipts of eggs in San Francisco were, according to Pacific Dairy Review, as follows:

1914	619,325 cases
1915	623,816 cases
1916	572,440 cases
1917	714,991 cases
1918	688,966 cases

How many of these eggs were produced in California and how many were brought into the State, our available data does not show.

During the eight months, however, from July 9, 1918, to March 11, 1919, inclusive, 52,186 cases of California eggs were received in San Francisco, 13,196 cases of which went into cold storage. In the same period 13,831 cases, or about 34 cars, of Eastern eggs were received in San Francisco from the Middle West, and 5,102 cases were put in cold storage.

We do not have any record of the movement of eggs in and out of Los Angeles or of the number of cars of eggs shipped out of California, so that we can not say definitely at present whether the State has passed the point where supply exceeds demand and become an egg exporting State or not. In the past more eggs were imported than exported.

COLD STORAGE PROFITS.

Mr Charles Brand, Chief United States Bureau of Markets, in a report issued to the trade under date of March 11, 1918, states that for the United States as a whole, "the cold storage results of the three years (1916, 1917, 1918) for which the Bureau of Markets has accumulated data and issued reports, show a net profit of approximately two and a half million dollars on an investment of one hundred and forty-eight millions, or approximately one and two-thirds per cent, making no allowance for interest on investment."

The question being upon the committee amendment

Amendment refused adoption.

AMENDMENTS FROM THE FLOOR

The following amendments were submitted by Mr. Prendergast:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE

In the title of the printed bill, strike out lines 1 to 7, inclusive, and insert in lieu thereof the following

An act to amend sections six and fourteen of an act entitled "An act to insure the better education of dental surgeons and to regulate the practice of dentistry in the State of California, providing penalties for the violation hereof," approved May 21, 1915, and to add a new section thereto to be numbered six a, providing special licenses for limited dental operations.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

On page 1 of the printed bill strike out lines 1 and 2, and insert in lieu thereof the following

SECTION 1. Section six of an act entitled "An act to insure the better education of dental surgeons and to regulate the practice of dentistry in the State of California, providing penalties for the violation hereof," approved May 21, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC 6. Any person over twenty-one years of age shall be eligible to take an examination before the board of dental examiners of California, upon making application therefor and upon (1) paying a fee of twenty-five dollars; (2) furnishing satisfactory testimonials of good moral character; (3) passing a thorough physical examination at the direction of the said board of dental examiners and securing a certificate as a result of such examination indicating that he is free from any infectious disease; (4) furnishing satisfactory evidence of having graduated from a reputable dental college, which must have been approved by the board of dental examiners of California; provided, that after August 1, 1918, he shall also file his diploma or certificate of graduation with recommendations from a high school accredited to the University of California or any other university of equal standing; or a certificate signed by a state superintendent of public instruction, or similar officer, to the effect that such applicant has had scholastic preparation equivalent in all respects to that demanded for graduation with recommendations from a high school giving a four-year course of instruction in the state from which such certificate is issued; such certificate may be issued by the superintendent of public instruction of the State of California upon the applicant passing an examination and making payment to the superintendent of public instruction of a fee of ten dollars; (5) in lieu of such diploma or certificate from an accredited high school, such applicant, after said date, may and with like effect furnish to said board of dental examiners a certificate from the board of dental examiners, or similar official body, of some other state in the United States, showing that such applicant has been a duly licensed practitioner of dentistry in such other state for a period of at least five years; provided, however, that every person actually engaged as an apprentice to a regularly licensed dentist who has practiced in the State of California for ten years or more shall be eligible for examination, if, within thirty days after the passage of this act, he shall file with the secretary of the board an affidavit stating his name, age, the length of time for which he has been actually apprenticed and with whom; and who, at the time of his application for examination, shall show to the satisfaction of the board that he has served an apprenticeship of at least five years and is a graduate from a high school or similar institution of learning in this or some other state of the United States requiring a three-years' course of study; and provided, that no examination shall be given to an applicant claiming the right to take the same as an apprentice later than December 30, 1915.

SEC 2. A new section is hereby added to said act approved May 21, 1915, to be numbered six a, and to read as follows:

SEC. 6*a*. Any woman over eighteen years of age shall be eligible to take an examination before the board of dental examiners of California as dental hygienist upon making application therefor.

Preliminary to examination by the board of dental examiners, a dental hygienist shall comply with the following requirements:

1. She shall deposit with the board a fee of ten dollars, which in no case shall be refunded.

2. She shall present evidence of graduation from an institution of the standard herein described, which is as follows: any legally incorporated dental college, dental infirmary, or any other institution of equal standing which maintains a course of instruction for dental hygienists equivalent in all respects to similar courses of instruction maintained in the University of California.

3. She shall present evidence that she is at least eighteen years of age and of good moral character.

4. She shall present evidence that she has complied with and fulfilled the preliminary and professional requirements of the statute.

Upon satisfactory evidence of compliance with the aforesaid requirements, the state board of dental examiners shall give said applicant a thorough examination in the following subjects: elements of inorganic chemistry, physiology, anatomy, bacteriology, anesthesia, radiography, materia medica, dental histology, principles of nursing and hygiene, and a practical examination in the removal of deposits from and the polishing of the exposed surfaces of the teeth.

Having satisfactorily passed such examination she shall obtain a license as a dental hygienist from the board of dental examiners and shall be by them registered as such. Such licenses shall remain in force until the following first day of May and thereafter so long as the holder thereof shall comply with the provisions of this section relating to an annual tax, but not otherwise and notwithstanding the payment of such tax, such license may at any time be forfeited or revoked for a violation of any provisions of this act that are applicable to dental hygienists. To provide a fund for the enforcement of the provisions of this section, every person holding a license as a dental hygienist in this state without exception, shall pay an annual license tax for the year commencing with the first day of May next following the issuance of such license and annually thereafter. Such payment to be effective shall be made prior to the commencement of the year for which the same accrues and the receipt of the secretary of the board shall be indisputable evidence that the same has been made. The failure, neglect or refusal of any person who was a regularly licensed and registered hygienist to pay in advance said annual tax of two dollars during the time her license remained in force shall ipso facto work a forfeiture of her license and it shall not be restored except upon a written application therefor and the payment to said board of five dollars except that such person shall not be required to submit to any examination.

Any licensed dentist, public institution or school authority may employ such licensed and registered dental hygienist. Such dental hygienist may remove lime deposits, accretions and stains from the exposed surfaces of the teeth but shall not perform any other operation on the teeth or tissues of the mouth. She may operate in the office of any licensed dentist or in any public institution or in the schools under the general direction or supervision of a licensed dentist, and nothing herein shall be construed as authorizing any dental hygienist to perform any operation in the mouth without supervision.

The board of dental examiners may revoke the license of any licensed dentist who shall permit any dental hygienist operating under his supervision to perform any operation other than that permitted under the provisions of this section, and the said board may also revoke a license of any dental hygienist violating the provisions of this section.

Every person licensed to practice as a dental hygienist in this state shall comply with all of the provisions of section eight of this act except that a separate book shall be kept by the county clerk for the registration of dental hygienists and except that the fee for the restoration of a license shall be five dollars instead of twenty-five dollars.

SEC. 3. Section fourteen of said act approved May 21, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 14. The proceedings to revoke or suspend any license under the first subdivision of section thirteen, must be taken by the board on the receipt of a certified copy of the record of conviction.

The proceedings to revoke or suspend any license under the second subdivision of section thirteen must be taken by the board on the receipt of a certified copy of the judgment.

The proceedings to revoke or suspend any license under the third subdivision of section thirteen may be taken upon the information of any person.

All accusations must be in writing, verified by some party familiar with the facts therein charged, and three copies thereof must be filed with the secretary of the board. Upon receiving the accusation the board shall, if it deem the complaint sufficient, make an order setting the same for hearing, at a specified time and place, and the secretary shall cause a copy of the order and of the accusation to be served upon the accused at least ten days before the day appointed in the order for said hearing. The accused must appear at the time appointed in the order and answer the charges and make his defense to the same, unless for sufficient cause the board assign another day for that purpose. If he does not appear the board may proceed and determine the accusation in his absence. If the accused plead guilty or refuse to answer the charges, or upon the hearing thereof the board shall find them or any of them true, it may proceed to a judgment revoking his license or suspending it. The board and the accused may have the benefit of counsel, and the board shall have power to administer oaths, take the deposition of witnesses in the manner provided by law in civil cases, and to compel them to attend before it in person the same as in civil cases, by subpoena issued over the signature of the secretary and the seal of the board and in the name of the people of the State of California. The board shall have power in proper cases to authorize the payment of fees and traveling expenses of necessary witnesses required to appear before the board and actually examined in any proceeding properly before it. Upon the revocation of any license, the fact shall be noted upon the records of the board of dental examiners and the license shall be marked as canceled, upon the date of its revocation. Written notice of such suspension or revocation shall be mailed by the secretary of the board to the county clerk of each county in which such license is then registered.

Amendments adopted.

Bill read second time, ordered to reprint, engrossment, and third reading.

ASSEMBLY JOINT RESOLUTION No. 24.

Relative to the trial and punishment of perpetrators of crime during the great war.

WHEREAS, The time is past when men under the guise of war should be allowed to commit crimes or outrages with impunity, and

WHEREAS, Persons guilty of crimes and outrages against noncombatants and maltreatment of prisoners in time of war should be punished, and

WHEREAS, Those who violate the provisions of international law should be punished in the same manner as ordinary criminals are punished, and

WHEREAS, Justice and law should be the same for rich and poor, king and subject, emperor and peasant; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the assembly and senate, jointly, That it is the sense of the legislature of the State of California that those persons of whatever rank who are accused or suspected of committing or ordering or permitting to be committed crimes and outrages against noncombatants or maltreatment of prisoners or any violation whatsoever of international law during the great war should be brought to trial before an international tribunal, given an opportunity to employ such legal talent as they may desire to retain and be tried in accordance with universally-accepted principles of procedural law; and be it further

Resolved, That such persons, if found guilty, should be punished in accordance with the enormity of the crimes respectively committed by them and in accordance with the punishment that would be meted out to private citizens in time of peace in the several jurisdictions in which such crimes may have been committed, and be it further

Resolved, That copies of these resolutions be immediately transmitted by the chief clerk of the assembly to the President of the United States, the president of the senate, the speaker of the house and to each of California's senators and representatives in congress

Assembly Bill No. 1048—An act to regulate certain trade schools, and to include within the term "Employment Agency" certain trade schools or classes of instruction for the teaching of the whole or part of any trade, art, science, or occupation requiring special skill, and making such agencies subject to the laws and regulations relating to private employment agencies.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The following message from the Governor was taken up and read.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

To the Senate and Assembly of the State of California.

A rapidly developing financial condition in our State affairs impels me to issue this solemn warning against the granting of appropriations jeopardizing the financial integrity of the State. With a full appreciation of the meritorious character of the many demands made upon the State treasury, I nevertheless feel it time to call attention to the fact that there is a limit to the State's ability to pay, and that in this juncture of affairs it would be extremely dangerous to permit the surplus in the State treasury to go beneath the figure deemed a minimum of safety.

At the present time the financial condition of the State is good, notwithstanding extraordinary drafts made upon it during the last two years because of war conditions. The fiscal officers of the State estimate that there is in the State treasury a present surplus of $4,219,000. With this surplus in mind a budget was prepared, and has been presented to the present Legislature, covering all the normal activities of the State, amounting to the sum of $47,580,153 66 for the coming biennial period. The estimated revenues for the same period are $47,960,490, leaving an estimated balance of $380,336 34. The surplus would thus increase to $4,608,336 34.

This would be the maximum sum available over and above budgeted demands. But financial wisdom and experience has shown that $2,000,000 is the lowest safe point to which the surplus of the treasury should go, and whenever the indicated surplus drops below $2,000,000 we reach the danger point.

It is proper to state that in the budget proposed a normal increase is allowed for the support of those institutions caring for the war veterans, the blind, the feeble-minded, the insane and the criminal. All our State educational institutions from the State university down to the elementary schools were granted a normal increase. All these increases were made necessary by the abnormal conditions of the last few years.

At the present time there appears a disposition to go far beyond these normal increases. With no desire to reflect in the least upon the inherent merit of the bills carrying additional appropriations, I nevertheless feel it my duty to call attention to the fact that such additional appropriations must be limited by the amount of funds properly available.

At the present time an increase in elementary school support from $15 per capita, as budgeted, to $17 50 has been recommended by committees of both Senate and Assembly. This item alone would mean an additional expenditure of approximately $2,000,000 over the budgeted allowance for the coming biennial period.

In addition an increase has been recommended by two legislative committees for the support of orphans and half orphans from $6.25 and $8.33 per capita, now given by the State, to $12 50 per capita. It was contemplated to increase the budget allowance by raising the per capita rate to $10. This increase of itself involved an additional cost of nearly $1,000,000. But the suggestion is now made to impose on top of this generous measure a further cost of about $450,000 by raising the contemplated per capita allowance of $10 to $12 50. If this last raise is made it would mean a total increase for orphans aid of $1,370,000 over the present allowance.

Suffice it to say, however, that the two items to which attention is called aggregate $3,370,000. If these bills become law it would leave a surplus of but $1,228,336 34. This is far below the danger mark and, as before stated, does not include many other unbudgeted appropriations of great merit.

To avoid all misunderstandings, I desire to reiterate that nothing can be said against the inherent merits of these bills. I am heartily in favor of increasing to the limit of financial wisdom and safety, the allowance made for orphans and for pay of teachers.

No state in the Union is more generous in distributing its state revenues to counties and municipalities than is California, and but few equal her in this respect. Most of the states distribute a very small amount to the support of public schools, leaving this burden to their counties and municipalities to bear. Likewise there are but five or six states in the Union that contribute anything out of their state funds to the support of orphans, half orphans or abandoned children. They also leave this with the counties and municipalities. No state in the Union exceeds the present allowance made by California to the dependent children, and no state in the Union equals the allowance of $10 per capita.

The State of California, at the present time, bears the entire expense of caring for the delinquent, the feeble-minded, the insane, and the criminals of all the counties. The State likewise has borne a generous share of the cost of supporting the dependent children. The State is very willing to pay half of such expense and merely asks that the counties and cities and towns pay at least the other half. There is but little question as to the amount required for the support of the dependent children. There can be no question as to the obligation of the public to support them, but it does seem to me that the State of California, whose income is limited, proposes to deal very generously in this matter.

It is impracticable, perhaps legally impossible, at this time to think of raising the tax rate to meet this condition. Grave legal questions and serious legal doubts must arise if at this late date, without careful study and without fair and equitable apportionment of tax burdens, the rate is attempted to be hastily or arbitrarily raised.

In addressing this message to you, I trust you will believe I appreciate fully the fundamental principle that all revenue measures are properly matters of legislative origin. Nevertheless, when they come up for executive action, the legal duty devolves upon me also of protecting the financial revenues of the State against excessive drains. With a view of co-operating fully with you in the granting of all proper and financially possible appropriations, and at the same time avoiding the perils which threaten and which I feel can be obviated by circumspection, I urge again the necessity of making our contemplated State disbursements measure to the standards of safety.

Respectfully submitted,

WM. D. STEPHENS, Governor.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES—(OUT OF ORDER).

The following report of standing committee was received and ordered printed in the Journal:

ON GOVERNMENTAL EFFICIENCY AND ECONOMY

ASSEMBLY CHAMBER, SACRAMENTO, April 9, 1919

MR. SPEAKER You Committee on Governmental Efficiency and Economy, to which was referred the resolution of Assemblyman Eden, demanding an investigation of the California Fish and Game Commission's conduct of its department, respectfully reports as follows:

A public hearing was had upon the resolution, at which the author and others appeared in support thereof, and a member and representative of the commission appeared, and on its behalf, filed an answer to the charges contained in the resolution, which answer is appended to this report and which your committee recommends should be printed in the Journal.

No evidence was introduced or submitted to your committee to substantiate the charges specifically made, or in proof of the facts assumed and implied by the resolution.

Your committee, therefore, finds that nothing appears which would justify the investigation proposed, and recommends that the resolution be not adopted.

Respectfully submitted,

AMBROSE, Chairman

RESOLUTION BY MR. EDEN, INTRODUCED APRIL 1, 1919, AND REFERRED TO COMMITTEE ON GOVERNMENTAL EFFICIENCY AND ECONOMY.

WHEREAS, The Fish and Game Commission of this State, and its several members, officers and assistants, are, by virtue of the very large power and authority given to them by law, in a position to exert great influence for or against legislation pending before this Assembly; and

WHEREAS, It is said that certain of said officers and members have in fact sought to influence pending legislation; and

WHEREAS, Said Fish and Game Commission and certain of its members, assistants and employees have been derelict in the performance of the duties imposed upon them by law, now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Committee on Efficiency and Economy of this Assembly be and it is hereby, directed to make an immediate and thorough investigation of the following specific matters:

1. To ascertain what, if any, fishing clubs, gun clubs and private game preserves, any of the said commissioners, or the officers, assistants or employees of said Fish and Game Commission, are affiliated with; and whether or not any of said officers, assistants or employees have been, by reason of such affiliation, perniciously active in supporting or opposing any legislation now pending before this Assembly, and whether or not they have shown any favoritism, in any manner, towards any gun or fishing club members; and whether or not they have, by reason of their said membership, sought to set up and perpetuate in this State, against the interests and wishes of the common people, the European system of a monopoly in the control and use of wild fish and game, which is peculiarly the property of all the people.

2. Why it is that within the past nine years said commission has, without any satisfactory explanation, dismissed three certain executive officers of said commission, each of whom was reputed to be a faithful and efficient public servant.

3. How much of the time of the present attorney of said commission is devoted to the duties of his State office, and how much of it is devoted to his own private law practice, the latter of which is said to be very large and lucrative.

4. Why said commission collected from the people of the State, during the four years ending June 30, 1918, the enormous sum of $537,409 25, of which the sum of $708,310 75 was expended; whether or not said sum so spent was not unwisely and extravagantly used. Also recommend some legislation that will reduce the amount of money collected by said commission at least $30,000 per annum. Also to ascertain if it is not advisable that the expenditure of such a large fund should be made by the governing body of the State, upon appropriations, instead of by said commission, as is now done, without any control of the Legislature whatever.

5. Why it is that for the two years ending June 30, 1918, the police work of the commission fell off about 15 per cent over the preceding two years (see last report to Governor, page 88), notwithstanding said commission is charged with the enforcement of laws for the preservation of fish and game, and notwithstanding more people hunted and fished during said period ending June 30, 1918, than before; and notwithstanding reports of frequent and flagrant violations of the fish and game laws were reported in the press and otherwise throughout the State.

6. Why said commission expended the enormous sum of $68,272 21 to establish and a large sum since for additions to a trout hatchery in Inyo County, for the purpose, as avowed by the said commission, of stocking the streams of southern California and the western slope of the southern Sierra Nevadas, when it was obvious to any person that said location could not be a success for the following reasons:

(a) That there were no waters nearby needing to be stocked.

(b) That it was impossible to obtain a sufficient supply of trout eggs in that vicinity for hatching purposes.

(c) The great distance the hatchery product must be transported at heavy expense.

(d) The hatchery product must be transported through the heat of the Mojave desert before they reach the waters intended to be stocked.

7. To ascertain the cost of maintenance and operation of said hatchery in Inyo County, and whether the said cost is not extravagantly expensive and out of all proportion to the benefit derived by the people of the State and likely to be a growing burden and expense, also the person from whom the ground was purchased and the then owners of adjacent property and the price paid therefor.

8. To ascertain whether or not the commission is making any intelligent and sufficient effort to obtain accurate first-hand information relative to the present status and condition of the game and fish of the State, and whether or not by reason of failure to procure such information many species of game and fish have reached the point of actual extinction, with others in the same dangerous stage of diminution, before proper conservation measures can be proposed to this Assembly.

9. Why said commission has permitted the Truckee River, one of the most beautiful streams in the world, and a famous fishing ground, to remain polluted for years by the waste products from a paper mill located at Floriston, California, notwithstanding popular complaint and objection by the citizens, not only of our own State, but also by the people of our sister state, Nevada, whose principal city obtains its domestic water supply from said river; and notwithstanding said commission is required by law, and clothed with all lawful authority, to prevent the pollution of streams. Why it is that in the face of the law said commission has deliberately and wilfully failed and refused to do its plain duty, thereby constituting a clear and flagrant malfeasance in office, and one that should be severely dealt with by the proper authorities.

10. Why it is that the ocean waters of San Luis Obispo County and the waters of San Pablo and San Francisco bays, and other navigable fishing waters in the State, have been for years, and are now, being polluted with crude petroleum, oil refinery refuse and other substances deleterious to fish life, in violation of law; notwithstanding it is the duty of the Fish and Game Commission strictly and impartially to enforce the law against such pollution.

11. To ascertain whether or not, throughout the State, in irrigated districts, many canals and irrigating ditches are diverting water from streams that contain fish, without using screens to prevent the loss of fish; and thereby millions of trout, bass and other valuable food and game fishes are annually killed and wasted.

12. To ascertain to what extent dams and other artificial obstructions are being suffered by the said commission to be maintained in the streams of the State without proper fish ladders, and whether or not by such neglect and dereliction of duty on the part of said commission, millions of trout, and other migratory fish, are prevented from reaching proper "spawning beds," with a resultant loss of a great quantity of fish spawn and fish.

13 To ascertain if it is not true that the Fish and Game Commission has failed and neglected to take advantage of that provision in the law authorizing the creation of game refuges on private land holdings, resulting in game, in many sections where hunting is intensive, failing to receive proper and adequate protection.

14. Why said commission has discontinued a branch office established at the request of the people of the San Joaquin Valley, thus making less effective the supervision of police and other conservation activities in that important and developing region, and thereby, and through other activities, having lost to the State the services of one of the most efficient and conscientious fish and game conservationists in the country.

15 To ascertain if it is not true that said commission has wasted large sums of the people's money in unscientific and impractical experiments at its game farm at Hayward, California, and has finally abandoned said farm.

16 To ascertain if it is not true that the distribution of fish, as carried on by said commission, is unscientific, unduly expensive and results in the destruction each year of a large proportion of the fish so distributed.

17. To ascertain if it is not true that because said commission has failed to investigate and prevent enormous losses occurring among the millions of young salmon propagated and distributed each year after they leave the hatcheries, the salmon fisheries of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers are not being kept in a healthful and thriving condition.

18. To ascertain to what extent, if any, said commission has, within the past eight years, been governed by political, personal and other insufficient and improper motives, in its acts in the following particulars:

(a) The dismissal of trained and efficient employees.

(b) The employment, promotion and otherwise rewarding of assistants and employees not deserving of such consideration.

(c) The failure to promote certain assistants deserving promotion.

And whether it is not true that by reason of said acts the entire department is demoralized and functioning very inefficiently and at an expense out of all proportion to the results obtained.

19 To ascertain if it is not true that the force of wardens in the field, where the fish and game are to be found and where constructive work can only be done, is inadequate; while the "overhead" has been constantly increased by adding to it expensive and unproductive clerical workers, be it further

Resolved, That said committee report to this Assembly within a short time, the result of its investigation, with such recommendations as it may deem advisable, be it further

Resolved, That said committee be, and it is, hereby authorized and empowered to compel the attendance of witnesses at its several sessions, by subpoenas, to be served by the clerk of said committee, and that the chairman and vice chairman of said committee be and they are each of them authorized to administer oaths to witnesses, and any witness refusing to answer questions is hereby declared to be in contempt, and may be punished as for contempt.

Said committee is empowered to employ all needed clerical and expert assistance to carry on said investigation, and all costs and expenses of such investigation shall be paid out of the Contingent Expense Fund of this Assembly, not exceeding one thousand five hundred dollars.

REPLY TO RESOLUTION INTRODUCED IN ASSEMBLY APRIL 1, 1919, BY MR. EDEN

In the preamble of Mr. Eden's resolution introduced in the Assembly, April 1, 1919, it is stated that some of the members, officers and assistants of the Fish and Game Commission appear before the Legislature. While this is true, they do so merely in an advisory capacity and have not at this or any other session of the Legislature, attempted to influence any legislation for personal motives. They have favored the legislation which they thought was best for the conservation of the fish and game of this State and have opposed legislation which, in their opinion was harmful or vicious.

A general statement is made that certain members, assistants and employees of the commission have been derelict in the performance of the duties imposed upon them by law, but no specific instances have been enumerated. The statement is untrue. Assistants or employees found derelict in the performance of their duties have been promptly discharged from the service of the commission.

The following is a brief reply to each of the nineteen points set up in the resolution.

1 The fact that two of the three commissioners are members of gun clubs has in no way influenced them in showing any favoritism towards gun clubs nor have they been perniciously active in supporting or opposing legislation pending before the Assembly, nor have they sought to establish the European system of monopoly in the control and use of fish and game, against the interests and wishes of the common people. On the contrary, they have always sought to perpetuate fish and game in this State for the benefit and use of all the people. Commissioner Bosqui is not a member of nor in any way affiliated with any hunting or fishing club nor with any game or fishing preserve.

2. It is not true that within the past nine years the Fish and Game Commission has dismissed three executive officers of the commission. Charles A. Vogelsang severed his connection with the commission long before Commissioners Newbert and Bosqui were appointed and several years prior to the time the present executive officer became connected with the commission.

John P. Babcock, after several conferences with Governor Hiram W. Johnson, resigned on November 24, 1911.

Ernest Schaeffle voluntarily resigned on September 15, 1916. Both resignations are now on file in the office of the commission.

3. Mr. Robert D. Duke, attorney for the commission, devotes all of his time to the duties of his State office.

4. During the four years ending June 30, 1918, the Fish and Game Commission collected the sum of $837,469.25, because under the laws of the State, it was its duty to collect said sum. This money was paid into the Fish and Game Preservation Fund by hunters, anglers and commercial fishermen who desired that it be used for the purpose of conserving fish and game and not that it be diverted into the general fund to be used for other purposes. It is their wish that these funds be spent on patrol, enforcement of fish and game laws, erection and maintenance of hatcheries, distribution of fish, installation of screens in ditches, fishways in dams and research, etc.

The fish canners and commercial fishermen, of their own accord, asked that a privilege tax be imposed on the taking of fish and that the money from this source be turned over to the Fish and Game Commission for the purpose of conducting investigations of the life history of fishes in order that the commercial fisheries might be further developed, new methods of fishing experimented with and proper legislation passed in order to conserve the fishes of this State.

Accounts of its receipts and expenditures are published more frequently by this commission than by any other State board or commission. "California Fish and Game," published by the commission quarterly, contains a full statement of all money expended by this commission each month, besides an account of the commission's other activities.

That the funds of the commission have not been unwisely or extravagantly spent is proven by the results obtained. The salmon run, which in the early '80s was practically exterminated by mining operations, was restored by the work of the commission's hatchery department, so that in 1918 over twelve million pounds of salmon were caught, which retailed at an average price of 25 cents per pound, making the total value of the catch $3,000,000.

Striped bass, catfish, black bass, shad, blue gill, calico bass and other food fishes were introduced into the waters of this State by the Fish and Game Commission. As a result of this work, 1,400,000 pounds of striped bass were caught in California in the year 1918. They were retailed at about 25 cents per pound, or $325,000. During the last three years over twelve million pounds of shad were taken in California, from thirty to sixty-five carloads of roe-shad being shipped to the Eastern markets each year, retailing at not less than 20 cents per pound, making an average of $800,000 per year.

Catfish are also caught in large numbers. In 1918, 200,000 pounds, worth 25 cents per pound, or $50,000, were sent to our markets. The annual catch of these four species of fish introduced or re-established by the Fish and Game Commission is valued at $4,175,000. In fact a total of 2,500,000 pounds of fish were caught in California during the year 1918. The fish packed by canners and curers, alone, were worth approximately $20,000,000, to say nothing of the fresh fish sent to the markets.

Surely an industry of such magnitude is worth protecting, and any money spent in investigating the life history of our food fishes can not truthfully be said to be extravagantly spent without achieving results, particularly when the fish introduced, propagated and protected by the commission bring into the State of California, $4,175,000 per year—over ten times the amount expended by the State in the protection, propagation and conservation of all fish and game.

As a result of the investigations by the experts of the commission, a new season and limit was adopted and the catch of crabs increased 40,000 dozen per year, valued at $100,000.

Besides the important work of the Fish and Game Commission in propagating and conserving commercial fishes, it has also propagated and distributed millions of trout and has stocked many waters which had been entirely barren of fish life. Bear Lake, an artificial lake in San Bernardino County, about eight miles long, was stocked by the Fish and Game Commission. Hatcheries and egg-taking stations were built and maintained there and the supply of fish kept up so that now the fifty or sixty thousand people who visit the lake annually obtain excellent fishing. In addition to Bear Lake, the commission has also planted trout and black bass in Huntington Lake, Bass Lake, Shaver Lake, Clear Lake, Juniper Lake, Medicine Lake, Rea Lakes, Sixty Lake Basin and many other lakes throughout the Sierra Nevada and the Coast Range mountains too numerous to mention. In all of these lakes excellent fishing is to be had and they are annually visited by tens of thousands of anglers.

Innumerable barren streams in the Sierra Nevada Mountains and elsewhere in this State have been stocked with trout. All of the streams in the Yosemite National Park above the floor of the valley were barren of fish life before they were stocked by the Fish and Game Commission. Golden trout have been distributed from Volcano Creek throughout the Sierra Nevada Mountains, as far north as the Yosemite Valley.

The fishing in some of our best streams is kept up solely through the work of the Fish and Game Commission. When the run of black-spotted trout, the only trout indigenous to the Truckee River, was stopped by the dams in the river in the State of Nevada, the Fish and Game Commission planted Rainbow, Eastern Brook and Loch Leven trout in this most excellent fishing stream, so that, now, while black-spotted trout are seldom, if every caught, excellent catches are made of the varieties introduced by the Commission.

The banks of the Sacramento River on Sundays and holidays, in fact, nearly every day, are lined with anglers fishing for catfish, crappie, blue gill, calico bass and other exotic fish introduced into the waters of this State by the Fish and Game Commission.

The work of the Fish and Game Commission in the protection of the game resources of the State has also been productive of excellent results. Deer are admittedly much more numerous now than they were ten or fifteen years ago. Cottontail rabbits are becoming so numerous that the residents of Fish and Game District No. 2 and Fish and Game District No. 4 have asked this Legislature that the protection given cottontail and brush rabbits be removed and that they be placed upon the list of predatory animals which may be taken at any time.

As a result of the protection given pheasants, those planted by the commission have become so numerous in favorable localities, that open seasons for the taking of these birds are demanded in Inyo and other counties and will probably be granted by this session of the Legislature.

Quail and doves are holding their own in most localities. Wild ducks and wild geese, under the protection given them both by the State and federal government, are so numerous that in many localities, they are considered a pest, particularly in the rice fields of the Sacramento Valley and the grain fields in the lower San Joaquin Valley. In fact, there is now pending in the Legislature a bill providing that the protection given ducks and geese be, to some extent, removed, in order that the farmers of the State may obtain relief from their depredations.

5. The diminution in the number of cases made in the biennial period 1916-1918, is due to the vigorous campaign of education being carried on by this commission. The commission feels that it can obtain much better results by educating the people to a proper observance of the laws for the conservation of our fish and game, than it can by arrests alone. Apparently the commission is justified in this. Despite the fact that the patrol has been more efficient than at any other time, the number of arrests have decreased from 2,087 in 1914-16 to 1,797 in 1916-18. Among the activities of the Department of Education and Publicity are:

"CONSERVATION THROUGH EDUCATION"

1. "California Fish and Game," a quarterly magazine devoted to the conservation of fish and game in California, published, contains—

- (a) Numerous articles on game species, means of identifying them, their past and present status and the means whereby they may be conserved.
- (b) Statistics bearing on the abundance of game species.
- (c) Reports of work accomplished by commission, activities initiated.
- (d) Financial reports.

2. Publicity items in newspapers dealing with fish and game and the activities of the commission.

3. Magazine articles, e.g., "A New Goose for California," "Pernicious Bounty Laws."

4. Lectures on fish and game and its conservation illustrated with stereopticon and with moving pictures, given to schools, churches, teachers' institutes, boy scouts, summer camps, etc.

(a) Special series of lectures to university students.

5. Exhibits showing work and activities installed at State Fair and sportsmen shows.

6. Instruction relative to fish and game and the need and value of wild life conservation given in schools by means of lectures and trips afield.

(a) Teacher's bulletins issued furnishing teachers with usable information.

(b) Similar instruction given boy scout organizations at their summer camps.

7. Record of activities and accomplishments furnished the Governor and the people of the State through the medium of a biennial report.

8. Information on wild life furnished in reply to letters of inquiry.

The decrease in the number of cases can also be accounted for by the fact that at the 1917 Legislature, the sale of trout was prohibited, thus eliminating the many arrests that had theretofore been made of fishermen who caught trout for the market and who continually violated the law regarding both seasons and limits.

Furthermore, on account of the vigorous prosecution of cases by the commission, many violators have ceased to disobey the laws. For example, after Judge Murasky decided the case of American Game Transfer vs. Fish and Game Commission in favor of the commission, the merchants who had theretofore sold wild ducks illegally, practically quit doing so, and market hunters from whom they procured wild ducks discontinued their unlawful shipments.

6 At the urgent request of the anglers of southern California, the commission decided to build a hatchery to stock the streams and lakes of southern California and the western and eastern slopes of the southern Sierra Nevada Mountains, which were fished annually by thousands of people from Los Angeles and other portions of southern California. It emphatically and repeatedly demanded in writing of the Department of Engineering and Board of Control that the building should not cost more than $30,000. Plans and estimates were submitted by the State Architect, calling for a building to cost $29,500.

At a meeting held in the office of the Fish and Game Commission in the Mills Building, San Francisco, attended by John Francis Neylan, then President of the Board of Control; Mr. Dean of the State Architect's office; Frank M. Newbert, M. J. Connell, Carl Westefeld, Fish and Game Commissioners; Ernest Schaeffle, Secretary of the Fish and Game Commission, and Mr. W. H. Shebley, Superintendent of Hatcheries, the commissioners attempted to question the representatives of the State Architect on the estimates submitted and were told emphatically by Mr. Neylan that neither he nor the representatives of the State Architect or the Department of Engineering or its officials, came to the commission to have their ability to estimate the cost of a building questioned by laymen, that the law provided that the amount set aside for the building must be turned over to the Department of Engineering and that if the plans were satisfactory, the commission would have nothing further to say about its construction. Furthermore, if the commission did not turn over $30,000 to the Department of Engineering, as provided by law, the Board of Control would not approve of the expenditure of one cent and the commission could not build the hatchery. Thereupon, the commissioners turned over $30,000 to the Department of Engineering, which assumed full charge of the construction of the building.

Before asking for plans and specifications for the hatchery to be built in Inyo County the Fish and Game Commission made an extended survey of all the streams in southern California, in order to obtain the best site possible for a hatchery. The temperature of the waters of numerous creeks was taken, the minimum and maximum flow determined; the transportation facilities were examined; the needs of the surrounding country were investigated. After a most exhaustive examination, the present site on Oak Creek was chosen, and the results have fully justified the choice made. In view of the fact that nearly all the water in southern California was appropriated for irrigation, power or domestic use, the State was extremely fortunate to obtain such valuable water rights free of cost. These alone are of much greater value than the cost of the hatchery.

The fish produced at the Mt. Whitney Hatchery show much greater and better development than those propagated at any other in this State or anywhere in the world. The facilities for stocking the waters of the southern Sierras and southern California are better than those that could be obtained anywhere else in that section of the State and the people who are informed, are all of the opinion that no better site could have been chosen.

(a) It is not true, as stated in the resolution, that there were no waters nearby needing to be stocked. On the contrary, there are numerous streams and lakes both on the western and eastern side of the southern Sierras some of which are barren of fish life, in which trout ought to be planted. The headwaters of many of the streams flowing into the southern San Joaquin Valley rise in the western slopes of the Sierra Nevada, within easy range of the Mt. Whitney Hatchery.

(b) It is not true that it is impossible to obtain a sufficient supply of trout eggs in the vicinity of the hatchery. On the contrary, an ample supply of trout eggs can be obtained from Rae Lake and Bear Lake, besides a bountiful supply of golden trout eggs from Cottonwood Lake, the only place in the world where these eggs can be obtained. In any event, it is much cheaper and easier to transport eggs to Mt. Whitney Hatchery to be hatched and distributed than it is to transport trout fry from Mt. Sisson Hatchery to the streams and lakes stocked from the Mt. Whitney Hatchery.

(c) It is not true that the hatchery product must be transported a great distance or at a heavy expense. The lakes and streams of the southern Sierras and southern California can be easily reached and cheaply stocked from the Mt. Whitney Hatchery.

(d) The hatchery product is loaded on the fish distribution cars at Owens, leaves there about five o'clock in the evening, and passing through the Mojave Desert at night, reaches Los Angeles and the southern portion of the San Joaquin Valley early the following morning.

7 The cost of maintenance and operation of the Mt. Whitney Hatchery is not extravagantly expensive nor out of all proportion to the benefit derived by the people of the State. From year to year the expense, instead of growing, will diminish on account of better facilities and the probable decrease in the price of food for fish.

The ground on which the hatchery is located was not purchased by the State but was given to the State by the citizens of Inyo County. The commissioners are not aware who are the owners of the property adjacent to the hatchery site.

At the time the hatchery was built, the land adjoining it immediately on the west was a part of the National Forest, owned by the United States.

The Fish and Game Commission of California has made a greater effort than any other state in the union to obtain accurate first-hand information relative to the present status and condition of the game and fish of the State. It has caused extended scientific research to be made, both as to the life histories of our game and our fishes.

GAME RESEARCH

(Under direction of J. S. Hunter and Dr. H. C. Bryant)

1. Researches being carried on by H. C. Bryant, Ph.D., game expert of the commission, in close co-operation with the University of California, Museum of Vertebrate Zoology. Facilities and advice of the trained scientists of the university being available and used.

2. Dr. Bryant, joint author of "The Game Birds of California," a 600 page book, published in 1918, detailing the life history, habits and past and present status of each species of game bird found in the State, sums up present knowledge of each species.

3. Investigations of the food habits of birds.

(a) Roadrunner proved an efficient destroyer of insect pests rather than an enemy of quail. Actual food consumed shown by stomach analysis.

(b) Study of food of ducks in progress. Will furnish information as to their relation to agriculture and will give evidence as to best food plants to attract wild fowl to the State. Natural foods suitable for use by the game breeder will also be apparent.

4. Compilation of dependable facts regarding game and its status. File kept; information furnished by forest officers codified, newspaper articles authenticated.

(a) Special report on fur bearing mammals, past and present status.

(b) Present status of beaver with map showing known distribution.

(c) Present status of prong-horned antelope with map showing present distribution and census of existing herds.

5. Statistics of annual kill of game

(a) Deer. Estimate made from actual report of kill made by deputies and forest officers.

(b) Ducks. Estimate made from records showing shipments to market.

6. Investigations of disease attacking game.

(a) F. C. Clarke—disease attacking deer in Trinity County, proved to be a bladder worm.

(b) F. C. Clarke—disease attacking ducks at Tulare and Buena Vista lakes.

(c) Dr. Bryant—disease attacking ducks in Sutter County, 1915.

7. Investigations of birds in relation to agriculture.

(a) Ducks versus rice. Joint investigation by Biological Survey and Fish and Game Commission.

(b) Blackbirds versus corn and other crops.

(c) English sparrow versus garden crops and beneficial native birds.

(d) Relation of meadow lark to agriculture.

8. Field investigations of game refuges.

(a) Trinity County Game Refuge, present condition; predatory mammals.

(b) Pinnacles Monument Game Refuge; present condition; predatory mammals.

9. Study of acclimatization of exotic species. Success and failure in the introduction of foreign game birds and mammals.

10. Study methods of conserving wild life.

11. Scientific investigations of deer and their status in California by F. C. Clarke.

SCIENTIFIC INVESTIGATIONS OF THE COMMERCIAL FISHERIES OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

The following scientific investigations of the commercial fisheries of the State have been carried on, and many of them are still in progress under the direction of Mr. N. B. Scofield, in charge of the Department of Commercial Fisheries.

1. Investigation of Albacore, Sardine and Herring. Mr. Will F. Thompson, formerly with the Department of Fisheries of British Columbia, at present fishery expert in our laboratory at Long Beach, is making a scientific investigation of the life history of the albacore together with a statistical analysis of the catch. He is also making a scientific study of the sardine and herring as well as observations on a great many other fish. The greater part of the time, however, is spent with the albacore and sardine, in order that we may be prepared to cope with the many problems arising with the rapid development of these fisheries.

Mr. Elmer Higgins, who is a graduate of the Department of Zoology, University of Southern California, is assisting Mr. Thompson in the laboratory, collecting specimens and conducting experimental fishing trips on the patrol launch "Albacore."

2. Edwin Chapen Starks, assistant professor of zoology of the Leland Stanford Junior University (formerly curator of the museum, and instructor at the University of Washington), is writing a series of comprehensive articles on the results of his studies of the various fishes of this coast, which appear in our magazine, "California Fish and Game," i.e.

The Flat Fishes of California.

The Mackerel and Mackerel-like Fishes of California.

The Herring and Herring-like Fishes of California.

The Skates and Rays of California.

3 Salmon. Arrangements have been made to complete the investigations of the life history of the salmon from Monterey Bay to the northern boundary of the State. Mr. Willis Rich, a well-known student in zoology, and J. O. Snyder, associate professor of zoology, Leland Stanford Junior University, formerly Assistant United States Fish Commissioner, naturalist U. S. S. "Albatross" and expert ichthyologist, will carry on the work. Mr. Rich has already completed a great deal of work on the salmon and Dr. C. H. Gilbert of Leland Stanford Junior University has carried on extensive experiments for the commission in marking and planting salmon fry.

4 Crab. A study of the Pacific Coast edible crab (Cancer magister) was made by Frank Walter Weymouth (assistant professor of physiology, Leland Stanford Junior University, A. B. Stanford 1909, A. M. Stanford 1911. In 1912 and 1913, assistant in physiology at the Johns Hopkins University), in the year 1911. As a direct result of his findings the size limit of crabs was increased by law and the catch of crabs in 1917 was increased 50 per cent over that of 1916.

5 Mollusks. In 1911 a complete survey was made of the California coast under the direction of Prof. Harold Heath, professor of zoology, Leland Stanford Junior University (A. B. Ohio Wesleyan, Ph.D. Pennsylvania), covering the mollusks of this region. W. W. Curtner, Will F. Thompson and Mr. Hubbs assisted in this work.

6 Crawfish. A crawfish investigation was made in 1911 by Bennett M. Allen of the University of Wisconsin. Later Waldo S. Schmidt of the United States National Museum came to this coast, and in 1918, with the assistance of our men and boats, was able to secure some specimens of young crawfish which will greatly assist him in his report of their life history.

7 Abalones. Mr. W. W. Curtner has made a complete study of the abalones of the State. Mr. Curtner is a graduate in zoology of the Leland Stanford Junior University.

8 Striped Bass, Sturgeon, Perch, Shrimps, etc. Mr. Scofield has himself conducted a great many investigations of our fishes, such as the shad, striped bass, perch, sturgeon, etc. He has also made a study of the shrimp fishery and has been able to prevent the use of the destructive Chinese method of shrimp fishing.

9 Kelp. During the Great War, when a sufficient amount of potash was not obtainable even at the increased price of $300 and $400 a ton, formerly $65 per ton, a study was made of the extensive kelp beds along the coast of southern California with the assistance of Mr. W. C. Crandall of the Scripps Institution and Dr. F. W. Turrentine of the United States Department of Agriculture, and regulations were made as a result of this study which enabled the harvesters to cut the kelp to the limit without unduly destroying the beds.

9 There is less than eight miles of the Truckee River in California below Floriston. Shortly before the present Board of Fish and Game Commissioners was appointed, the State of Nevada appropriated $10,000 to abate the nuisance caused by the pollution of the Truckee River at Floriston. Nevada's chief complaint was not that the alleged pollution was deleterious to fish life but that it rendered the water supply of the city of Reno unpalatable.

An action was commenced by the State of Nevada in the United States courts in San Francisco and much testimony was taken. It was not proven that the refuse was deleterious to fish. In fact, the testimony showed that the fish in the river below the point at which the refuse was discharged, were in good condition and fit for human consumption. The action commenced by the State of Nevada was thrown out of court. Thereafter, certain state officials of Nevada consulted with the Fish and Game Commission of California, with a view to abating the nuisance. F. A. Shebley and N. B. Scofield were sent by the commission to the Truckee River to make further experiments with the water affected. Numerous conferences were held and a committee consisting of W. H. Shebley, Superintendent of Hatcheries in California, Professor Dinsmore, Bureau of Chemistry, University of Nevada, and Mr. Block, representing the paper company, was appointed to go east at the expense of the paper company to investigate certain appliances to handle the refuse. The owners of the paper company agreed to install these appliances providing the manufacturers thereof would guarantee their efficacy. When the manufacturers would not do this, the matter was again taken up by Governor Boyle of Nevada and Mr. Thatcher, Attorney General of Nevada, with Governor Biram W. Johnson of California, and Mr. Westerfeld.

As a result of this conference, a committee consisting of Hon. Arthur Arlett and W. H. Shebley, again investigated the condition of the river below Floriston and made its report to Governor Johnson. Mr. Westerfeld thereafter wrote Governor Johnson, asking that the Attorney General of the State of California be instructed to commence proceedings under the authority of People vs. Truckee Lumber Company, 116 Cal. 397, against the paper company to abate the nuisance. At the next session of the Nevada Legislature, another appropriation was granted by that State to again commence proceedings against the paper company. An action was thereupon instituted and is now pending in the Supreme Court of the United States.

10. Water Pollution. Practically nothing was done by previous boards of Fish and Game Commissioners to prevent pollution of the waters of the State. The present board has, however, made great strides in this work and it is safe to say that California now leads any other State in the Union in preventing the pollution of its waters.

In the last ten years many complaints have been filed in the courts against large corporations and individuals to stop the discharge of refuse matters into the waters of the State and vast sums of money have been expended by them in order to remedy the evil. For example, as a result of complaints filed in the courts by the Fish and Game Commission, the following named companies have expended the amounts set opposite their respective names to prevent pollution.

Pacific Gas and Electric Company.....	$200,000 00
Union Oil Company.....	18,000 00
Shell Company of California.....	40,000 00
Doheny-Pacific Petroleum Company and Associated Oil Company, jointly.....	20,000 00
Mason Malt Whiskey and Distilling Company.....	7,000 00
Southern Pacific Company.....	28,000 00
Monarch Refining Company.....	5,000 00
American Oriental Refining Company.....	2,000 00
Capitol Refining Company.....	1,000 00
Paraffine Paint Company.....	1,000 00
California Petroleum Company.....	1,200 00
Total.....	$318,200 00

Many fines have also been collected as a result of prosecutions commenced by the commission.

Other large companies which have complied with our requests, or demands, without prosecution, are as follows:

Standard Oil Company.....	$500,000 00
Southern Pacific Company.....	26,000 00
Northwestern Pacific Railroad Company.....	5,000 00
Coast Counties Gas and Electric Company.....	5,000 00
Coast Valleys Gas and Electric Company.....	3,000 00
Pacific States Refining Company.....	2,000 00
Atchafson, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad Company.....	2,000 00
Western States Gas and Electric Company.....	5,000 00

Grand total.....$866,000 00

And in addition a large number of smaller companies and individuals have been compelled to cease pollution where such existed. In all cases where persons, firms or corporations have failed to comply with our demands they have been taken into court.

Three cases are now pending in the courts of San Luis Obispo County, two against the Union Oil Company for pollution of San Luis Bay, and one against the Tiber Pacific Company.

11. Screens. Prior to 1912 no systematic effort was made to cause the installation of screens and ladders. At that time the present commission created a department of screens and ladders and detailed two men to attend to this work under the supervision of the Superintendent of Hatcheries. Since that time, despite the fact that the law has been found defective in some respects, 862 surveys have been made and notices served on the owners of ditches to install suitable screens. At this date 518 screens have been reported as being installed and in effective working condition. Before May 15 of this year between fifty and sixty screens have been installed at the expense of several thousand dollars. For instance, the screens installed by the Sacramento-West Side Canal Company, the Anderson-Cottonwood Irrigation Company and the Southern California Edison Company, cost many thousands of dollars each.

The work of installing screens in ditches is being pushed as rapidly and as vigorously as conditions will permit.

Under the law as amended in 1917, at the suggestion of the commission, the California Oregon Power Company has, at an expense of $20,000, built a hatchery at the Copco dam on the Klamath River, and last month conveyed it to the State, together with dwellings, traps and other equipment necessary to operate the station.

12. Ladders. The present Fish and Game Commission in 1912 began a systematic survey in order to determine where fish ladders should be installed. As stated under the head of "Screens" (point 11), two men were detailed under the supervision of the Hatchery Superintendent to make these surveys and to draft plans to be given the owners or occupiers of the dam. Numerous ladders and screens were installed, under the law 47 hearings as to the necessity of the installation of screens and ladders were held by the commission and findings made and orders issued by the board compelling the installation of fishways and screens. To date a total of 209 surveys of dams have been made and the owners have been legally notified to install fish ladders in accordance with the plans submitted. Of this number 131 fishways have been constructed and have been accepted as being effective. The other cases are being pushed vigorously and in some instances actions have been commenced to compel obedience to the orders of the board.

13. At the 1917 session of the Legislature, the commission was instrumental in having sixteen large areas within national forests set aside as game refuges, aggregating $39,180 acres. Besides this, the commission has now established seven game refuges on privately owned land in sections where hunting is intensive and game needed such protection. Within the last six months, over 60,000 acres of private holdings have been set aside for this purpose.

The commission is now asking the Legislature that two new game refuges be created, one around Lick Observatory, the other in Kern County.

14. The branch office established at Fresno was abolished because the work done by that office could be more efficiently and economically handled by the San Francisco office. The officer who had been in charge of the Fresno office was retained in the service of the commission until he voluntarily asked to be given a furlough in order that he could operate a mine which he owned and also attend to his agricultural interests which demanded his attention.

15. The game farm at Hayward, California, was established in 1908, prior to the appointment of the present board. The grounds were leased for a period of ten years. This commission was willing to cancel the lease at any time, had it been able to make suitable terms with the owner. When the owner of the land sued the commission to set aside the lease, the commission put in practically no defense, but Judge Murphy, who tried the case, nevertheless ordered the commission to maintain a game farm on the land until the expiration of the lease.

16. It is not true that the distribution of fish as carried on by the commission is unscientific, unduly expensive or that it results in the destruction in each year of a large portion of the fish so distributed.

Through the efforts of the commission, two fish cars, distributing fish all over the State of California, are hauled free of charge by the railroad. The greatest of care is taken to see that the fish are properly distributed and properly planted in the streams and lakes.

17. It is not true that the Fish and Game Commission failed to investigate the young salmon propagated and distributed in the Sacramento River. The Fish and Game Commission has heretofore caused such investigation to be carried on by Dr. C. H. Gilbert of the Stanford University and Mr. N. B. Scofield, fishery expert for the commission, and is now carrying on such investigation in conjunction with the Bureau of Fisheries under the direction of Mr. Willis Rich and Mr. J. O. Snyder of the Stanford University. Mr. N. B. Scofield and Mr. W. H. Shebley. Salmon fry are held longer at Mt. Shasta Hatchery and are larger when released than those reared by any other state or county.

18. The commission has not at any time been governed for political or personal or other inefficient or improper motives.

(a) It has not dismissed trained or efficient employees without cause.

(b) It has not employed or promoted or otherwise rewarded assistants or employees not deserving of such consideration.

(c) The department is not demoralized or functioning inefficiently or at an expense out of all proportion to the results obtained. On the contrary, the work of the department is now being performed more efficiently, intelligently and economically than at any other time during its existence.

19. The force of wardens in the field is as great as the funds of the commission will permit. If the overhead has increased, it is caused by the increase of the clerical work connected with the commission's activities, and also by the rules and regulations laid down by the Board of Control.

Respectfully submitted.

FISH AND GAME COMMISSION.

CARL WESTERFELD, Executive Officer

THIRD READING OF SENATE BILL.

Senate Bill No. 140—An act to amend section 4280 of the Political Code, relating to the compensation of officers of counties of the fifty-first class

SECOND READING OF ASSEMBLY BILLS—(RESUMED)

Assembly Bill No. 507—An act to provide for the establishment, equipment and maintenance by the State of California of self-sustaining dental offices; providing for the dissemination of knowledge in the proper conservation and care of the teeth, defining the duties of certain State officers in relation thereto; and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions thereof.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENTS.

During second reading of the bill, the following amendments were submitted by the committee:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

On line 5 of the title, strike out the words "certain state officers", and insert in lieu thereof the following "board of regents of the University of California".

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO

Strike out all of lines 1 and 2 of the printed bill, and insert in lieu thereof the following

SECTION 1 For the purpose of affording reliable dental service to the people of California at a minimum cost, together with instruction in the proper care of the teeth, the board of regents of the University of California, acting by and through the dean of the college of dentistry of said university, is hereby authorized and empowered to establish dental offices in the larger cities of California, the cities to be designated by said board of regents. The board shall have power to lease in the name of and on behalf of the people of the State of California, suitable offices in the cities by them designated, and equip, furnish and maintain the same as first class dental offices, and provide for the general administration thereof. The board may accept gifts, bequests and devises of real and personal property for such purposes.

Sec. 2. The board shall provide for the government and maintenance of such dental offices. They shall provide for such laboratories, social service and field work in the dissemination of knowledge as to dental care as may be necessary and available. They shall appoint and define the powers and duties of the directors of the dental offices and such employees as they may deem necessary. The board shall fix the charges for the care of patients; providing, that no dentist shall receive any compensation for the treatment of patients in any dental office established under the provisions of this act except such compensation as he may receive from the state.

SEC. 3. Each dental office established under the provisions of this act shall be equipped for all classes of dental service, and the scope of the work to be performed therein shall include operative and prosthetic dentistry, minor surgery and extracting, radiography and orthodontia.

SEC. 4. Each dental office shall be in charge of a resident dentist, who shall be known as the "director." He shall be selected for his knowledge and competency and shall be exempt from the provisions of an act entitled "An act to provide for a general system, based upon investigation as to merit, efficiency and fitness, for appointment to and holding during good behavior of office and employment under state authority and, in that behalf, to create a state civil service commission, to prescribe its powers and duties, to make the willful violation of the provisions of this act a misdemeanor, to repeal all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith in so far as they may be inconsistent with the provisions of this act, and to make an appropriation therefor," approved June 16, 1913.

There shall be in addition to a director such dental operators as may be necessary, who may be chosen for their special fitness for operative work, root canal work, prosthesis, extracting, minor surgery or prophylaxis, as in the opinion of such board is necessary or advisable, and such dental mechanics, licensed dental nurses or hygienists, office assistants, social service workers, secretaries, cashiers and book-keepers as may be by the board deemed necessary. All salaries of such employees shall be determined by the board and paid in the same manner as the salaries of other employees of the University of California are paid.

SEC. 5. The board shall, in conjunction with the district dental society of the district in which the dental offices are located, disseminate information regarding the care and conservation of the human teeth and their relative importance to the general health of the individual through advertising in the newspapers or journals of the state, charts, pamphlets, models, photographs, motion picture films and any other method that to them may be deemed necessary or expedient.

SEC. 6. It is the intention of the legislature that the cost of establishment and maintenance of the dental offices provided for herein shall be paid out of moneys specially appropriated therefor and not out of the general fund of the University of California.

SEC. 7. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act, the sum of ten thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, which fund shall constitute a revolving fund to be known as the ----- fund, which shall be returned to the state with interest at the rate of four per cent per annum within a period of ----- years from the date of the approval of this act. The state controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw warrants upon such fund from time to time upon requisition of the board approved by the state board of control, and the state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay such warrants.

SEC. 8. The state board of control is hereby authorized to provide, out of the appropriation herein made, for advances of money to the board needed to meet contingent expenses under this act to such an amount not exceeding five thousand dollars as the said board of control shall deem necessary.

SEC. 9. All laws in conflict with this act or any part thereof are hereby repealed only in so far as they may conflict with any of the provisions of this act.

SEC. 10. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portion of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act and each section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase hereof irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Amendments adopted.

PRESENTATION OF PETITION.

The following petition was presented, and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Mr. Kline:

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA. April 10, 1919

C. M. Kline,

*Chairman Assembly Fish and Game Committee,
State Capitol, Sacramento, California.*

In conference here today on Senate Bill No 409, the under-signed representing some three thousand retail and wholesale dealers, retail butchers and grocers, are unalterably opposed to its passage, on many grounds. This bill is iniquitous particularly because the fish business is practically placed in the hands of fishermen, with absolutely no price regulations. Dealers' businesses practically ruined here in endeavors to make fair consumers' prices in the face of unwarranted increases charged by the fishermen during the past four years. A number of statements made to the Senate Committee, as reported in the daily papers, need investigation to ascertain the truth of the situation. We beg you ask the Chamber of Commerce here to ascertain the facts and report back to you, before acting on the bill. The bill is further unjust because it provides a new State department to compete with existing fish distributors, with the maintenance funds collected by license fees from the dealers with whom the State would be in competition.

ARTHUR LEE,
Secretary Southern California Retail Grocers' Association.
E. FLETCHER SCOTT,
Secretary The Southern California Retail Butchers' Association
J. R. COFFMAN,
Secretary Los Angeles Wholesale Fresh Fish Dealers' Association

MOTION.

Mr Fleming moved that Assembly Bill No. 626 be withdrawn from engrossment for the purpose of amendment

Motion carried.

THIRD READING OF ASSEMBLY BILL.

Assembly Bill No. 626—An act repealing sections 1, 2 and 3 of an act entitled "An act to establish a branch State Normal School," approved March 14, 1881, abolishing the branch of the State Normal School at Los Angeles, transferring its property to the University of California and requiring the University of California to maintain a teachers' college and providing for the issuance of normal department and kindergarten department certificates or diplomas to pupils attending said teachers' college.

MOTION TO REFER TO SELECT COMMITTEE OF ONE.

During third reading of the bill, Mr. Fleming moved that the Speaker appoint a Select Committee of One to amend the bill as follows:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

On page 2, line 32, strike out the words "four hundred eighty", and insert in lieu thereof the words "forty-one thousand".

Motion carried

SEC 2 A new section is hereby added to said act, approved May 29, 1915, to be numbered eight and a half, and to read as follows:

Any territory, incorporated or unincorporated, lying within the mosquito abatement district, incorporated under the provisions of this act, may withdraw from said district in the manner following.

A petition, which may consist of any number of separate instruments, shall be presented at a regular meeting of the board of supervisors of the county in which such abatement district is located, signed by the registered voters within the boundaries of the portion of the district proposed to withdraw from such district, equal in number to at least seventy-five per cent of the number of votes cast in said district, asking to withdraw, for the office of governor of this state at the last general election prior to the presenting of the petition, provided, that where one or more municipal corporations or part thereof is included in such proposed territory seeking to withdraw from such district and in addition to the signatures required to said petition, the common council, board of trustees or other governing body of such municipality shall by resolution, duly authenticated, request the withdrawal of such incorporated territory, or such portion of such municipality as is seeking to withdraw from said mosquito abatement district. Such petition shall set forth and describe the proposed boundaries of such territory seeking to withdraw from said district and shall pray that the same be excluded from said abatement district under provisions of this act, and the text of such petition shall be published, for at least two weeks before the time at which the same is to be presented, in a newspaper printed and published in such county, and also a newspaper printed and published in each municipal corporation, or part thereof, in such district seeking to withdraw from such mosquito abatement district, and if there be no newspaper published in such municipal district the text of such petition shall be posted for the same length of time as required to be published, in three public places within such municipal corporation or part thereof proposed to withdraw from such mosquito district, and the text of such petition so published or posted shall have annexed thereto a notice stating the time of the meeting of the board of supervisors at which the same will be presented. When contained upon more than one instrument, one copy only of such petition need be published or posted.

With such publication there shall also be published and if posted, there shall also be posted, a notice of the time of the meeting of the board when such petition will be considered, and that all persons interested therein may then appear and be heard. At such time the board of supervisors shall hear the petition and those appearing thereon, and also all protests and objections to the same, and may adjourn such hearing from time to time, not exceeding two months in all. No defect in the contents of the petition or in the title to or form of the notice or signatures, or lack of signatures thereto, shall vitiate any proceedings thereon, provided such petition or petitions have a sufficient number of qualified signatures attached thereto. On the final hearing, said board shall make such changes in the proposed territory to be excluded as may be deemed advisable and shall define and establish the boundaries of the territory proposed to be excluded.

Upon such hearing of such petition, the board shall determine whether or not such petition complies with the provisions of this act, and for that purpose must hear all competent and relevant testimony offered in support of or in opposition thereto. A finding of the board of supervisors in favor of the genuineness and sufficiency of the petition and notice shall be final and conclusive against all persons except the State of California upon suit commenced by the attorney general.

If, from the testimony adduced before said board, it appears that the petition or petitions are signed by more than seventy-five per cent of registered electors of the district or territory proposed to withdraw, from such district, and if any of said territory is included within the limits of any municipal corporation that the common council, board of trustees or other governing body of such municipality has passed a resolution, duly authenticated, requesting the exclusion of such incorporated territory, from said mosquito district, the board of supervisors may make and pass its ordinance, excluding the territory described in said petition from said abatement district.

The county clerk shall immediately cause to be filed with the secretary of state and the secretary of the state board of health a certified copy of such order of the board of supervisors, and from and after the date of filing such certified copy, the territory shall be withdrawn from such district.

COMMITTEE AMENDMENT TO ASSEMBLY BILL NUMBER FIVE HUNDRED NINETY-SIX.

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE

An act to promote the development of the farm industry of California by providing assistance to persons purchasing farm homes therein, and giving preference in the purchase thereof to discharged soldiers, sailors and marines of the United States, by creating the office of state farm agent, defining his powers and duties, providing for the discharge of the powers and duties of such state farm agent by the surveyor general, until otherwise provided by law, and by providing for the appointment of local boards for farm investigation, and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions hereof.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The legislature declares that the settlement of undeveloped lands is one of the greatest problems that now confront the State of California, and this act is passed in an endeavor to improve the economic and social conditions of agricultural settlers within the state and of the people of the state in general. For the purpose of providing employment and rural homes for soldiers, sailors, marines and other deserving citizens there is hereby created the office of state farm agent. The surveyor general shall be ex officio said state farm agent until otherwise provided by law, and may employ such assistants as shall be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

SEC. 2. Soldiers, sailors, marines, and other persons who have served with the armed forces of the United States shall be preferred purchasers under the provisions of this act.

SEC. 3. It shall be the duty of the state farm agent to appoint from time to time local boards for farm investigation in the several counties of the state, to be composed of not more than five members, whose duty it shall be to investigate and report upon the conditions and quality of the land sought to be purchased under the provisions of this act, and upon the ability and financial standing of the applicant. For this purpose, the state farm agent shall have power to formulate rules and regulations and to provide the necessary blanks therefor.

SEC. 4. The state farm agent shall have power and it shall be his duty, whenever application is made to him by any person seeking to purchase land under the provisions of this act, to require the local board to make a thorough investigation as provided in section three hereof, and report its findings to him with the least delay possible.

SEC. 5. Every person, firm or corporation within the State of California, may list lands with the state farm agent, which list shall show as nearly as possible, the adaptability of the land, its approximate distance from transportation and its price per acre. For the listing of said lands, the state farm agent, shall charge a license fee to the person so listing, of one dollar per thousand dollars of the list price: provided, that no listing shall be for less than two dollars and fifty one-hundredths, and provided, that if such lands have been listed for more than one year, such listing may be canceled but such listing may be renewed by paying the same fee as for first listing. Any person, firm or corporation having listed personal or real property as hereinunder provided, may withdraw all or any part of such listing upon giving in writing fifteen days notice of such intention: provided, that no person is at the time actually inspecting such property.

SEC. 6. It shall be the duty of the state farm agent to prepare lists of the lands that have been offered for sale and listed with him, for distribution to the prospective buyers, and cause to be published in newspapers of general circulation in the larger cities of the state notices to the public that these lists have been prepared and will be distributed upon application to him.

SEC. 7. Whenever application is made to purchase a tract of land listed under the provisions of this act, the state farm agent, if satisfied of the desirability of the land for the purpose for which it is to be used, and the ability of the applicant; that such applicant is not the owner of an equity in real property exceeding one thousand dollars in value and is a citizen of the United States or has declared his intention of becoming a citizen of the United States; and that the tract desired to be purchased does not exceed five thousand dollars in value; shall be empowered to enter into a contract of purchase with the owner thereof in the name of the State of California, upon such terms and at such rate of interest on deferred payments as may be by them agreed: provided, however, that the accrued interest shall not be greater than six and one-half per cent per annum. The state farm agent shall then enter into a contract with the applicant in the name of the State of California for the repurchase of said land at a price per acre and with an interest charge which will make the purchase and sale reciprocal. Personal property for use on the land may be included in said contract, but the purchaser shall not have the right to dispose of any of the same, except as specified in the agreement and contract made with the state.

The contract entered into between the state farm agent and an approved purchaser, shall contain among other things, provisions that the purchaser shall cultivate the land in a manner to be approved by the state farm agent and shall keep in good order and repair, all buildings, fences and other permanent improvements situate thereon, reasonable wear and tear, and damage by fire excepted, each purchaser shall, if required, insure and keep insured against fire, all buildings on said land, the policies thereof to be made out in favor of the state farm agent and to such amount or amounts and in such insurance companies as may be by him specified.

In the event of a failure of a purchaser to comply with any of the terms of his contract of purchase and agreement with the state farm agent, the state farm agent shall have the right, at his option to cancel the said contract of purchase and agreement, and thereupon the State of California shall be released from all obligation in law or equity to convey the property, and the purchaser shall forfeit all right thereto and all payments theretofore made shall be deemed to be rental paid for occupancy. The failure of the state farm agent to exercise any option to cancel for any default shall not be deemed as a waiver of the right to exercise the option to cancel for any default thereafter on the purchaser's part. The state farm agent shall have the right and power to enter into a contract of purchase for the sale and disposition of any land forfeit as above provided because of the default on the part of the original purchaser.

SEC. 8. Any person desiring to purchase land under the provisions of this act, must make application therefor to the state farm agent, describing the land sought to be purchased. The application must be accompanied by a filing fee of five dollars. The applicant shall furnish the state farm agent information as to his financial standing, previous experience in farm work, and such other information as may be by the state farm agent required. The state farm agent may accept applications of two or more persons for the joint purchase of any tract of land under the provisions of this act when, in his opinion, the purchase if consummated, could not be considered to be with intent to frustrate the intentions of this act by monopolizing the land in any one district.

SEC. 9. The state farm agent may require that the purchaser shall carry some form of personal insurance, either accident or health or some other form, sufficient to carry him or his family through a period of idleness and to enable him to make his payments when due.

SEC. 10. The state farm agent, before consummating a purchase under the provisions of this act, shall cause the title of the land sought to be purchased to be examined, and may require for that purpose either an abstract or an unlimited certificate of title, and may refer the same to the attorney general for his opinion.

SEC. 11. The state farm agent shall have power to formulate all rules and regulations not inconsistent with law for the proper conduct of his office.

SEC. 12. The state farm agent shall not be financially interested in the sale or purchase of lands under this act and shall in no event, receive any commission or percentage in connection with the sale or purchase of land hereunder.

SEC. 13. For the purposes of carrying out the provisions of this act, the sum of fifteen thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, which amount shall be and constitute a revolving fund to be known as "the state farm agent fund." The state controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw warrants upon such fund, from time to time upon the requisition of the state farm agent, after approval by the state board of control, and the state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay such warrants. All moneys received under any provision of this act shall be deposited by the state farm agent on or before the tenth day of each month in the state treasury, and shall by the state treasurer be placed in said revolving fund and shall be available and are hereby appropriated under the same conditions and for the same purposes as the original appropriation of fifteen thousand dollars.

SEC. 14. All acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

On page 3 of the printed bill, as amended in the Assembly March 31, 1919, in line 39, after the period following the word "practice", strike out the remainder of the paragraph, and insert in lieu thereof the following: "The amendments provided for in this subdivision as to the district attorney shall take effect on the first Monday in January, 1923. The amendment provided for in this subdivision as to a stenographer for the office of district attorney shall apply immediately upon the taking effect of this act."

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

On page 3 of the printed bill, as amended in the Assembly March 31, 1919, in lines 46 and 47, strike out the words "two thousand one hundred", and insert in lieu thereof the words "two thousand five hundred".

AMENDMENT NUMBER THREE.

On page 4 of the printed bill, as amended in the Assembly March 31, 1919, in line 17, strike out the word "five", and insert in lieu thereof the word "eight".

AMENDMENT NUMBER FOUR.

On page 4 of the printed bill, as amended in the Assembly March 31, 1919, in line 18, after the semicolon, strike out all of the balance of said paragraph, and insert in lieu thereof the following: "also, said county surveyor may appoint another deputy or deputies, the compensation to said deputy or deputies in the aggregate not to exceed one thousand two hundred dollars in one year, payable to such deputy or deputies in such installments, at such times and in such amounts as may be designated by the county surveyor; provided, that the county surveyor shall file with the county auditor a verified statement showing in detail the amounts and the persons to whom said compensation is paid, provided, further, that in counties of this class there shall be and hereby is allowed to the county surveyor a stenographer who shall be appointed by said county surveyor and whose salary is hereby fixed at the sum of nine hundred dollars per annum. The salary of said chief deputy and said stenographer shall be paid in the same manner and out of the same funds as the salaries of county officers are paid."

AMENDMENT NUMBER FIVE.

On page 5 of the printed bill, as amended in the Assembly March 31, 1919, in line 22, strike out the words "by multiplying", and strike out all of lines 23 and 24, and insert in lieu thereof the following: "of said county at their regular meeting in the month of December following the election of justices of the peace and constables in said county, by multiplying by three the number of registered voters in said township as shown by the register prepared by the county clerk of said county for the general election next preceding the date of such determination. It is hereby found, as a fact, that the salaries provided for in subdivisions fourteen and fifteen do not work an increase in the compensation and the same shall apply immediately to incumbents."

Amendments adopted.

Bill ordered to reprint, re-engrossment, and on file for passage.

Assembly Bill No. 1021—An act to amend sections 1, 2, 3 and 4 of an act entitled "An act to provide for the formation, organization and classification of new counties, for locating county seats, for the election and appointment of officers and for the adjustment and fulfillment of the rights and obligations arising between such new counties and other counties," approved March 15, 1907.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

The following explanation of vote was presented, and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Mr. Wickham:

MR. SPEAKER In voting against Assembly Bill No. 1021, introduced by myself, I feel the circumstances should require that a statement be made for record as to the origin, and my introduction of said Assembly Bill No. 1021.

This bill was introduced by me at the request of several friends in Alameda County. It will be noted by the members of the Assembly that this bill was introduced after the reconvening of the Legislature, and that after the recess each member is limited to the introduction of two bills. As an act of accommodation and courtesy, I introduced the bill in order that the proponents of such a measure might have opportunity to present arguments in support of the bill.

At the time I agreed to introduce the bill I specifically reserved the right to vote against the same on the floor of the Assembly if the proponents of the measure did not advance sufficient reasons to convince me of the necessity or wisdom of making the proposed change in the law. I attended the committee to which this bill was referred and heard the arguments of the proponents of the bill, and I have heard the arguments both for and against the bill in the Assembly, and I feel that while there is some merit in the bill, yet there is no demand, or necessity, for a change in the law at this time.

Therefore, exercising that right which every legislator should exercise in voting for or against a measure on its merits, I feel impelled to vote against Assembly Bill No. 1021, introduced by myself by request.

GEORGE R. WICKHAM,
Assemblyman Sixty-second District

COMMITTEE AMENDMENT.

During second reading of the bill, the following amendment was submitted by the committee:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE

On page 1 of the printed bill, strike out all of lines 3 to 22, inclusive, and all of pages 2 and 3, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

1606. The governing boards of school districts shall have power and it shall be their duty:

First—In each city school district governed by a city board of education to employ a city superintendent of schools and such deputy or assistant city superintendents of schools as may be necessary for a term of four years, to fix their compensation and to order payment of same; provided, that no deputy or assistant city superintendent shall be employed for a term of four years unless he has previously been employed a probationary term of two years or more in such city school district.

Second—In any school district which employs eight or more teachers and is not under the jurisdiction of a city board of education to employ at their discretion a district superintendent of schools from year to year for a probationary term of two years or more in such school district and thereafter for a term of four years, to fix his compensation and to order payment of the same.

Third—To employ a principal, in accordance with the provisions of subdivision sixth of this section relating to the election, classification and dismissal of teachers, for each school under their jurisdiction, to fix his compensation and to order payment of the same; provided, that nothing in this act shall prevent a district superintendent of schools from serving as principal of one or more schools, or a principal from serving as principal of two or more schools.

Fourth—At their discretion to employ a supervisor of subjects or departments, to fix his compensation and to order payment of the same, in harmony with the provisions of subdivision sixth of this act relating to the employment, classification and dismissal of teachers.

Fifth—At their discretion to employ district or school librarians, to fix their compensation and to order payment of the same.

Sixth—(a) To employ only persons who hold legal certificates for teaching in full force and effect, and on file in the office of the county superintendent of schools, to serve as substitute, probationary, or permanent teachers, and to give the notice of such employment to the county superintendent of schools stating the name and address of each person thus employed.

(b) To fix and prescribe the duties to be performed by superintendents, deputy or assistant superintendents, principals, supervisors of subjects or departments, teachers, librarians, janitors, and all other employees of the school district.

(c) To classify as substitute teachers, those persons employed as teachers for less than one school year to fill positions of regularly employed teachers absent from service and, at their discretion, those persons employed as teachers of classes organized as evening, continuation, part-time, or special classes which the governing board may declare to be temporary and whose continuance is dependent upon enrollment therein.

(d) To classify as probationary teachers those persons employed as teachers for the school year, and whose teaching in the school district is less than two years at the time of classification; such classification to be made at the time of employment and thereafter in the month of July of each school year; provided, that in all school districts not enumerated in subdivision (e) of this act all teachers who have completed the period of probation may thereafter be elected for periods of four years and when so elected, shall not be removed except for good and sufficient reasons and in accordance with subdivision (i) of this act.

(e) To classify as permanent teachers all persons employed as teachers in any school district or union high school district composed wholly or in part of a city of the first, first and one-half, second, second and one-half, third, fourth or fifth class; and cities of the sixth class having a population of five thousand or more and in union high school districts of which such cities may be an integral part, except as noted in subdivision (e) of this section, who have satisfactorily completed their probationary service as provided in subdivision (d) of this section, and such classification shall be made annually in the month of July or oftener if the board desires; provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to repeal any legal provisions regarding tenure now in force in any school district in the state.

(f) To grant leaves of absence to teachers with or without pay.

(g) To accept the resignation of any teacher and to fix the time when such resignation shall take effect, which date shall not be later than June thirtieth of the current school year.

(h) To dismiss a substitute teacher at any time.

(i) To dismiss probationary teachers only for cause during the school year as in the case of permanent teachers, provided, that when a probationary teacher is to be dismissed, otherwise than for cause, at the close of the school year, the governing board shall give notice in writing to such probationary teacher, on or before the tenth day of June, that his services will not be required for the ensuing school year. Such notice shall be deemed sufficient and complete and when delivered in person to the teacher by the clerk or secretary of the governing board of the school district, or deposited in the United States mails with postage prepaid, addressed to such teacher at his last known place of address.

(j) To dismiss any permanent teacher at the end of the school year upon ten days' notice, but no permanent teacher shall be dismissed except for cause which shall be stated in writing by the board, and served upon the person so dismissed, personally, or by leaving a copy thereof at his last known place of residence if he cannot be found, whereupon such dismissal shall take effect at the time stated in the notice. Within ten days of the time of the service of the notice the person so notified may file with the board a written demand for a hearing upon the charges. The hearing shall be held within fifteen days of the time of the filing with said board of the demand for the same. A notice of the place where, and of the time when, such hearing is to be held must be served upon the person dismissed, in the manner heretofore provided, at least five days before the time set for the hearing. The hearing shall be public and shall be fair and impartial and the person dismissed shall have the right to be represented by counsel, to have his witnesses testify and to examine all witnesses, provided, that any member of the board shall be disqualified from voting unless he has been present throughout the hearing; and provided, further, that nothing in this act shall be construed to deprive any person of his remedy in a court of competent jurisdiction; provided, further, that whenever it shall become necessary to decrease the number of teachers employed by a school district on account of a decrease in the number of pupils attending the schools of the district or on account of the discontinuance of the particular kind of teaching service in the district, such decrease shall be made at the close of the school year subject to the same provisions of dismissal as in subdivision (i) of this section, and the teacher or teachers dismissed on account of either of these causes shall be the teacher or teachers last employed by the district for the type of teaching that has been discontinued. Teachers thus dismissed shall be given statements of honorable dismissal by the board.

(k) If, upon the hearing provided for in subdivision (j), the charges are not sustained, the person theretofore dismissed shall be restored to his former position without loss of pay.

(l) To fix and prescribe an annual salary schedule prior to June thirtieth of the current school year for the payment of salaries of teachers for the next succeeding school year. Such salary schedule must prohibit any discrimination in point of salary between males and females who hold similar certificates to teach and perform like services.

(m) To fix the compensation of teachers in harmony with the salary schedule adopted and prescribed as provided in paragraph (l) hereof; provided, however, that the governing board of any school district may arrange to pay the teachers or principals employed by them by the school month or in nine, ten, eleven or twelve equal payments, provided, however, that where the governing board arranges to pay the teachers and principals employed by them in twelve equal payments for the year, they shall begin such payments on the first day of the calendar month following the opening of the schools for the current year in all cases where school is opened in the month of July, and in all cases where school is not opened during the month of July the governing board may withhold such warrants as may have fallen due prior to the opening of school until the teachers or principals employed by them shall have returned to the employment for which they are engaged by the governing board and shall have resumed their respective duties, and then such payments shall be continued from month to month on the first day of each calendar month thereafter until said teachers have been paid the full amount due them for that fiscal year, provided, that a teacher who serves less than a full school year is entitled to receive as salary only an amount that bears the same ratio to the established annual salary for such position as the time he teaches bears to the annual school term; and provided, that whenever the first day of the month falls upon a holiday, payment of teachers' salaries shall be made on the following day.

Seventh—To employ janitors and other employees of the district, to fix their compensation and to order payment of the same, which may be made not oftener than twice each school or calendar month.

Eighth—No person is eligible for appointment, election, or employment as deputy or assistant city superintendent of schools, district superintendent of schools, principal, supervisor of subjects or departments, or teacher unless such person is the holder of a teacher's certificate on file in the office of the county superintendent of schools and in full force and effect and of a grade entitling its holder to do the teaching or supervising work for which he has been elected, appointed, or employed.

If the public use to be served by authority of any such franchise is of a temporary character and the duration thereof can be definitely determined in advance, a franchise to serve such use may be granted for a fixed or limited period of time."

AMENDMENT NUMBER NINE.

Strike out all of section 20 on page 8 of the printed bill, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

SEC. 20. Every incorporated city or town or consolidated city and county may include in the ordinance granting any franchise pursuant to the provisions of this act such provisions, terms and conditions, whether governmental or contractual in character; provided, the same be not inconsistent with any of the provisions of this act or any general law of this state, as in the judgment of the legislative body of such city or town or city and county may be in the public interest. Whenever an application shall be made pursuant to the provisions of section fourteen of this act for a new indeterminate franchise, the legislative body of the incorporated city or town or consolidated city and county to which such application shall be made, may, in its discretion, provide in the ordinance by which such new indeterminate franchise shall be granted that such city, town or consolidated city and county shall have the right to acquire the applicant's property used and useful or prospectively useful in the exercise of such franchise and the business conducted by means thereof by paying to the owner thereof its value as determined and fixed by said railroad commission prior to the granting of such new franchise plus the cost of all subsequent additions, extensions and betterments, and minus the amount of subsequent depreciation accrued or accruing at the time of acquisition, the cost of such additions, extensions and betterments and the amount of such subsequent depreciation to be ascertained and determined in accordance with the provisions of such ordinance, or, failing such provisions, by said railroad commission; and said railroad commission is hereby authorized and empowered to determine, upon the application of any such city, town or consolidated city and county, the value of all such property and business, the cost of all such additions, extensions and betterments and the amount of all such depreciation.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TEN.

Strike out all of section 24, on page 9, of the printed bill, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

SEC. 24. The grantee of any franchise granted by any city or town or consolidated city and county pursuant to the provisions of this act, if he accepts the grant of such franchise, shall, within ten days after the ordinance granting the same shall have been passed by the legislative body, file with such body or with such official as may be designated in such ordinance, a written acceptance of such grant and a bond, with at least two good and sufficient individual sureties or one corporate surety to be approved by or under authority of such legislative body, in a penal sum to be prescribed in such ordinance. Such written acceptance shall obligate the grantee of such franchise, if the ordinance granting the same shall go into effect, to well and truly observe and perform each and every term and condition of such franchise and to indemnify the grantor of such franchise for damage done in the exercise thereof to pavements and other public improvements in public places, roads, streets, avenues and highways. Such bond shall be conditioned upon the faithful performance by the grantee of his obligation to observe and perform each and every term and condition of such franchise and to indemnify the grantor of such franchise for damage done in the exercise thereof to pavements and other public improvements in public places, roads, streets, avenues and highways. The legislative body of any such city or town or consolidated city and county shall have the right, whenever any such franchise shall be transferred with the consent of said railroad commission, to release the transferor from the obligation thenceforth to observe and perform the terms and conditions of such franchise and to authorize the cancellation and surrender of any bond given pursuant to the requirements of this section upon condition that the transferee shall, concurrently with such release and cancellation and surrender, execute and file as directed by such legislative body a written agreement thenceforth to observe and perform each and every condition of such franchise and to indemnify the city, town or consolidated city and county for damages done in the exercise of such franchise to pavements and other public improvements in public places, roads, streets, avenues and highways and a new bond containing like covenants and conditions and in such penal sum as shall be prescribed by such legislative body.

AMENDMENT NUMBER ELEVEN.

Strike out all of section 26, on page 10, of the printed bill, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

SEC. 26 This act shall be operative throughout the entire State of California in every county and in every municipal corporation therein except as herein otherwise provided. But the provisions of this act which deal with the granting of franchises by incorporated cities, towns and consolidated cities and counties and prescribe the terms and conditions upon which the same may be granted, relating, as they do, to municipal affairs, shall not control municipal corporations incorporated and organized under and pursuant to the provisions of section eight of article eleven of the constitution of this state, nor the charters of such municipal corporations nor the laws and regulations of such municipal corporations enacted pursuant to their charters.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWELVE

Amend section 27, on page 10, of the printed bill, by adding thereto the following:

The act of the legislature of this state, approved May 22, 1917, and entitled as follows: "An act providing for the resettlement of franchise rights of and the granting of a resettlement franchise to any person, firm or corporation actually engaged in operating a street, suburban or interurban railroad in cities or cities and counties having at the effective date of this act a freeholders' charter adopted under the provisions of section eight of article eleven of the constitution of the State of California, which charter provides for the resettlement of franchise rights of and the granting of resettlement franchises to any person, firm or corporation engaged in operating a public utility in such a municipality, and providing conditions for the granting of such franchises by legislative or other governing bodies of such city or city and county", is not hereby repealed, nor shall any proceeding had thereunder be affected by any of the provisions of this act. The act of the legislature of this state approved May 10, 1917, and entitled as follows: "An act providing for the supervision and regulation of the transportation of persons and property for compensation over any public highway by automobiles, jitney busses, auto trucks, stages and auto stages, providing for the issue by incorporated cities and towns, cities and counties, and counties of permits for the operation of such automobiles, jitney busses, auto trucks, stages and auto stages, empowering incorporated cities and towns, cities and counties, and counties to enact ordinances for the supervision and regulation of automobiles, jitney busses, auto trucks, stages and auto stages and providing penalties for the violation of such ordinances, defining transportation companies and providing for the supervision and regulation thereof by the railroad commission; providing for the enforcement of the provisions of this act and for the punishment of violations thereof; and repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act" is not hereby repealed, nor shall any of the provisions of this act apply to or affect any transportation company as defined in the last mentioned act.

Amendments adopted.

Bill read second time, ordered to reprint, engrossment, and third reading.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

The following explanation of vote was presented, and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Mr. Doran:

When Assembly Bill No. 245 came up, in the confusion attending night sessions, I was under the impression that it was a bill yet to be considered which will increase the county school tax. The author of the bill, in reply to my inquiry from the floor, assured me that her bill merely provided for the disposition of the State's contribution to the schools, and did not involve the matter of county increase. On that, I voted "aye." It appears, however, that the $800 to be apportioned by this bill for each elementary teacher contemplates the inclusion of the county apportionment, which the other bill referred to proposes to increase, and that is "something else again." I have shown this explanation to the author of the bill, and it is submitted without objection.

W. A. DORAN.

During second reading of the bill, the following amendments were submitted by the committee:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

Strike out all of the title after the word "act", and insert in lieu thereof the following "to regulate the installation of heat, power and ammonia systems; requiring licenses to be issued by the industrial accident commission; and providing a penalty for violation of the provisions hereof."

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

On page 1 of the printed bill, strike out all of lines 1 to 27, inclusive; on page 2, all of lines 1 to 51, inclusive; and on page 3, all of lines 1 to 12, inclusive; and insert in lieu thereof the following

SECTION 1. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, association or corporation or any agent thereof, to enter into, engage in, or perform any work pertaining to the installation of any steam, hot water, vacuum, vapor or ammonia system, or power plants except as hereinafter provided unless duly licensed according to the provisions of this act.

SEC 2. No person, firm, association, corporation, or agent thereof shall employ any person to perform such work who is not licensed as aforesaid, except as hereinafter provided.

SEC 3 All persons engaging in the work hereinafter described shall first make application for examination thereon to the industrial accident commission. Such application shall conform to the requirements of the rules and regulations to be established by said commission; such rules or regulations shall be designed to insure safety and health, and the commission shall diligently examine all applicants for licenses to perform the work hereinbefore mentioned, both orally and in writing, to determine their qualifications, at such times and places as in its judgment seem best for the greatest convenience and economy to the public and to the applicants for licenses. The examining board shall consist of three members who have had at least five years practical experience in the work comprehended in this act.

SEC. 4. It shall be the duty of the commission to keep a complete record, accessible to the public, of all their proceedings and examinations, with the name, residence, place of business and the results of the examinations of the applicants.

SEC. 5. A fee of five dollars shall accompany each application for a master's license, and a fee of three dollars shall accompany each application for a journeyman's license, and shall be forfeited to the commission, whether the applicant is successful in passing the examination or not. All fees received by the commission shall be paid over the secretary thereof to the state treasurer each month.

SEC. 6. In the event of failure to pass an examination, no application for another examination shall be entertained for a period of six months.

SEC. 7. Any person, firm, association, or corporation, or agent thereof, holding a license, shall display it upon demand. The license shall be renewed annually upon payment of three dollars. All moneys so obtained shall be paid to the state treasurer as aforesaid.

SEC. 8. The commission shall have power to revoke the license of any person, firm, association or corporation or agent thereof, if same was obtained through error or fraud, or if the recipient thereof is shown to be grossly incompetent, or for the second wilful violation of any rules or regulations prescribed by the commission.

The commission shall have the power to appoint examining boards in different localities when in their judgment such appointment is necessary.

The commission shall have the power to make such rules and regulations as may be deemed necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

The commission, before revoking any license under this act, shall notify the holder thereof in writing, enumerating the charges and at a special date named therein and not less than five days after the service of such notice, said holder of license shall be given a hearing by said commission and have an opportunity to produce testimony in his behalf.

The commission shall have power to appoint, by an order in writing, its secretary or any competent person to take testimony, who shall have the power to administer oaths, issue subpoenas and compel attendance of witnesses and the decision of the commission shall be based on its examination of all testimony and records.

After the expiration of one year the licensee whose license shall have been revoked by the commission shall have the privilege of applying for a new license.

SEC. 9. Any person who shall engage in the work of a master or journeyman fitter for compensation without a license as provided in this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be subject to a fine of not less than ten dollars nor exceeding fifty dollars or imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding thirty days for each violation thereof. Each day of such violation shall constitute a separate offense.

SEC. 10. The term "journeyman" as used in this act shall mean one who has been employed actively in performing the work contemplated herein for a period of at least four years.

SEC. 11. It is understood that this does not pertain to shipbuilding.

NOTICE OF RECONSIDERATION.

Mr. Baker gave notice that on the next legislative day he would move to reconsider the vote whereby Assembly Bill No. 389 was this day passed.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

The following explanation of vote was received, and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Mr. Brooks:

While heartily in favor of the establishment of a psychopathic hospital, I am forced to vote no on Assembly Bill No. 389, because of the limitation by the terms of the bill of the location of the proposed hospital to a single county. It is my firm conviction that this is a vicious practice, where there is no evidence before the Legislature regarding the relative merits of locations. I see no good reason why the commission to be appointed should not be left free in this matter, and if the community named can make the proper showing before this commission, it will be entitled to receive the location of the proposed hospital. I object seriously to the practice in question and I see no good reason why a principle should be waived even in favor of a meritorious project.

CLIFTON E. BROOKS.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 25—Relative to the date of the discovery of gold in California by James W. Marshall.

Resolution read.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution.

Resolution adopted.

Title read and approved.

ASSEMBLY CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 25.

Relative to the date of the discovery of gold in California by James W. Marshall.

WHEREAS, The legislature at the forty-second session, by Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 15, did authorize the governor of the State of California to appoint a committee to investigate and to determine the correct date of the discovery of gold in California by James W. Marshall and to recommend corrections in the inscription on the monument erected at Coloma, El Dorado county, to the memory of James W. Marshall and in commemoration of the discovery of gold in California; and

WHEREAS, Philip Baldwin Bekeart, Fred H. Jung and Grace S. Stoermer, constituting the committee appointed by the governor for said investigation, have reported to the board of trustees of Sutter's fort, which board of trustees has charge of the maintenance and upkeep of said monument, and has recommended that the inscription on the monument setting forth that gold was discovered in California "January 19, 1848" be changed to read "January 24, 1848"; and

WHEREAS, Harry Hanlon, Jo V. Snyder, W. F. Toomey and Donald R. Green, constituting the board of trustees of Sutter's fort, have submitted the report of said committee to the members of this legislature for their approval and have suggested that official action be taken to declare January 24, 1848, the date upon which gold was discovered in California by James W. Marshall; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the assembly, the senate concurring. That the legislature of the State of California hereby approves the report of said committee which report is made a part of this resolution and finds, declares and recognizes January 24, 1848, as the date upon which gold was discovered in California by James W. Marshall; and be it further

Resolved. That the board of trustees of Sutter's fort is hereby authorized and directed to change the inscription upon the monument erected to the memory of James W. Marshall at Coloma, El Dorado county, so that the correct date of the discovery of gold in California by James W. Marshall will appear thereon.

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, October 15, 1918.

To the Board of Trustees of Sutter's Fort, Sacramento, California.

GENTLEMEN: In accordance with the resolution adopted at the legislative session of 1917, the committee appointed by his excellency the Governor, William D. Stephens, "to determine the exact date of the discovery of gold", herewith submit their findings and make formal request to the board of trustees of Sutter's fort that they take the necessary action to make such change of date effective.

Respectfully,

GRACE S. STOERMER, Secretary.

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL.

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, October 15, 1918.

*To His Excellency, William D. Stephens, Governor, State Capitol,
Sacramento, California.*

DEAR SIR: The commission appointed to determine the exact date of the discovery of gold in California has the honor to herewith transmit the report of its investigation. The commission held two meetings in San Francisco. There were also conferences and correspondence between the members of the commission.

After much research work on the part of Mr. Phil B. Bekeart, who devoted considerable time to the subject, the commission submits the following report and determines that the correct date is January 24, 1848:

PHILIP BALDWIN BEKEART,
FRED H. JUNG,
GRACE S. STOERMER, Secretary.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE.

Committee appointed by Governor William D. Stephens to show proof that the date of the discovery of gold at Coloma, Sutter's mill, as shown on the Marshall statue at Coloma, January 19, 1848, is wrong, and that the correct date is January 24, 1848.

The following report is submitted by Phil B. Bekeart. He makes no claim for any discovery of the correct date, this date having been proven by the findings of John S. Hittell, the pioneer and historian, in 1885.

James W. Marshall never kept a diary. He attached no historic interest to his discovery at the time it was made. The California Chronicle published a letter February 9, 1856, signed by Marshall, but written by some other person. His next statement, and over his own signature, appeared in Hutching's California Magazine, Vol. 2, No. 5, November, 1857. This published conversation and interview with Marshall was afterward verified in a letter to John S. Hittell, written by J. W. Hutching, December 28, 1885.

In his statement to Hutching, November, 1857, Marshall says, "On or about the nineteenth of January, I am not quite certain to a day, but it was between the eighteenth and twentieth of that month, 1848" "The first piece which I found weighed about fifty cents."

Marshall states he left for Sutter's Fort four days after his discovery, to show Captain Sutter his find, and to prove its genuineness.

In view of this statement of Marshall's, the nineteenth of January was the accepted date of the discovery until 1885, when John S. Hittell happened to hear that one of Marshall's companions at Sutter's mill in 1848 still lived in Utah, so he wrote to this man, Henry W. Bigler, St. George, Utah, and sent him a copy of an address that he delivered before the Society of California Pioneers, in San Francisco, September 9, 1885. He asked Bigler if this address agreed with his knowledge of Marshall's discovery, and Bigler replied in a letter dated November 29, 1885, that the date was the twenty-fourth, not the nineteenth.

This diary was afterwards obtained from Bigler, and is, I believe, now a part of the Bancroft Library at Berkeley. A facsimile of this diary is in the possession of the Pioneers. It reads

"Monday 24th This day some kind of mettle was found in the tail race that looks like gold. First discovered by James Martial the boss of the mill."

General Sutter's diary, now a valued possession of the Society of California Pioneers, records the following few words regarding Marshall:

"Friday, January 28, 1848. Mr Marshall arrived from the mountains on very important business."

"Saturday, January 29, 1848. Marshall left for the mountains."

Azariah Smith, then a young man of nineteen years, and one of the laborers at Sutter's mill, also kept a diary. He wrote but once a week (Sunday). His diary, the original of which is in the vaults of the Pioneers, reads as follows:

"Sunday, January 30th Mr Marshall having arrived, we got liberty of him and built a small house down by the Mill, and last Sunday we moved into it in order to get rid of the Brawling, Partial Mistress, and cook for ourselves. This week Mr. Marshall found some pieces of (as we all suppose) Gold, and he has gone to the Fort for the purpose of finding out. It is found in the raceway in small peaces. Some have been found that would weigh five dollars."

[Note: This last remark was afterwards explained as follows: Azariah Smith possessed a five-dollar gold piece, and the combined weight of all the flakes picked up by the men weighed about five dollars. There never was a nugget found in the American River, at Coloma (Sutter's mills).—P. B. B.]

SUMMARY.

Bigler's dairy states that Marshall found the gold on Monday, January 24, 1848. Marshall told Hutchings he left for Sutter's Fort, four days after the discovery. Sutter's diary states that Marshall arrived at the fort on the twenty-eighth.

Smith's diary of Sunday, the thirtieth, states that Marshall discovered gold during the week, and had returned from the fort. If the discovery had been on the nineteenth, Smith would have recorded it on Sunday, the twenty-third.

This proves my contention that the date, January 19, 1848, on the Marshall Monument, is wrong, and the monument should have the date of discovery January 24, 1848.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 20.

Relative to the death of Mrs. Phoebe Apperson Hearst.

WHEREAS, An all-wise Providence has summoned to immortality the gentle spirit of Mrs. Phoebe Apperson Hearst; and

WHEREAS, Mrs. Hearst, throughout a long and useful life, has won for herself the admiration, respect and love of the people of the State of California, by reason both of her personality and of her valuable services to the state; and

WHEREAS, In addition to her munificent gifts to the University of California, which for many years she had served as an honored regent, Mrs. Hearst has, through the medium of countless private benevolences lightened innumerable burdens and brought relief to many sorrowing hearts; and

WHEREAS, Her abiding faith in ambitious youth and her tender solicitude for the welfare of little children have found practical expression in the scholarships she founded and in the schools which she established and maintained at her own expense, to the lasting benefit of all the people; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the senate of the State of California, the assembly concurring, That in the death of Mrs. Hearst the state has lost one of its most distinguished and best beloved citizens, whose character and services will endear her name to the people of this state for all the years to come; and be it further

Resolved, That when we do this day adjourn, such adjournment be taken in respect to the memory of Mrs. Hearst; and be it further

Resolved, That the secretary of the senate be and he is hereby authorized and directed to cause these resolutions to be suitably engrossed upon parchment, duly authenticated, and to transmit the same to the family of Mrs. Hearst; and be it further

Resolved, That the president of the senate appoint three of its members to join with a like number of the members of the assembly to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. Phoebe Apperson Hearst.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

In accordance with provisions of the above concurrent resolution the Speaker announced the appointment of Mrs. Saylor, Messrs. Strother and Eden as a committee to serve with a like committee to be appointed by the Senate.

ASSEMBLY JOINT RESOLUTION No. 26.

Relative to the placing of a cannon captured from Germany or her allies, at the National Home for Disabled Soldiers at Sawtelle, and also at the State Veterans Home at Yountville, as a lasting monument to the defenders of our country.

WHEREAS, By their unselfish sacrifice and heroic action on the battlefield in Europe the soldiers, sailors and marines of the United States have so ably defended their country's honor and have won a glorious victory over Germany and her allies; and

WHEREAS, There is, in the State of California, the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers located at Sawtelle, and the State Veterans' Home, located at Yountville, and

WHEREAS, These homes are occupied, at the present time, by veterans of the Civil war and the Spanish-American war, who although just as patriotic during the recent war with Germany and her allies as in the war in which they served, yet by reason of age, infirmity, or disability incurred while serving their country in former wars, were not able to enlist in the war against Germany and her allies and go to the front; and

WHEREAS, These said veterans' homes will be open, and they will welcome veterans of the war with Germany and her allies, in the event these veterans shall ever be in need of such a home; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the assembly and senate, jointly, That the legislature of the State of California urges as signally appropriate, and as a tribute to these veterans of the Civil war, the Spanish-American war, and the war with Germany and her allies, that a captured enemy cannon from Germany or her allies be placed at the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers at Sawtelle, and also at the State Veterans' Home at Yountville, as a permanent and fitting monument to the fighting skill, courage, and patriotism of the war heroes of the United States who have so bravely, determinedly and successfully carried the United States to victory in the Civil war, the Spanish-American war and the war with Germany and her allies; and be it further

Resolved, That secretary of the navy, honorable Josephus Daniels, and secretary of war, honorable Newton D. Baker, be respectfully urged to comply with this request; and be it further

Resolved, That the chief clerk of the assembly be and he is hereby directed to forward copies of this resolution to honorable Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, and honorable Newton D. Baker, secretary of war, and also to each of California's senators and representatives in congress, with the request that each use his very best endeavor to secure one of these captured enemy cannon for each of the veterans' homes, as set forth in this resolution.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

The following explanation of vote was received and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Mr. Doran:

I did not vote either way on the seven so-called community property bills, all seven of which were discussed as one bill, because I do not feel myself sufficiently informed to revolutionize one of the most important features of our civilization, even after listening to one hour's discussion of this far-reaching problem. These are not the bills that were originally introduced, as requested by the women's clubs, but are substitutes

W. A. DORAN.

By Mr. Polsley:

We, the undersigned, being very much interested in the passage of Senate Bill No. 541, relative to an open and closed season for fish and game, and desirous of the favorable passage of this bill, ask that you give this bill, when it comes up in the Assembly, your support. We feel that the matter contained in this bill is of especial importance to the residents of Tehama County, and its passage, we believe, would be of benefit to the residents of the county at large, hence we ask your support of the bill.

J. H. GAMBLE.

And 16 others.

By Mr. Carter.

We, the undersigned residents of the State of California, believing that the enactment of a Sunday law would be a violation of true Americanism, do hereby respectfully but earnestly protest against the passage of Senate Bill No. 77 and Assembly Bill No. 142, and all other such legislation.

MARY E NORMAN.

And 134 others.

COMMUNICATION

The following communication was received by the Speaker, and ordered printed in the Journal:

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14, 1919.

State Assembly, Sacramento, California.

I am authorized to transmit to your honorable body the following resolution:

WHEREAS, A conference comprising sixty representative citizens from the various civic organizations—labor, commercial and industrial pursuits—was called by Mayor James Rolph, Jr., in his chambers, Friday afternoon, April 11, 1919, for the purpose of meeting with Captain E. C. Wemble, Lieutenant A. R. Craven and Lieutenant Robert V. Laughlin, commissioned by the War Department to obtain information of the progress being made in the respective cities, counties and states in placing honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines back in employment; and

WHEREAS, It is a patriotic duty devolving upon everyone that every effort be expended in creating opportunities for the employment of the returning service men through the promotion of building and all other business activities upon which our prosperity depends, and

WHEREAS, There is pending at this time before the Legislature of our State in session at Sacramento many important measures, paramount amongst which are the bills asking an appropriation of $350,000 additional for the erection of the State building in the Civic Center at San Francisco, and for the proposed election to issue bonds in the sum of $40,000,000 to build highways throughout the State, both of which measures, if passed, will be of the greatest benefit to our State and an appreciable assistance in solving the problem of re-employment for our honorably discharged boys in uniform, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Legislature of the State of California assembled in Sacramento be and is hereby respectfully petitioned to pass the two very important measures herein mentioned; and be it further

Resolved, That Honorable William D. Stephens, Governor of California, is hereby respectfully asked to use his best offices to the end that the desired results may be obtained

Respectfully,

JAMES ROLPH, JR.,
Mayor of San Francisco.

RESOLUTION.

The following resolution was offered:

By Mr. Lynch:

WHEREAS, In recent years throughout the United States, a practice of discontinuing all business, not absolutely necessary, between the hours of noon and three

p. m. upon the day known as "Good Friday," has become of general observance; and WHEREAS, A public sentiment exists throughout the State of California in favor of the custom herein alluded to, and it would seem but right not only to favor such hallowed practice, but also to give opportunity to all who desire to recall during these hours the events commemorated, therefore, be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Assembly of the State of California that recess be taken from twelve o'clock m to three o'clock p. m. on Friday, April 18, 1919, to enable all who wish to participate in the exercises which mark these hours so notable in the world's history.

Resolution read, and on motion of Mr. Lynch, seconded by Mr. Wendering, adopted.

ASSEMBLY CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT No 35.

Relative to creating storage reservoirs and impounding water for the purposes of irrigation water supply, hydro-electric development and supplying municipalities with water.

The legislature of the State of California at its regular session commencing on the sixth day of January, 1919, two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the two houses of said legislature voting in favor thereof, hereby proposes to amend article four of the constitution by adding thereto a new section, to be numbered thirty-seven and to read as follows:

Sec 37. The legislature shall have power to establish water storage reservoirs, to extend aid for their construction and maintenance; to construct and maintain canals, ditches and pipe lines for the purpose of conducting the water impounded in the reservoirs to the exterior boundaries of irrigation districts and to such cities and towns where there are no municipal water supply systems, to construct and maintain generating stations and transmission lines for the purpose of generating, conducting and transmitting to the municipalities hydroelectrical power which is to be developed by the use of the water impounded in the reservoirs, provided, however, that where land or other property is taken by the state, under the provisions and for the purposes enumerated in this amendment, the amount of annual taxes collected from such lands and properties shall each year thereafter be paid into the general fund of the treasury of the county or counties from which said lands or properties are taken, by the state. The amount of said taxes shall be determined by the last assessment prior to the utilization of said lands or properties.

They shall have power to enact laws providing for the sale of the impounded water and the hydroelectrical energy developed, to erect and serve such districts and municipalities as may be necessary at such prices as will yield sufficient net revenue to create a sinking fund for the purpose of bond redemption and to meet the interest upon the bonds issued by the state and to provide money to meet the cost of the storage reservoirs, canals, pipe lines, power houses and transmission lines as are required

NOTICE OF RECONSIDERATION.

Mr. Morris gave notice that on the next legislative day he would move to reconsider the vote whereby Assembly Bill No. 933 was this day passed.

RULING OF THE SPEAKER.

The Speaker ruled that, under Joint Rule No 35, the motion was not in order.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE.

The following explanation of vote was received and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Mr. Morris:

As an explanation of my vote on Assembly Bill No. 933, by Mr. Merriam, which was No. 281 on the files, I desire to state as follows: I at first voted "No" and then voted "Aye," with the intention of giving notice to reconsider the vote by which the bill was passed on the next legislative day. I did this because of the fact that the vote was announced when there were only 37 ayes, and for some reason or other the vote was held until such time as 41 votes were enlisted in behalf of the bill. The Speaker ruled that notice to reconsider was not in order in view of the fact that the fifteenth day of April was the last day, according to Joint Rules as entered into by the Assembly and Senate, upon which Assembly bills could be considered, and that notice of reconsideration under these circumstances was not in order.

ASSEMBLY JOINT RESOLUTION No. 27.

Relative to the immigration of aliens into the United States.

WHEREAS, It is the sense of this legislature that the future peace of the United States of America could be best secured by changing our immigration laws so that no alien can enter the United States without presenting to the proper authorities a certificate from his own government showing that he is and has been a good, moral, and law abiding citizen of said country and that he be required upon entering the United States to take an oath that he will support the government of the United States, and that he will report at least once in six months to proper United States authorities showing by the testimony of two reputable citizens of the United States that he has complied with the terms of the oath taken upon his entry into this country, and

WHEREAS, It is also the sense of this legislature that the naturalization laws of our country should be so changed that every person who, after taking his first naturalization papers, claims exemption from military duty on the ground that he is not a citizen of the United States that such person be returned to the country of his nativity, no matter how many years he has been a resident of the United States; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the assembly and the senate, jointly, That the legislature of the State of California respectfully memorializes the congress of the United States to make such changes in the immigration laws as will carry out the matters suggested in this resolution, and be it further

Resolved, That the chief clerk of the assembly be and is hereby instructed to forward a copy of this resolution to the president of the United States senate, the speaker of the house of representatives and to each of our senators and representatives in the congress from this state.

ASSEMBLY CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 39.

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California, to amend the constitution of said state by adding a new section to article eleven thereof, to be numbered twenty, relating to counties municipal corporations and improvement districts.

Resolved by the assembly, the senate concurring That the legislature of the State of California at its forty-third session, commencing on the sixth day of January, 1919, two-thirds of all of the members elected to each of the houses thereof voting in favor hereof, hereby proposes to the people of the State of California, to amend the constitution of said state by adding a new section to article eleven thereof, to be numbered twenty, to read as follows:

Sec 20. (a) As used in this section the term "municipal corporation" means and includes each municipality, town, city, city and county, county, county water district, water district, irrigation district or other municipal corporation or district in this state

(b) In addition to other powers granted by law, any municipal corporation may within or without its corporate limits

(i) Construct and operate street or other railways;

(ii) Construct storage reservoirs, impound and sell water for the various purposes for which water may be used;

(iii) Develop, generate and sell hydro or other electric energy for power, light, heat or other purposes for profit, provided, however, that none of the rights and privileges granted by this subdivision may be exercised by one municipal corporation within the corporate limits of another municipal corporation without the consent of the latter expressed by ordinance, if the latter owns and operates works that supply the same service to its inhabitants.

(c) Any municipal corporation may, by ordinance providing therefor, transfer any moneys that may be in its treasury to the treasury of another municipal corporation, to be used for such purposes as may be determined by mutual agreement between the local governing authorities of the municipal corporations concerned in such transfer.
